The above referenced forms are submitted in final printed format except for slight font and formatting variations that may occur due to Commonwealth production printers. Commonwealth takes care to assure that printer-based variations are minimized; however, should changes occur, such changes will not alter the content or meaning of any approved forms.

The forms sent with this submission are new and have not been previously filed with or approved by the Department for Commonwealth Annuity. Please note that portions of the form are bracketed as variable and may change as described in the Statement of Variability.

No part of this filing contains unusual or possibly controversial items from normal Company or Industry standards. The forms were filed concurrently in the domiciliary State of Massachusetts and are there pending review and approval.

3040-09, Flexible Premium Variable Deferred Annuity

This individual Flexible Premium Variable Deferred Annuity contract will be sold in both the qualified and nonqualified markets by registered representatives and broker dealers. Only separate accounts are offered with this product. There is no fixed account. Issue ages are from 0 to age 91.

The Contract Value is equal to the sum of the values in each Subaccount. If an Owner's death occurs prior to the Annuity Date, the death benefit equals the Contract Value of the date the Company received due proof of death as described in the contract form, prospectus and actuarial memorandum.

The Contract Schedule contains bracketed material to allow variable information specific to a particular case or owner. The Statement of Variability is provided describing the variable fields for all forms provided with this submission.

Form 3040-09 is a variable annuity subject to Federal jurisdiction and, therefore, is exempt from Flesch Score readability requirements.

HN-404, Variable Annuity Application

The forms filed with this submission will be offered on a general basis using the form HN-404 application. The Company reserves the right to add, change or delete funds available with the contracts; therefore, the fund selection and rider selection areas of form HN-404 have been bracketed for variability to allow changes in the funds offered as well as in the optional benefits available with the contracts.

4018-09, Qualified Plan Rider

Upon approval, form 4018-09 will be attached to form 3040-09 when the contract is issued as a tax qualified plan.

4019-09, Tax Sheltered Annuity (TSA) Endorsement for Annuity Contracts (No Loans)

Upon approval, the form 4019-09 Endorsement may be attached to form 3040-09, as well as to other variable annuity

Amendment Letter

Submitted Date: 03/19/2009

Comments:

The purpose of this amendment is to correct a typographical error in form 4019-09, which was provided with the initial submission. The copy of form 4019-09 provided with this amendment is identical to the previously provided form except that the reference to the company named in Section 1 on Page 1 now shows the name of Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company. A copy of revised form 4019-09 showing all changes marked is provided with this amendment.

I certify on behalf of Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company that no other changes have been made to form 4019-09 except as described above, and that form 4019-09 has not been marketed, sold, issued or even set up for policy print.

Also provided is an updated actuarial memorandum revised to be more clear than the actuarial memorandum provided with the initial submission.

We request that the revised material provided with this amendment be substituted for the corresponding material previously provided.

Thank your for your consideration in this matter.

Sincerely, Jeff Kulesus

PLEASE READ THIS CONTRACT CAREFULLY

This is a legal contract between the Owner and Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company. The provisions on this cover and the pages that follow are part of this Contract.

We agree to pay annuity payments provided this Contract is in force on the Annuity Date. While this contract is in effect, we will pay a Death Benefit if the Owner dies prior to the Annuity Date.

This Contract is issued in consideration of the initial Purchase Payment. Payments may be allocated to the Subaccounts of the Separate Accounts.

All benefits, payments and values provided by this Contract, when based upon the investment experience of the Subaccounts, may increase or decrease and are not guaranteed as to dollar amount. Please refer to the Variable Account Provisions for additional information.

RIGHT TO CANCEL — FREE LOOK PERIOD —Within the “free look” period, which is [ten] days after receiving this Contract, you may cancel the Contract and receive a refund by returning it to us, along with written instructions to cancel. In most states, the refund will be the Contract Value on the Valuation Date the Contract and written instructions are received at our Service Center. However, in a state which requires the refund of Purchase Payments, or if the Contract is issued as an Individual Retirement Annuity, Simplified Employee Pension-IRA, or Roth Individual Retirement Annuity, the Company will refund the greater of (1) your Purchase Payment(s), less any withdrawals or (2) the Contract Value. If we are required to provide for a full refund of Purchase Payments, we will initially allocate the Purchase Payment(s) to the Money Market Subaccount stated in the Contract schedule. At the end of the free look period, we will allocate all amounts according to your allocation instructions, as then in effect.

Signed for Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company at its home office in Southborough, Massachusetts.

DEFINITIONS

Accumulation Period—The period between the Date of Issue of a Contract and the Annuity Date.

Accumulation Unit—A unit of measurement used to determine the value of each Subaccount during the Accumulation Period.

Annuitant—The person designated in the Contract whose life is used to determine the duration of Annuity Payments involving a life contingency. When two people are named as joint Annuitants, the term “Annuitant” means the joint Annuitants or the survivor.

Annuity Date—The Valuation Date on which annuity payments are to commence. The Annuity Date may not be earlier than the Minimum Annuity Date or later than the Maximum Annuity Date stated in the Contract Schedule.

Annuity Option—One of several forms in which annuity payments can be made.

Annuity Period—The period starting on the Annuity Date during which we make annuity payments to you.

Beneficiary—The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death. (see Primary Beneficiary and Contingent Beneficiary).

Code—The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

Company (“we”, “us”, “our”, “Commonwealth Annuity”)—Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company.

Contingent Beneficiary—The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death should all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you. In the event that a Contingent Beneficiary predeceases you, the benefits will be distributed pro rata to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. If there are no surviving Contingent Beneficiaries, the benefits will be paid to your estate (see Beneficiary and Primary Beneficiary).

Contract—A Flexible Premium Variable Deferred Annuity Contract.

Contract Anniversary—The same date each year as the Date of Issue. If there is no Valuation Date in a year that coincides with the Date of Issue, the Contract Anniversary is the next Valuation Date.

Contract Value—The sum of your values in the Subaccount(s).

Contract Year—A period of twelve consecutive months starting on the Date of Issue or on any Contract Anniversary.

Death Benefit - If an Owner dies before the Annuity Date, the Death Benefit will be equal to the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, on the Valuation Date we receive Due Proof of Death.

Due Proof of Death —Due Proof of Death means a certified death certificate and all necessary claim paperwork, settlement instructions, and such other information we may require to process the Death Benefit. The Company may require return of the Contract.

Date of Issue—The date on which the first Contract Year commences.

Fund or Funds— An investment company or separate series thereof, in which Subaccounts of the Separate Account invest.

General Account—All our assets other than those allocated to any legally segregated separate account.

Monthiversary—The same date each month as the Date of Issue. If the Date of Issue falls on the 29th, 30th, or 31st and there is no corresponding date in a subsequent month, the Monthiversary will be the last date of that month. If there is no Valuation Date in the calendar month that coincides with the Date of Issue, the Monthiversary is the next Valuation Date.

Non-Qualified Contract—A Contract which does not receive favorable tax treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code.

Owner (“Contract Owner”, “you”, “your”, “yours”)—The person(s) designated in the Contract Schedule who has the privilege of ownership of this Contract. The Contract may be owned by natural persons, or by trusts or custodial accounts that hold the Contract as agent for and for the sole benefit of a natural person. When two people are named as joint Owners, the term “Owner” means the joint Owners or the survivor.

Primary Beneficiary — The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death. In the event that a Primary Beneficiary predeceases you, the benefits will be distributed pro rata to the surviving Primary Beneficiaries. In the event that all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you, proceeds will be paid to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries (see Beneficiary and Contingent Beneficiary).

Purchase Payments—The dollar amount we receive in U.S. currency to buy the benefits the Contract provides.

Qualified Contract—A Contract issued in connection with a retirement plan which receives favorable tax treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code.

Separate Account—Commonwealth Annuity Separate Account A.

Service Center—[P.O. Box 758550, Topeka, Kansas 66675-8550, 1-800-457-8803].

Subaccounts—The subdivisions of the Separate Account, the assets of which consist solely of shares of the corresponding Fund.

Valuation Date— Each day when the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading. The close of business on each Valuation Date is generally 3:00 p.m. Central time.

Valuation Period—The interval of time between two consecutive Valuation Dates.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

The Contract — This Contract, any written application attached to this Contract, and any endorsements and riders constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made in any attached application are deemed representations and not warranties. No statement will void this Contract or be used as a defense of a claim unless it is contained in an attached application.

Modification of Contract — Only our President, Vice President, Secretary and Assistant Secretaries have the power to approve a change or waive any provisions of this Contract. Any such modifications must be in writing. No agent or person other than the named officers has the authority to change or waive the provisions of this Contract.

Upon notice to you, this Contract may be modified by us at any time as is necessary to comply with any law, regulation, or ruling issued by a governmental agency or as is necessary to assure continued qualification of this Contract under the Code or other laws relating to retirement plans or annuities or as otherwise may be in your best interest. In the event of a modification, we may make appropriate endorsement to this Contract and we will obtain all required regulatory approvals.

Incontestability — The Company cannot contest this contract.

Change of Annuity Date — You may change the Annuity Date by written request during the Accumulation Period. The new Annuity Date must not be earlier than the Minimum Annuity Date or later than the Maximum Annuity Date stated in the Contract Schedule.

Assignment — All assignments are subject to acceptance by the Company. The Company reserves the right to refuse any assignment or other transfer of the Contract at any time on a non-discriminatory basis.

Subject to the acceptance of the assignment by the Company, you may assign a Non-Qualified Contract during the Accumulation Period and prior to the death of an Owner by completing and returning our assignment form to our Service Center. No assignment is binding on us until we accept it, and we assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Generally, an interest in a Qualified Contract may not be assigned.

If an assignment of the Contract is in effect on the Annuity Date, we reserve the right to pay the assignee, in one sum, that portion of the Contract Value (less any applicable premium taxes) to which the assignee appears to be entitled. Amounts payable during the Annuity Period may not be assigned or encumbered (to the extent permitted by law, annuity payments are not subject to levy, attachment or other judicial process for the payment of the payee's debts or obligations). An assignment may be a taxable event and may subject you to immediate tax liability and to a 10% tax penalty. Any claim is subject to proof of interest of the assignee. You are solely responsible for the validity or effect of any assignment.

Minimum Benefits — Amounts payable upon withdrawal, death, and annuitization are not less than the minimum benefits required by the statutes of the state in which this Contract is delivered.

Non-Participating — This Contract does not pay dividends. It will not share in our surplus or earnings.

Reports — At least once each Contract Year we will send you a statement showing Purchase Payments received, investment experience and charges made since the last report, as well as any other information required by statute.

Premium Taxes — If we pay state premium taxes, we will deduct the amount paid from:

- Purchase Payments when we receive them; and/or
- Partial withdrawals or full surrender; and/or
- The Death Benefit; and/or
- Contract Value applied to an Annuity Option at the time annuity payments start.

Qualified Plans — If this Contract is issued under a qualified plan additional provisions may apply. The rider or endorsement to this Contract used to qualify it under the applicable section of the Code will indicate the extent of change in the provisions.

OWNERSHIP PROVISIONS

Owner — You may exercise every option and right conferred by this Contract. Where the Contract is owned jointly, the consent of both Owners is required in order to exercise any ownership rights.

Upon written request to the Service Center prior to the death of an Owner, you may request the addition, change or removal of an Owner. You must furnish information sufficient to clearly identify a new Owner to us. An addition, change, or removal of an Owner is subject to our approval.

If we approve the change, the effective date of the change will be the date the request was signed by you, except for action taken by us prior to receiving the request. Any change is subject to the payment of any proceeds. We may require you to return this Contract to us for endorsement of a change.

Changing the owner may result in certain tax consequences to you.

Annuitant — The original Annuitant is shown in the Contract Schedule. Before the Annuity Date, you may add, change, or remove an Annuitant by written request to our Service Center. The addition, change or removal of an Annuitant is subject to our approval. After the Annuity Date, you may not add, change, or remove an Annuitant. For Contracts with non-natural Owners, changing the Annuitant may result in certain tax consequences. We may require you to return this Contract to us for endorsement of a change.

There must be at least one Annuitant at all times. If an Annuitant who is not an Owner dies prior to the Annuity Date, a surviving joint Annuitant, if any, will become the sole Annuitant. If there is no surviving joint Annuitant, the Owner may name a new Annuitant. If the Owner does not name a new Annuitant, the youngest Owner will become the new Annuitant.

We will not pay a Death Benefit upon the death of an Annuitant unless the sole Owner is a non-natural person. If the sole Owner is a non-natural person, we will pay a Death Benefit of the Contract Value less any applicable premium taxes upon the death of an Annuitant. If the sole Owner is a non-natural person, we will pay the Contract Value less any applicable premium taxes upon a change in an Annuitant. This will terminate the Contract.

Joint Annuitants are only permitted in Non-Qualified Contracts. Under Qualified Contracts, the Owner and the Annuitant generally must be the same individual.

Beneficiary Designation and Change of Beneficiary — The Beneficiary is stated in the Contract Schedule. You designate the Beneficiary. During the Accumulation Period and prior to the death of an Owner, you may change a Beneficiary at any time by sending a written change form to our Service Center. After the Annuity Date, the Beneficiary may be changed prior to the death of an Owner or the Annuitant. However, in the case of joint Owners, the surviving joint Owner is automatically the Primary Beneficiary and cannot be changed. No Beneficiary change is binding on us until we receive it. We assume no responsibility for the validity of any Beneficiary change. Under a Qualified Contract, the provisions of the applicable plan may prohibit a change of Beneficiary.

Beneficiary changes are subject to the following:

1. The change must be filed while you are alive;
2. The Contract must be in force at the time you file a change;
3. Such change must not be prohibited by the terms of an existing assignment, Beneficiary designation, or other restriction;
4. Such change will take effect when we receive it. However, action taken by us before the change form was received will remain in effect;
5. The request for change must provide information sufficient to identify the new Beneficiary; and

6. In the case of joint Owners, we will consider the designation of a Beneficiary other than the surviving joint Owner to be a Contingent Beneficiary.

Death of Beneficiary — In the event that all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you, we will pay the Death Benefit proceeds to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. In the event that a Contingent Beneficiary also predeceases you, we will distribute the Death Benefits pro rata to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. If there are no surviving Contingent Beneficiaries, we will pay the Death Benefits to your estate.

PURCHASE PAYMENT PROVISIONS

Purchase Payment Limitations — You may make Purchase Payments during the Accumulation Period. We will not accept Purchase Payments after the date of death of an Owner. The Minimum Subsequent Purchase Payment is set forth in the Contract Schedule.

Without our approval, the sum of all Purchase Payments allocated to the Contract without our approval may not exceed the Maximum Total Purchase Payments shown on the Contract Schedule. We will aggregate multiple contracts you own for purposes of this limitation. In addition, for Qualified Contracts, the maximum annual amount of Purchase Payments may be limited by the retirement plan funded by the Contract.

We reserve the right to waive or modify these limits. We also reserve the right not to accept any Purchase Payment.

Application of Purchase Payments — You select allocation of Purchase Payments to the Subaccount(s). When you allocate Purchase Payments to a Subaccount, we credit Accumulation Units to that Subaccount based on the value of an Accumulation Unit, as computed after we receive the Purchase Payment at our Service Center. If we receive a Purchase Payment at our Service Center before 3:00 p.m. Central time, we will credit Accumulation Units based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a Purchase Payment at our Service Center on or after 3:00 p.m. Central time, we will credit Accumulation Units based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

We will credit an initial Purchase Payment no later than the end of the second Valuation Date following the Valuation Date we receive the Purchase Payment at our Service Center, provided that the Purchase Payment is preceded or accompanied by an application that contains sufficient information to establish an account and properly credit such Purchase Payment.

For each Purchase Payment, we determine the number of Accumulation Units credited by dividing the Purchase Payment allocated to a Subaccount by the Subaccount's Accumulation Unit value as computed on the Valuation Date that we receive the Purchase Payment at our Service Center. After we determine the number of Accumulation Units credited, the number of Accumulation Units will not change due to investment experience. Accumulation Unit value varies to reflect the investment experience of the Subaccount and the assessment of charges against the Subaccount. We reduce the number of Accumulation Units when we assess one-twelfth of the contract fee on each Monthiversary.

Place of Payment — All Purchase Payments under this Contract must be paid to us at the Service Center.

VARIABLE ACCOUNT PROVISIONS

Separate Account — The variable benefits under this Contract are provided through the Separate Account identified in the Contract Schedule. The Separate Account is registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) as a unit investment trust under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”). It is a separate investment account maintained by us.

Liabilities of Separate Account — Benefits provided under the Contracts are our obligations. Although the assets in the Separate Account are our property, they are held separately from our other assets and are not chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business we may conduct. Income, capital gains and capital losses, whether or not realized, from the assets allocated to the Separate Account are credited to or charged against the Separate Account without regard to the income, capital gains and capital losses arising out of any other business we may conduct.

Substitution — We reserve the right to make additions to, deletions from, or substitutions for the shares held by the Separate Account or that the Separate Account may purchase. If investment in the Funds is no longer possible, in our judgment becomes inappropriate for the purposes of the Contract, or for any other reason in our sole discretion, we may substitute another fund without your consent. The substituted fund may have different fees and expenses. Substitution may be made with respect to existing investments or the investment of future Purchase Payments, or both. However, no such substitution will be made without the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission, if required. Furthermore, we may close Subaccounts to allocations of Purchase Payments or Contract Value, or both, at any time in our sole discretion. The Funds, which sell their shares to the Subaccounts pursuant to participation agreements, also may terminate these agreements and discontinue offering their shares to the Subaccounts.

Rights Reserved by the Company — We may establish additional Subaccounts of the Separate Account, each of which would invest in a new fund, or in shares of another investment company. New Subaccounts may be established when, at our discretion, marketing needs or investment conditions warrant. New Subaccounts may be made available to existing Owners as we determine. We may also eliminate or combine one or more Subaccounts, transfer assets, or substitute one Subaccount for another Subaccount, if, in our discretion, marketing, tax, or investment conditions warrant. We will notify you of any such changes.

If we deem it to be in the best interests of persons having voting rights under the Contract, we may deregister the Separate Account under the 1940 Act, make any changes required by the 1940 Act, operate the Separate Account as a management investment company under the 1940 Act or any other form permitted by law, transfer all or a portion of the assets of a Subaccount or Separate Account to another Subaccount or separate account pursuant to a combination or otherwise, and create new separate accounts. The Company reserves the right to change the names of the Separate Account or the Subaccounts. Before we make certain changes we may need approval of the SEC and applicable state insurance departments. We will notify you of any changes.

Value of a Subaccount - The value of a Subaccount on a Valuation Date is determined by multiplying the number of Accumulation Units in the Subaccount by the applicable Accumulation Unit Value as of the Valuation Date.

When an amount is allocated to a Subaccount, the number of units credited is equal to the allocated amount divided by the applicable Accumulation Unit Value at the end of the Valuation Period in which the amount is allocated. When amounts are transferred out of or deducted from a Subaccount, units are redeemed in a similar manner.

Accumulation Unit Value - Each Subaccount has an investment experience factor for each combination of asset based charges. The value of a Subaccount Accumulation Unit at the end of a Valuation Period is determined by multiplying the value of that Subaccount Accumulation Unit on the preceding Valuation Date by the applicable investment experience factor for the Valuation Period.

Investment Experience Factor — The investment experience factor of a Subaccount for any Valuation Period is equal to 1.000000 plus the result (which may be positive or negative) from dividing (1) by (2) and subtracting (3) where:

- (1) is the investment income of a Subaccount for the Valuation Period, including realized or unrealized capital gains and losses during the Valuation Period, adjusted for provisions made for taxes, if any;
- (2) is the value of that Subaccount's assets at the beginning of the Valuation Period,
- (3) is the factor representing Subaccount asset-based charges (the mortality and expense risk charge and the administration charge) for the Valuation Period.

Subject to applicable state and federal laws, we may change the methodology used to determine the investment experience factor.

TRANSFER PROVISIONS

During the Accumulation Period, you may transfer Contract Value among the Subaccounts subject to the following provisions:

- You must request transfers in excess of $250,000 per Contract, per day, through standard United States mail.
- We reserve the right to require transfers into and out of one Subaccount in excess of $50,000, per Contract, per day, to be requested through standard United States mail.
- We reserve the right to limit transfers to twelve per Contract Year.

Any transfer request must clearly specify the amount which is to be transferred and the names of the Subaccounts that are affected. All transfers are subject to our Disruptive Trading Procedures as well as any disruptive trading policies and procedures adopted by the Funds.

Disruptive Trading — This Contract is not designed for use by individuals, professional market timing organizations, or other entities that engage in short-term trading, frequent transfers, programmed transfers or transfers that are large in relation to the total assets of a Fund (collectively, "Disruptive Trading"). Your ability to make transfers is subject to modification or restriction if we determine, in our sole opinion, that your exercise of the transfer privilege may disadvantage or potentially harm the rights or interests of other contract owners (or others having an interest in the Contract).

If we determine you are engaged in disruptive trading, we reserve the right to prohibit transfers requested by telephone, fax, overnight mail, or Internet. We may require that you submit written transfer requests with an original signature to our Service Center by standard United States mail. We reserve the right to restrict the transfer privileges of others acting on your behalf. We may also limit the number of transfers you may make to twelve during a calendar year and we may limit the number of times you may transfer Contract Value into particular Subaccounts. We reserve the right to impose, without prior notice, additional or alternate restrictions on allocations and transfers that we determine, in our sole discretion, may disadvantage or potentially hurt the rights or interests of other contract owners or other holders of the Funds. We will reverse any transactions inadvertently processed in contravention of our restrictions within two days of the date the inadvertently processed transaction occurred.

Our procedures may vary among the Subaccounts. We reserve the right to not effect certain allocations or transfers that you have requested if a Fund refuses a transfer request from us. We reserve the right to administer and collect any redemption fees imposed by the Funds on their behalf. Upon request by a Fund, we reserve the right to provide to the Fund information about your trading activity, and execute instructions from the Fund to restrict or prohibit further purchases or transfers by you.

Transfer Procedures — We will make transfers pursuant to proper written or telephone instructions to our Service Center that specify in detail the requested changes. Transfers will be based upon the Accumulation Unit values determined following our receipt of complete transfer instructions. If we receive a transfer request at our Service Center before 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a transfer request at our Service Center on or after 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date. If you or your authorized representative call us to request a telephone transfer but have not given instructions to us prior to 3:00 p.m. Central Time, even if due to our delay in answering your call, we will consider your telephone transfer request to be received after 3:00 p.m. Central Time.

WITHDRAWAL AND SURRENDER PROVISIONS

Withdrawals and Surrenders During the Accumulation Period — You may make a partial withdrawal subject to the restrictions set forth below. You also may withdraw all of the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, and surrender the Contract. The following rules may apply:

- Withdrawals and surrenders may be subject to federal and state income tax and a 10% penalty tax.
- Partial withdrawals reduce your Contract Value and your Death Benefit.
- Your ability to withdraw or surrender may be limited by the terms of a qualified plan such as Section 403(b) plans.
- We may assess premium taxes on partial withdrawals and surrenders.

Withdrawal and Surrender Procedures — Election to withdraw (including the withdrawal amount) shall be made in writing to us at our Service Center and should be accompanied by this Contract if surrender is requested. The Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, is determined on the basis of the Accumulation Unit values calculated after we receive the request. If we receive a withdrawal or surrender request at our Service Center before 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a withdrawal or surrender request at our Service Center on or after 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

PAYMENTS TO CONTRACT OWNERS

Generally, we will make any Death Benefit, withdrawal, surrender, or annuity payment to you within seven days after the Valuation Date we receive your proper request at our Service Center. However, we may suspend or postpone payments of any amount where permitted under applicable federal or state laws, rules, or regulations.

We may suspend or defer payments or transfers involving any Subaccount:

- during any period when the New York Stock Exchange is closed;
- when trading is restricted or the SEC determines an emergency exists; or
- as the SEC by order may permit.

We also may defer any annuity payment from our General Account for the period permitted by law.

DEATH BENEFIT PROVISIONS

Due Proof of Death — We must receive Due Proof of Death in order to pay a Death Benefit. Due Proof of Death means a certified death certificate and all necessary claim paperwork, settlement instructions, and such other information we may require to process the Death Benefit. The Company may require return of the Contract.

Amount Payable Upon Death — If an Owner dies before the Annuity Date, the Death Benefit will be equal to the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, on the Valuation Date we receive Due Proof of Death. Payment of the Death Benefit may be subject to federal and state income tax. If any Owner dies on or after the Annuity Date, and before the entire interest in the Contract has been distributed, any remaining portion of such interest will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of death.

Payment of Death Benefit — If there is only one Owner under the Contract, we will pay the Death Benefit to the Beneficiary upon the death of such Owner before the Annuity Date. Upon the death of a joint Owner before the Annuity Date, we will pay the Death Benefit to the surviving joint Owner. We will pay the Death Benefit upon the first to die of any joint Owners. If any Owner is not a natural person, we will treat each Annuitant under the Contract as an Owner for Death Benefit payment purposes and we will pay the Death Benefit upon the death of any Annuitant or upon the change of any Annuitant.

We will pay the Death Benefit to the Beneficiary (or joint Owner, if applicable) after we receive Due Proof of Death. We will then have no further obligation under the Contract. The Valuation Date on which we receive all required paperwork is the date the Contract is tendered for redemption and the date for calculation of the benefits.

If we receive Due Proof of Death at our Service Center before 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will calculate the Death Benefit based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a Due Proof of Death at our Service Center on or after 3:00 p.m. Central Time, we will calculate the Death Benefit based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

The Death Benefit may be paid in a lump sum. The Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner, if applicable) may defer this sum for up to five years from the date of death. Instead of a lump sum payment, the Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner), may elect to have the Death Benefit distributed under one of the following Annuity Options:

- Option 2 over the lifetime of the Beneficiary, or
- Option 1 or 3 with a specified period or certain period no longer than the life expectancy of the Beneficiary. The life expectancy of the Beneficiary must be at least ten years as of the date that he or she elects Option 1 or Option 3

The Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner) must make this election within 60 days of the time we receive Due Proof of Death, and distribution under these Annuity Options must commence within one year of the date of death.

If the Beneficiary is not a natural person, the entire Death Benefit must be distributed within five years of your death.

If your surviving spouse is the only Primary Beneficiary when you die, your surviving spouse may elect to be the successor Owner of the Contract by completing the spousal continuation section of the claim form submitted with Due Proof of Death. The date of continuance of the Contract will be the Valuation Date that we receive Due Proof of Death. If no Annuitant is living at the time of your death, your surviving spouse will become the Annuitant.

If your surviving spouse elects to become the successor Owner of the Contract on your death, thereby waiving claim to the Death Benefit that is otherwise payable, we will not pay out a Death Benefit on your death. Any subsequent spouse of your surviving spouse will not be entitled to continue the Contract upon the death of your surviving spouse.

In all events, we will pay or apply the Contract's Death Benefit in accordance with Sections 72(s) or 401(a)(9) of the Code, as applicable.

ANNUITY PERIOD PROVISIONS

Annuity Payments will be made to you, unless you direct otherwise. Contracts may be fully annuitized under one of several Annuity Options, which are available on a fixed basis. You may annuitize any time on or after the Minimum Annuity Date shown in the Contract Schedule. Annuity payments will begin on the Annuity Date under the Annuity Option you select. You may write to us during the Accumulation Period to request a change of the Annuity Date. The Annuity Date may not be earlier than the Minimum Annuity Date or later than the Maximum Annuity Date stated in the Contract Schedule. We do not permit partial annuitization.

Annuity Payments — On the Annuity Date, we will transfer your Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, to our General Account. To determine the first fixed annuity payment, we apply an annuity factor for the Annuity Option that you selected to this value. Each annuity payment will be equal to the first regardless of investment, mortality or expense experience, unless the Annuity Option selected specifies that there is to be a reduction in payments after the death of an Annuitant.

The amount of the first guaranteed annuity payment depends on:

- the selected Annuity Option; and
- the interest rate and mortality assumption (for Annuity Options 2, 3, 4, and 5) shown in the Basis of Annuity Options in this Contract; and
- for Annuity Options 2, 3, 4, and 5, the age and gender of the Annuitant; and
- the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, on the Annuity Date; and
- the frequency of annuity payments.

Annuity Options — You may elect one of the Annuity Options. We must receive an election of an Annuity Option in writing at our Service Center at least 15 calendar days before the Annuity Date. If no Annuity Option is elected, monthly annuity payments will be made in accordance with Option 3 below if there is one Annuitant on the Annuity Date or under Option 5 if there are joint Annuitants on the Annuity Date. You may change an Annuity Option before the Annuity Date. You cannot change an Annuity Option after the first annuity payment is made. We reserve the right to add additional Annuity Options in the future.

We will cancel any election of an Annuity Option if, before the Annuity Date, there is: 1) a subsequent change of Beneficiary, or 2) an assignment of the Contract unless the assignment provides otherwise.

The Annuity Option selected must result in an initial payment that is at least equal to our minimum payment, according to our rules, at the time the Annuity Option is chosen. If the selected Annuity Option does not produce an initial payment which meets this minimum, we reserve the right to decrease the payment frequency to quarterly, semi-annually, or annually to meet this minimum, or to make a single lump sum payment.

If you die before the Annuity Date, available Annuity Options are limited. The Annuity Options available are:

- Option 2 over the lifetime of the Beneficiary; or
- Option 1 or 3 with a specified period or certain period no longer than the life expectancy of the Beneficiary. The life expectancy of the Beneficiary must be at least ten years as of the date that he or she elects Option 1 or Option 3.

The Death Benefit distribution must begin no later than one year from your death, unless a later date is permitted by federal regulation.

If the Beneficiary is not an individual, the entire interest must be distributed within five years of your death.

Option 1—Income for Specified Period. Option 1 provides an annuity payable monthly for ten years. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

Option 2—Life Income. Option 2 provides for an annuity payable monthly over the lifetime of the Annuitant. If Option 2 is elected, annuity payments terminate automatically and immediately on the Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments made. Thus, it is possible for you to receive only one payment if the Annuitant dies prior to the date the second payment was due.

Option 3—Life Income with Installments Guaranteed. Option 3 provides an annuity payable monthly for a certain period of ten years and thereafter during the Annuitant's lifetime. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

Option 4—Joint and Survivor Annuity. Option 4 provides an annuity payable monthly while both Annuitants are living. Upon either Annuitant's death, the monthly income payable continues over the life of the surviving Annuitant at 100% of the original payment. At the time the Annuity Option is chosen, we may offer other percentages of the original payment that continue over the life of the surviving Annuitant. Annuity payments terminate automatically and immediately upon the surviving Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments received. Thus, it is possible for you to receive only one payment if both Annuitants die prior to the date the second payment was due.

Option 5—Joint and Survivor Annuity with Installments Guaranteed. Option 5 provides an annuity payable monthly for a certain period of ten years and thereafter while either Annuitant is alive. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

In lieu of monthly payments, you may request quarterly, semi-annual, or annual payments, with our prior approval.

Basis of Annuity Options — This Contract contains tables for each Annuity Option that show the guaranteed monthly payment for each $1,000 applied to an Annuity Option. The guaranteed monthly payments are based on an interest rate of 1.50% per year and, where mortality is involved, the "Annuity 2000 Table" developed by the Society of Actuaries projected using 200% of Scale G to the year 2030. We may offer annuity rates that are more favorable than those contained in this Contract. Any such rates will be applied uniformly to all Owners of the same class.

Death Proceeds — If the Annuitant (or surviving joint Annuitant) dies during the Annuity Period, we will automatically continue any unpaid installments for the remainder of the certain period under Annuity Options 1, 3 or 5.

If an Owner, who is not also an Annuitant, dies after the Annuity Date, the following provisions apply:

- If the Owner was the sole Owner, the remaining annuity payments will be payable to the Beneficiary in accordance with the provisions described above. The Beneficiary will become the Owner of the Contract.
- If the Contract has joint Owners, the annuity payments will be payable to the surviving joint Owner in accordance with the provisions described above. Upon the death of the surviving joint Owner, the Beneficiary becomes the Owner.

VOTING RIGHTS

Owners have voting rights in a Fund based upon the Owner's proportionate interest in the corresponding Subaccount. Owners have voting rights before the Annuity Date, surrender, or the death of an Owner.

We will notify Owners with interests in a Subaccount of any shareholders' meeting at which Fund shares held by such Subaccount will be voted and will provide proxy materials together with a form to be used to give voting instructions to the Company. The Company will vote Fund shares for which no timely instructions have been received in the same proportion as shares of that Fund for which instructions have been received.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

Termination of Contract — Prior to the Annuity Date, we may terminate your Contract and pay you the Contract Value in one sum if:

- You have not made any Purchase Payments for two full years; and
- Your Contract Value at or after the end of such two-year period is less than $2,000; and
- The sum of all of your Purchase Payments, less any withdrawals at or after the end of such two-year period is less than $2,000; and
- We notified you in writing that your Contract is inactive and subject to termination, and six months following the date of this notice you have not made any Purchase Payments to increase your Contract Value or the sum of all of your Purchase Payments, less any withdrawals to $2,000.

Evidence of Age, Sex and Survival — We may require satisfactory evidence of the age, gender and the continued survival of any Annuitant.

Misstatement of Age or Sex — If the Annuitant's age or gender has been misstated, the amount payable under the Contract will be recalculated based on the correct age or gender. Interest of 3% will be charged to any overpayment or credited to any underpayment against future payments we may make under the Contract.

Protection of Benefits — The Owner may not commute, anticipate, assign, alienate or otherwise hinder the receipt of any payment.

Creditors — The proceeds of this Contract and any payment under an Annuity Option will be exempt from the claim of creditors and from legal process to the extent permitted by law.

Guarantees — Guarantees are subject to our financial strength and claims-paying ability.

QUALIFIED PLAN RIDER

As used in this Rider, "Contract" means the contract to which this Rider is attached. This Rider forms a part of the Contract to which it is attached from the Date of Issue. Terms not defined in this Rider have the meaning given to them in the Contract. In the event of any conflict between the terms of this Rider and the terms of the Contract, the terms of this Rider shall prevail over the terms of the Contract. The Contract, as amended, is issued to or purchased by the trustee of a pension or profit-sharing plan intended to qualify under section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code").

1. Except as allowed by the qualified pension or profit-sharing plan of which this Contract is a part, the Contract may not be transferred, sold, assigned, discounted or pledged, either as collateral for a loan or as security for the performance of an obligation or for any other purpose, to any person other than Us.
2. This Contract shall be subject to the provisions, terms and conditions of the qualified pension or profit-sharing plan of which the Contract is a part. Any payment, distribution or transfer under this Contract shall comply with the provisions, terms and conditions of such plan as determined by the plan administrator, trustee or other designated plan fiduciary. We shall be under no Obligation under or by reason of issuance of this Contract either (a) to determine whether any such payment, distribution or transfer complies with the provisions, terms and conditions of such plan or with applicable law, or (b) to administer such plan, including, without limitation, any provisions required by the Retirement Equity Act of 1984.
3. The Contract does not permit loans.
4. Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in this Contract or the qualified pension or profit-sharing plan of which this Contract is a part, We reserve the right to amend or modify this Contract or Rider to the extent necessary to comply with any law, regulation, ruling or other requirement deemed by Us to be necessary to establish or maintain the qualified status of such pension or profit-sharing plan.

Except as modified herein, all terms and conditions of the Contract remain unchanged.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company has caused this Rider to be signed by its President and Secretary.

TAX SHELTERED ANNUITY (TSA) ENDORSEMENT
FOR ANNUITY CONTRACTS (NO LOANS)

The contract or certificate under a group contract (collectively, the "Contract") to which this Endorsement is attached is amended as specified below to satisfy the requirements of section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder. All the provisions of the Contract and this Endorsement shall be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder and, if applicable, the requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). Where the provisions of this Endorsement are inconsistent with the provisions of the Contract, including the provisions of any other endorsements or riders issued with the Contract, the provisions of this Endorsement will control.

I. The Plan, Employer, and Employee

As used in this Endorsement, the term "Plan" refers to the plan under Code section 403(b) that is maintained by the Employer and pursuant to which the Contract is issued or, if applicable, the agreement between the Employer and Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company (the "Company") to provide each other with information described in section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2)(C) of the Income Tax Regulations. The term "Employer" refers to the employer described in Code section 403(b)(1)(A) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder that maintains the Plan pursuant to which the Contract is issued. The term "Employee" refers to an employee or former employee of the Employer for whose benefit the Employer maintains the Plan and the Contract is issued under the Plan.

II. Owner and Annuitant

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, (1) the Employee must be the Owner and the Annuitant if the Contract is an annuity contract, (2) the Employee must be the Owner and the Insured if the Contract is a life insurance contract, (3) the Annuitant or Insured, whichever is applicable, and the Owner may not be changed, and (4) a joint Owner may not be named.

III. Contributions

A. In General

Contributions shall not exceed the limits of Code section 415. The Company will not accept any contributions in excess of this limit and does not intend to account separately for any such excess contributions or amounts attributable to any such excess contributions.

A contribution may not include amounts attributable to designated Roth contributions under Code section 402A or after-tax employee contributions.

B. Single Premium Contract

If only a single premium is permitted under the Contract, the single premium permitted may not include any amounts other than:

1. an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
2. a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

C. Flexible Premium Contract

If flexible premiums are permitted under the Contract, a premium to the Contract must be made:

1. as a contribution by the Employer on behalf of the Employee, including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement,
2. as an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
3. as a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

Except as otherwise permitted by Code section 414(u), Code section 414(v), or other provisions of the federal tax law, contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement shall not exceed the limits set forth in Code section 402(g). If contributions exceed this limit, the Company may distribute the amount of the excess, together with any income allocable thereto, to the Employee as permitted by applicable federal tax law.

D. Minimum Premiums

If a minimum premium amount is required under the Contract, the Company will reduce this minimum premium amount if necessary to comply with Code section 403(b)(12).

E. Life Insurance Contract

If the Contract is a life insurance contract, a premium may not exceed that permitted under applicable federal tax law to provide death benefits satisfying the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

IV. Nontransferable and Nonforfeitable

The Contract is established for the benefit of the Employee and his or her beneficiaries. The interest of the Employee in the Contract is non-transferable and, except as provided by applicable law, is non-forfeitable. In particular, except as otherwise provided under applicable law, the Contract may not be sold, assigned, discounted, or pledged as collateral for a loan or as security for the performance of an obligation or for any other purpose, to any person other than the Company. Special rules may apply in the case of a transfer under the terms of a qualified domestic relations order, as defined in Code section 414(p) (a "QDRO").

V. Distribution Restrictions

A. In General

Except as otherwise provided under federal tax law, a distribution from the Contract shall be made only in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations, the Plan, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Amounts may be distributed pursuant to a QDRO to the extent permitted by applicable federal tax law.

B. Elective Deferrals

As required by Code section 403(b)(11), Code section 403(b)(7), and the applicable Income Tax Regulations thereunder, a distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Elective Deferrals may not be made from the Contract earlier than the earliest of the date on which the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) has a hardship, (4) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (5) attains age 59½. A hardship distribution is limited to the aggregate dollar amount of the Employee's Elective Deferrals under the Contract (and may not include any income thereon), reduced by the aggregate dollar amount of the distributions previously made to the Employee from the Contract. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Elective Deferrals" means contributions to the Contract made after December 31, 1988, pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, earnings on such contributions, and earnings on any amounts held as of December 31, 1988. Elective Deferrals also include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that are attributable to contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement and are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7) or Code section 403(b)(11).

C. Employer Annuity Contributions

If the Contract is issued on or after January 1, 2009, a distribution of Employer Annuity Contributions may be made from the Contract no earlier than upon the earlier of the Employee's severance from employment or upon the prior occurrence of some event, such as after a fixed number of years, the attainment of a stated age, or disability, as provided under the Plan. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Annuity Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to an annuity contract under Code section 403(b)(1) that are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement. Employer Annuity Contributions do not include after-tax employee contributions or earnings thereon. Employer Annuity Contributions include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement that are subject to the distribution restrictions under section 1.403(b)-6(b) of the Income Tax Regulations.

D. Employer Custodial Account Contributions

A distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Employer Custodial Account Contributions may not be paid from the Contract before the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (4) attains age 59½. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Custodial Account Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that (1) are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, (2) are not Employer Annuity Contributions, and (3) are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7).

E. Separate Accounting

If the Contract includes both Elective Deferrals and other contributions, and the Elective Deferrals are not maintained in a separate account, then in accordance with section 1.403(b)-6(d)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, distributions may not be made earlier than the later of:

1. any date permitted under subsection B of this section V of the Endorsement, and
2. any date permitted under subsections C or D of this section V of the Endorsement (whichever applies to the contributions that are not Elective Deferrals).

Unless required under the Plan, the Company is not obligated to maintain a separate account for Elective Deferrals.

F. Exchanges and Transfers

Amounts exchanged or transferred to the Contract pursuant to section VI of this Endorsement, and income attributable to such amounts, are subject to distribution restrictions that are not less stringent than those imposed under the contract being exchanged or under the transferor plan, whichever is applicable, in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations.

G. Exceptions

1. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section V of the Endorsement, distributions are permitted to be made from the Contract to the extent (a) described in sections III and VI of this Endorsement, (b) required by a QDRO, (c) described in Code section 72(t)(2)(G), (d) permitted by Code section 414(w)(2), or (e) otherwise allowed by applicable federal tax law.
2. If the Employer informs the Company that the Plan has been terminated in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(a) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Company shall follow the instructions of the Employer with regard to how the Contract or the accumulated benefits thereunder are to be distributed, provided that such instructions are in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations.
3. To the extent that the Company separately accounts for contributions to the Contract that are eligible rollover distributions as described in sections 1.403(b)-6(i) and 1.403(b)-10(d) of the Income Tax Regulations, such contributions (and any earnings thereon) are not subject to the distribution restrictions described in this section V of this Endorsement. The Company is not obligated to separately account for any such amounts.

VI. Exchanges and Plan-to-Plan Transfers

Subject to the terms of the Plan, if applicable, exchanges within the Plan and plan-to-plan transfers involving the Contract will be allowed to the extent permitted under federal tax law.

Such exchanges and plan-to-plan transfers can affect whether a Contract that is a life insurance contract satisfies the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

VII. Loans and Hardship Distributions

The Contract does not permit loans.

A distribution in the case of hardship that is permitted under section V of this Endorsement may be made under the Contract. However, except as otherwise provided under section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations with respect to certain Contracts received in an exchange that occurred on or before September 24, 2007, and under section 8 of Revenue Procedure 2007-71 with respect to certain Contracts issued before January 1, 2009, a loan and a distribution in the case of hardship may be made under the Contract only if permitted under the Plan.

VIII. Required Minimum Distributions and Incidental Benefits

A. In general

Notwithstanding any provision in the Contract to the contrary, the distribution of the entire interest in the Contract shall be made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Distributions from and benefits under the Contract also must satisfy the requirements relating to incidental benefits under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(ii) of the Income Tax Regulations. All such requirements are incorporated herein by reference. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, prior to the date the Contract is annuitized, the entire interest of the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract is the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract plus the actuarial present value of any additional benefit (such as survivor benefits in excess of the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary) that will be provided under the Contract, in accordance with Q&A-12 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

To the extent permitted under the Plan and the Code, the minimum distribution required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9) with respect to the Contract may be taken from any one or more of the Employee's Code section 403(b) contracts under the Plan.

To the extent provided in Income Tax Regulations, a Contract that is part of a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) shall, for all years to which Code section 401(a)(9) applies to the Contract, be treated as having complied with Code section 401(a)(9) if the Contract complies with a reasonable good faith interpretation of Code section 401(a)(9).

B. Required Beginning Date

The term "required beginning date" as used in this Endorsement means April 1 of the calendar year following the later of (1) the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, (2) the calendar year in which the Employee retires, or (3) such later date provided by law. However, unless the Employee's interest in the Contract is on account of the Employee's participation in a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) or church plan (as defined in Code section 401(a)(9)(C)), if the Employee is a 5-percent owner (as defined in Code section 416) of the Employer with respect to the plan year ending in the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, the required beginning date is April 1 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½. In addition, if distributions commence to the Employee on a date before the Employee's required beginning date over a period permitted under Code section 401(a)(9)(A)(ii) and the distribution form is an annuity under which distributions are made in accordance with the provisions of Q&A-1 of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, the annuity starting date will be treated as the required beginning date for purposes of applying the rules of sections 1.401(a)(9)-2 and 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

C. Distributions During Employee's Life

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, the entire interest shall be distributed, or commence to be distributed, no later than the required beginning date over (a) the life of the Employee, or the lives of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary (within the meaning of the Code section 401(a)(9)), or (b) a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the Employee or the joint life and last survivor expectancy of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary, as required by law. Payments must be made in periodic payments at intervals of no longer than one year and must be nonincreasing or they may increase only as provided in Q&As-1, -4, and -14 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. Also, to the extent permitted under the Contract, payments may be changed in accordance with Q&A-13 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. In addition, any distribution must satisfy the incidental benefit requirements specified in Q&A-2 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

The amount to be distributed on or before the required beginning date, and by December 31 of each year, will be made in accordance with the requirements of Code section 401(a)(9) and the regulations thereunder.

D. Distributions After Employee's Death

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies on or after required distributions commence, the entire remaining interest, if any, will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of the Employee's death.

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies before required distributions commence, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death, except that:

1. if the interest is payable to an individual who is the Employee's designated beneficiary, the designated beneficiary may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the designated beneficiary or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the designated beneficiary, commencing on or before December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died; or
2. if the sole designated beneficiary is the Employee's surviving spouse (within the meaning of federal law), the surviving spouse may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the surviving spouse or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the surviving spouse, commencing on or before the later of:
 - a. December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died, and
 - b. December 31 of the calendar year in which the Employee would have attained age 70½.

If the surviving spouse dies before distributions begin to him or her, the remaining interest will be distributed, starting by the end of the calendar year following the calendar year of the spouse's death, over the spouse's designated beneficiary's remaining life expectancy determined using such beneficiary's age as of his or her birthday in the year following the death of the spouse, or, if elected, will be distributed by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the spouse's death.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is the surviving spouse must be made no later than the earlier of December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death or the date distributions are required to begin pursuant to this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement. If no election is made, the entire interest will be distributed in accordance with the method of distribution in this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is not the surviving spouse must be made no later than December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died. If no such election is made, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death.

For purposes of this section of the Endorsement regarding distributions after the Employee's death, required distributions are considered to commence on the Employee's required beginning date or, if applicable, on the date distributions are required to begin to the Employee's surviving spouse. However, if distributions start prior to the applicable date in the preceding sentence, on an irrevocable basis (except for acceleration) under an annuity contract meeting the requirements of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, then required distributions are considered to commence on the annuity starting date.

Unless otherwise provided by applicable federal tax law, life expectancy is determined using the Single Life Table in Q&A-1 of section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the Income Tax Regulations. If distributions are being made to the Employee's surviving spouse as the sole designated beneficiary, such spouse's remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to such spouse's age in the year. In all other cases, remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the Employee's death (or in the case of a surviving spouse who is the Employee's sole designated beneficiary and who dies before required distribution commence to him or her, the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the spouse's designated beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the spouse's death) reduced by 1 for each subsequent year. If benefits under the Contract are payable in accordance with an annuity option provided under the Contract, life expectancy shall not be recalculated.

E. Annuity Options

All annuity payments under the Contract must meet the requirements of Code section 403(b)(10), Code section 401(a)(9), section 205 of ERISA, if applicable, and the applicable regulations. The provisions of this Endorsement reflecting these requirements override any annuity payment option inconsistent with such requirements. If guaranteed payments are to be made under the Contract, the period over which any guaranteed payments are to be made must not exceed the period permitted under section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations (except as otherwise permitted by applicable federal tax law).

IX. Direct Rollovers

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, a distributee may elect, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Company, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee in a direct rollover.

An eligible rollover distribution is any distribution of all or any portion of the balance to the credit of the distributee, except that an eligible rollover distribution does not include (i) any distribution that is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (not less frequently than annually) made for the life (or life expectancy) of the distributee or the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of the distributee and the distributee's designated beneficiary, or for a specified period of ten years or more; (ii) any distribution to the extent such distribution is required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9); (iii) any hardship distribution; (iv) the portion of any other distribution(s) that is not includible in gross income (determined without regard to the exclusion for net unrealized appreciation with respect to employer securities); (v) any other distribution(s) that is reasonably expected to total less than $200 during a year; and (vi) any other amounts designated in published federal income tax guidance.

A portion of a distribution shall not fail to be an eligible rollover distribution merely because the portion consists of after-tax employee contributions which are not includible in gross income. However, such portion may be transferred only to an individual retirement account or annuity described in Code section 408(a) or (b), respectively, or to a qualified defined contribution plan described in Code section 401(a) or 403(a) that agrees to separately account for amounts so transferred, including separately accounting for the portion of such distribution which is includible in gross income and the portion of the distribution which is not so includible.

An eligible retirement plan is an eligible plan under Code section 457(b) which is maintained by a state, political subdivision of a state, or any agency or instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state and which agrees to separately account for amounts transferred into such plan from the Contract, an individual retirement account described in Code section 408(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Code section 408(b), an annuity plan described in Code section 403(a), an annuity contract described in Code section 403(b), or a qualified plan described in Code section 401(a), that accepts the distributee's eligible rollover distribution. The definition of eligible retirement plan shall also apply in the case of a distribution to a surviving spouse, or to a spouse or former spouse who is the alternate payee under a QDRO.

A distributee includes the Employee. In addition, the Employee's surviving spouse and the Employee's spouse or former spouse who is the alternative payee under a QDRO, are distributees with regard to the interest of the spouse or former spouse.

A direct rollover is a payment by the Plan to the eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee.

X. Coordination with the Plan

Except to the extent that the Contract is not subject to the written plan requirement under section 1.403(b)-3(b)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Contract is subject to the terms of the Plan, provided that the terms of the Plan do not expand the terms of the Contract and do not impose any responsibilities or duties on the Company greater than those set forth in the Contract. For example, any terms of the Contract permitting distributions in the case of hardship do not apply if the Plan does not permit such hardship distributions. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the Contract and any other terms of the Plan, such other terms of the Plan shall govern if necessary to ensure compliance with Code section 403(b).

Federal law may require the Employer to share information with the Company that is necessary for the Company to administer the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. In such case, the Company shall rely upon such information in administering the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. If the Company does not receive such information from the Employer in the form and manner the Company deems acceptable, the Company will administer the Contract in the manner it deems appropriate. In some cases, this could mean that the Company has no responsibility to make any distribution (including a loan) from the Contract before the Company receives the information it requires from the Employer.

Federal tax law also may require the Company to share information regarding the Contract with the Employer in order to ensure compliance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. The Company will share such information as required by federal tax law and any agreement between the Company and the Employer.

The Employer may identify a delegate to provide or receive the information described in this section X of the Endorsement.

XI. Incidental Life Insurance

Life insurance protection provided under the Contract must be incidental within the meaning of Code section 403(b)(1) and section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, no portion of the value of the Contract may be used to continue life insurance protection beyond the Employee's retirement. On or before the Owner's retirement, the Owner, at his or her election, must:

1. surrender the Contract,
2. apply the Cash Surrender Value to an annuity providing payments that are made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, or
3. continue the Contract by requesting the deletion of this Endorsement and including the Cash Surrender Value in gross income.

If no election is made, an election under option 3 of this section XI of the Endorsement will be deemed to be made.

XII. Miscellaneous Provisions

A. Effective Date

If the Contract was issued on or after January 1, 2009, the effective date of this Endorsement is the effective date of the Contract. If the Contract was issued prior to January 1, 2009, the Endorsement is effective January 1, 2009, and replaces the provisions of any other endorsement or rider to the Contract that are designed to modify the Contract in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b).

B. Unisex Rates

The method of calculating contributions and benefits under the Contract are to be based on unisex rates, and any references to sex or gender (with regard to rates and benefits) in the Contract are deleted.

C. Automatic Rollovers

If the Plan provides for a mandatory distribution described in Code section 401(a)(31)(B)(ii), and such a mandatory distribution greater than $1,000 is made on or after March 28, 2005, if the Employee does not properly elect to have such distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the Employee in a direct rollover or to receive the distribution directly, then the Plan administrator will pay the distribution in a direct rollover to an individual retirement plan designated by the Plan Administrator. For purposes of determining whether a mandatory distribution is greater than $1000, the portion of the participant's distribution attributable to any rollover contribution is included.

In addition, eligible rollover distributions from a designated Roth account are taken into account in determining whether the total amount of the account balances exceeds $1,000 for purposes of the mandatory distributions from the Contract.

D. Treatment as an Annuity Contract under Code Section 403(c)

If the Contract is not treated for federal tax purposes as an annuity contract under Code section 403(b), the Contract will be treated as an annuity contract described in Code section 403(c), the Contract and all endorsements and riders attached to the Contract will be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(c), the provisions of this Endorsement other than sections XII.A and this section XII.D. shall not apply, and the entire interest in the Contract will be distributed in accordance with the requirements of Code section 72(s).

E. Death Benefits under Qualified Active Military Service

To the extent required under Code sections 403(b)(14) and 401(a)(37), in the case of an Employee who dies while performing qualified military services (as defined in Code section 414(u)), the survivors of the Employee are entitled to any additional benefits (other than benefit accruals relating to the period of qualified military service) provided under the plan had the participant resumed and then terminated employment on account of death.

F. ERISA

If this Contract is being maintained pursuant to a Plan that is subject to the requirements of Title I of ERISA, the Employer is solely responsible for assuring that the Plan complies at all times with such requirements, including assuring that all distributions, consents, and elections under the Contract comply with the requirements of section 205 of ERISA. The Company shall be under no duty to determine whether a plan constitutes an employee benefit plan that is subject to Title I of ERISA and shall be fully entitled to rely on the Employer's or Plan Administrator's representation of the Plan's ERISA status.

G. Amendment of this Endorsement

The Company reserves the right, and the Owner agrees the Company shall have such right, to make any amendments to this Endorsement from time to time as may be necessary to assure continued qualification of this Contract with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, ERISA. We will obtain all necessary approvals including, where required, that of the Owner, and will send you a copy of the Endorsement that modifies your Contract. We will not be responsible for any adverse tax consequences resulting from the rejection of such amendment.

H. Section References

References to a section of the Code or Income Tax Regulations include any amended or successor section.

This Prospectus describes flexible premium variable deferred annuity contracts (the “Contract”) issued by Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company (“we” or “Commonwealth Annuity”). The Contract is designed to provide annuity benefits for retirement which may or may not qualify for certain federal tax advantages. This Prospectus describes both Qualified Contracts and Non-Qualified Contracts, and the Contract may be purchased by natural persons, or by trusts or custodial accounts that hold the Contract as agent for and for the sole benefit of a natural person. The Contract is not available for sale to other types of purchasers without our prior approval. Investing in the Contract involves risks, including possible loss of some or all of your investment. Replacing your existing annuity or life insurance policy with the Contract may not be to your advantage. The Contract may be purchased only if the older Annuitant has not attained age 91.

The Contracts are not insured by the FDIC. They are obligations of the issuing insurance company and not a deposit of, or guaranteed by, any bank or savings institution and are subject to risks, including possible loss of principal.

This Prospectus contains important information about the Contracts that you should know before investing. You should read it before investing and keep it for future reference. We have filed a Statement of Additional Information (“SAI”) with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The current SAI has the same date as this Prospectus and is incorporated by reference in this Prospectus. You may obtain a free copy by writing us at our Service Center or calling 1-800-457-8803. A table of contents for the SAI appears at the end of this Prospectus. You may also find this Prospectus and other information about the Separate Account required to be filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) at the SEC’s web site at <http://www.sec.gov>.

The Securities and Exchange Commission has not approved or disapproved these securities or determined if this Prospectus is truthful or complete. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

Prospectus dated May 1, 2009.

DEFINITIONS

The following terms as used in this Prospectus have the indicated meanings:

Accumulation Period—The period between the Date of Issue of a Contract and the Annuity Date.

Accumulation Unit—A unit of measurement used to determine the value of each Subaccount during the Accumulation Period. Each Subaccount will have an Accumulation Unit for each combination of charges.

Annuitant—The person(s) during whose lifetime the annuity is to be paid. When two people are named as joint Annuitants, the term “Annuitant” means the joint Annuitants or the survivor.

Annuity Date—The Valuation Date on which annuity payments are to commence. Subject to state variation, the Annuity Date may not be earlier than the first Contract Anniversary or later than the Valuation Date on or next following the later of: (1) ten years from the Date of Issue; or (2) the first day of the month following the month in which the Annuitant attains age 99. In the case of joint Annuitants, we will refer to the age of the older Annuitant.

Annuity Option—One of several forms in which annuity payments can be made.

Annuity Period—The period starting on the Annuity Date during which we make annuity payments to you.

Beneficiary—The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death. (see Primary Beneficiary and Contingent Beneficiary).

Code—The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended.

Company (“we”, “us”, “our”, “Commonwealth Annuity”)—Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company.

Contingent Beneficiary—The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death should all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you. In the event that a Contingent Beneficiary predeceases you, the benefits will be distributed pro rata to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. If there are no surviving Contingent Beneficiaries, the benefits will be paid to your estate (see Beneficiary and Primary Beneficiary).

Contract—A Flexible Premium Variable Deferred Annuity Contract.

Contract Anniversary—The same date each year as the Date of Issue. If there is no Valuation Date in a year that coincides with the Date of Issue, the Contract Anniversary is the next Valuation Date.

Contract Value—The sum of your values in the Subaccount(s).

Contract Year—A period of twelve consecutive months starting on the Date of Issue or on any Contract Anniversary.

Date of Issue—The date on which the first Contract Year commences.

Fund or Funds—An investment company or separate series thereof, in which Subaccounts of the Separate Account invest.

General Account—All our assets other than those allocated to any legally segregated separate account.

Monthiversary—The same date each month as the Date of Issue. If the Date of Issue falls on the 29th, 30th, or 31st and there is no corresponding date in a subsequent month, the Monthiversary will be the last date of that month. If there is no Valuation Date in the calendar month that coincides with the Date of Issue, the Monthiversary is the next Valuation Date.

Non-Qualified Contract—A Contract which does not receive favorable tax treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code.

Owner (“Contract Owner”, “you”, “your”, “yours”)—The person(s) designated in the Contract as having the privileges of Ownership. The Contract may be owned by natural persons, or by trusts or custodial accounts that hold the Contract as agent for and for the sole benefit of a natural person. When two people are named as joint Owners, the term “Owner” means the joint Owners or the survivor.

Primary Beneficiary—The person designated to receive any benefits under a Contract upon your death. In the event that a Primary Beneficiary predeceases you, the benefits will be distributed pro rata to the surviving Primary Beneficiaries. In the event that all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you, proceeds will be paid to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries (see Beneficiary and Contingent Beneficiary).

Purchase Payments—The dollar amount we receive in U.S. currency to buy the benefits the Contract provides.

Qualified Contract—A Contract issued in connection with a retirement plan which receives favorable tax treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code.

Separate Account—Commonwealth Annuity Separate Account A.

Service Center—P.O. Box 758550, Topeka, Kansas 66675-8550, 1-800-457-8803.

Subaccounts—The subdivisions of the Separate Account, the assets of which consist solely of shares of the corresponding Fund.

Valuation Date—Each day when the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading. The close of business on each Valuation Date is generally 3:00 p.m. Central time.

Valuation Period—The interval of time between two consecutive Valuation Dates.

SUMMARY OF EXPENSES

The following tables describe the fees and expenses that you will pay when buying, owning, and surrendering the Contract. The first table describes the fees and expenses that you will pay at the time that you buy the Contract, surrender the Contract, or transfer Contract Value among Subaccounts.

Contract Owner Transaction Expenses

Sales Load Imposed on Purchase Payments	None
Withdrawal Charges	None
State Premium Taxes	0% to 3.50%

The next table describes the fees and expenses that you will pay periodically during the time that you own the Contract, not including Fund fees and expenses.

Periodic Expenses

Annual Contract Fee (deducted monthly from Contract Value)*	Current $30.00
Separate Account Annual Expenses (as a percentage of Contract Value)
Mortality and Expense Risk Charge.....	0.60%
Administration Charge.....	0.15%
Total Separate Account Annual Expenses	0.75%

* We will waive this fee for Contracts with Contract Value of $50,000 or more as of the Valuation Date we would otherwise deduct the fee. We assess one-twelfth of the contract fee on each Monthiversary.

The next table shows the lowest and highest total operating expenses charged by the Funds for the year ended December 31, 2008 that you may pay periodically during the time that you own the Contract. Current and future expenses could be higher or lower than those shown in the following table. More detail concerning each Fund's fees and expenses is contained in the prospectus for each Fund.

	Lowest — Highest
Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses (expenses that are deducted from Fund assets, including management fees, distribution and/or service (12b-1) fees, and other expenses, prior to any fee waivers or expense reimbursements).....	[]% - []%

The advisers and/or other service providers of certain Funds have agreed to reduce their fees and/or reimburse the Funds' expenses in order to keep the Funds' expenses below specified limits. The expenses of certain Funds are reduced by contractual fee reduction and expense reimbursement arrangements, while other Funds have voluntary fee reduction and/or expense reimbursement arrangements that may be terminated at any time. The lowest and highest Total Annual Fund Operating Expenses for all Funds after all fee reductions and expense reimbursements, respectively, are [] and [] respectively for the year ended December 31, 2008. Each fee reduction and/or expense reimbursement arrangement is described in the relevant Fund's prospectus.

The Fund's investment manager or adviser provided the above expenses for the Funds. We have not independently verified the accuracy of the information.

EXAMPLE

This Example is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Contract with the cost of investing in other variable annuity contracts. These costs include Contract Owner transaction expenses, Contract fees, Separate Account annual expenses, and Fund fees and expenses.

The Example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Contract for the time periods indicated. The Example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and assumes the maximum fees and expenses of any of the Funds, prior to any fee waivers or expense reimbursements. If these arrangements were considered, the expenses shown would be lower.

Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions, your costs would be the following whether you surrender, annuitize, or remain invested at the end of the applicable period:

1 Year	3 Years	5 Years	10 Years
$[]	$[]	$[]	$[]

The fee table and Example should not be considered a representation of past or future expenses and charges of the Subaccounts. Your actual expenses may be greater or less than those shown. The Example assumes no transfers were made and does not include the deduction of state premium taxes, which may be assessed before or upon surrender or annuitization or any taxes or penalties you may be required to pay if you surrender the Contract. Similarly, the 5% annual rate of return assumed in the Example is not intended to be representative of past or future performance of any Subaccount.

CONDENSED FINANCIAL INFORMATION

Because the Subaccounts were not in existence as of December 31, 2008, we have not provided any information on accumulation unit values or number of accumulation units outstanding as of December 31, 2008.

DISTRIBUTION COSTS

For information concerning the compensation we pay for sales of the Contract, see “DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS.”

SUMMARY

The summary does not contain all information that may be important. Read the entire Prospectus and the Contract before deciding to invest. States may require variations to the Contract. If a state variation applies, it will appear in the Contract, an endorsement to the Contract, or a supplement to this Prospectus.

The Contract provides for tax-deferred investments and annuity benefits. Both Qualified Contracts and Non-Qualified Contracts are described in this Prospectus.

You may make Purchase Payments under the Contract, subject to certain minimum limitations and other restrictions. You may make Purchase Payments to Non-Qualified Contracts and Contracts issued as Individual Retirement Annuities (“IRAs”) by authorizing us to draw on your account via check or electronic debit (“Pre-Authorized Checking (“PAC”) Agreement”). (See “Purchase Payments”). We do not deduct a sales charge from any Purchase Payment.

We provide for variable accumulations and benefits for amounts allocated to one or more of the Subaccounts selected by you. Each Subaccount invests in a corresponding Fund. (See “The Funds”). Your Contract Value will vary with the investment performance of the Funds you select. The investment risk under the Contract is borne by you.

Transfers among Subaccounts are permitted before the Annuity Date, if allowed by your qualified plan and subject to limitations. (See “Transfers During the Accumulation Period”).

You may make partial withdrawals from the Contract or surrender the Contract, subject to certain restrictions. (See “Withdrawals and Surrenders During the Accumulation Period”). Withdrawals and surrenders will have tax consequences, which may include the amount of the withdrawal being subject to income tax and in some circumstances an additional 10% penalty tax. Withdrawals also reduce your Contract Value and your death benefit. Withdrawals are permitted from Contracts issued in connection with Section 403(b) qualified plans only under limited circumstances. (See “Withdrawals and Surrenders During the Accumulation Period” and “FEDERAL TAX MATTERS”).

If you die before the Annuity Date, we will pay the Beneficiary a death benefit. (See “Death Benefit”). On the Annuity Date, you can elect to receive regular annuity payments on a fixed or variable basis for various periods of time depending on your need for income and the choices available under the Contract. (See “ANNUITY PERIOD”).

We offer Automatic Asset Rebalancing, Dollar Cost Averaging, and a Systematic Withdrawal Plan. (See “AUTOMATIC ASSET REBALANCING,” “DOLLAR COST AVERAGING,” and “SYSTEMATIC WITHDRAWAL PLAN”)

We assess a mortality and expense risk charge and an administration charge. We may also assess a contract fee and applicable premium taxes. (See “CONTRACT CHARGES AND EXPENSES”). The Funds will incur certain management fees and other expenses. (See “SUMMARY OF EXPENSES,” “INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES AND OTHER EXPENSES,” and the Funds’ prospectuses.)

Currently, the Contracts may be purchased in connection with retirement plans qualifying either under Section 401 or 403(b) of the Code or as individual retirement annuities including Roth IRAs. The Contracts are also available in connection with state and municipal deferred compensation plans and non-qualified deferred compensation plans. A Contract purchased in connection with a qualified plan does not provide any additional tax deferred treatment of earnings beyond the treatment that is already provided by the qualified plan itself. (See “TAXATION OF ANNUITIES IN GENERAL” and “QUALIFIED PLANS”). Therefore, the tax deferral provided by the Contract is not necessary for Contracts used in qualified plans, so for such plans the Contract should be purchased for other features and benefits, such as the Annuity Options.

You have the right within the “free look” period (generally ten days, subject to state variation) after receiving the Contract to cancel the Contract by delivering or mailing it to us. If you decide to return your Contract for a refund during the “free look” period, also include a letter instructing us to cancel the Contract. Upon receipt by us, the Contract will be cancelled and amounts refunded. The amount of the refund depends on the state where issued. Generally the refund will be the Contract Value as of the Valuation Date on which we receive your Contract at our Service Center. In the states that require the return of Purchase Payments, we will return the greater of Purchase Payments (less any withdrawals) or Contract Value as of the Valuation Date on which we receive your Contract at our Service Center. In addition, a special “free look” provision applies in some circumstances to Contracts issued as Individual Retirement Annuities, Simplified Employee Pensions—IRAs or as Roth Individual Retirement Annuities (although for such Contracts, if the amount returned would be less than the Contract Value we will return the Contract Value). (See “Free Look Period”)

Certain provisions of the Contract may be different than the general description in this Prospectus because of legal restrictions in your state. See your Contract for specific variations since any such state variations will be included in your Contract or in riders or endorsements attached to your Contract. See your agent or contact us for specific information that may be applicable to your state.

You can generally exchange all or a portion of one annuity contract for another, or a life insurance policy for an annuity contract, in a “tax-free exchange” under Section 1035 of the Code. If you are thinking about a 1035 exchange, you should compare the old contract and the Contract described in this Prospectus carefully. Remember that if you exchange another contract for the Contract described in this Prospectus, you might have to pay a withdrawal charge and tax, including a possible penalty tax, on your old contract. Also, other charges may be higher (or lower) and the benefits may be different. If the exchange does not qualify for Section 1035 treatment, you may have to pay federal income and penalty taxes on the exchange. You should not exchange another contract for the Contract described in this Prospectus unless you determine, after knowing all the facts, that the exchange is in your best interest (the person selling you the Contract will generally earn a commission if you buy the Contract through an exchange or otherwise). If you contemplate such an exchange, you should consult a tax adviser to discuss the potential tax effects of such a transaction.

We offer other variable annuity contracts that have different policy features. However, these other contracts also have different charges that would affect your Subaccount performance and Contract Value. To obtain more information about these other contracts, contact our Service Center or your agent.

COMMONWEALTH ANNUITY, THE SEPARATE ACCOUNT AND THE FUNDS

Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company

Commonwealth Annuity is a life insurance company organized under the laws of Delaware in July 1974. Prior to December 31, 2002, Commonwealth Annuity (then known as Allmerica Financial Life Insurance and Annuity Company or “Allmerica Financial”) was a direct subsidiary of First Allmerica Financial Life Insurance Company (“First Allmerica”), which in turn was a direct subsidiary of The Hanover Insurance Group (“THG,” formerly Allmerica Financial Corporation). Effective December 31, 2002, Allmerica Financial became a Massachusetts domiciled insurance company and a direct subsidiary of THG. On December 30, 2005, THG completed the closing of the sale of Allmerica Financial to The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. (“Goldman Sachs”), 85 Broad Street, New York, NY 10004. On September 1, 2006, Allmerica Financial officially changed its name to Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company.

Commonwealth Annuity is subject to the laws of the state of Massachusetts governing insurance companies and to regulation by the Commissioner of Insurance of Massachusetts. In addition, Commonwealth Annuity is subject to the insurance laws and regulations of other states and jurisdictions in which it is licensed to operate. As of December 31, 2008, Commonwealth Annuity had under $[] billion combined assets and $[] billion of life insurance in force. Its principal office is located at 132 Turnpike Road, Suite 210, Southborough, MA 01772, Telephone 1-866-297-7531.

Subject to the provisions of the Contract, units of the Subaccounts under the Contract are offered on a continuous basis.

The Separate Account

We established the Commonwealth Annuity Separate Account A on February 9, 2007 pursuant to Massachusetts law. The SEC does not supervise the management, investment practices or policies of the Separate Account or Commonwealth Annuity.

Benefits provided under the Contracts are our obligations. Although the assets in the Separate Account are our property, they are held separately from our other assets and are not chargeable with liabilities arising out of any other business we may conduct. Income, capital gains and capital losses, whether or not realized, from the assets allocated to the Separate Account are credited to or charged against the Separate Account without regard to the income, capital gains and capital losses arising out of any other business we may conduct.

Each Subaccount of the Separate Account invests exclusively in shares of one of the corresponding Funds. We may add or delete Subaccounts in the future. Not all Subaccounts may be available in all jurisdictions, under all Contracts or in all retirement plans.

The Separate Account purchases and redeems shares from the Funds at net asset value. We redeem shares of the Funds as necessary to provide benefits, to deduct Contract charges and fees, and to transfer assets from one Subaccount to another as requested by Owners. All dividends and capital gains distributions received by the Separate Account from a Fund are reinvested in that Fund at net asset value and retained as assets of the corresponding Subaccount.

The Funds

Selection of Funds. We select the Funds offered through the Contract, and we may consider various factors, including, but not limited to asset class coverage, the strength of the investment adviser’s (and/or subadviser’s) reputation and tenure, brand recognition, performance, and the capability and qualification of each investment firm. We also consider whether the Fund or one of its service providers (e.g., the investment adviser, administrator, distributor, and/or their affiliates) will make payments to us or our affiliates, as described below. We review the Funds periodically and may remove a Fund or limit its availability to new Purchase Payments and/or transfers of Contract Value if we determine that the Fund no longer meets one or more of the selection criteria, and/or if the Fund has not attracted significant allocations from Contract Owners.

You are responsible for choosing the Subaccounts and the amounts allocated to each that are appropriate for your own individual circumstances and your investment goals, financial situation, and risk tolerance. Since you bear the investment risk of investing in the Subaccounts, we encourage you to thoroughly investigate all of the information regarding the Funds that is available to you, including each Fund’s prospectus, statement of additional information, and annual and semi/annual reports. Other sources such as the Fund's website or newspapers and financial and other magazines provide more current information, including information about any regulatory actions or investigations relating to a Fund. After you select Subaccounts for your initial Purchase Payment, you should monitor and periodically reevaluate your allocations to determine if they are still appropriate. You bear the risk of any decline in your Contract Value resulting from the performance of the Subaccounts you have chosen.

We do not provide investment advice and we do not recommend or endorse any of the particular Funds available as investment options in the Contract.

The Funds. The Separate Account invests in shares of registered, open-end management investment companies. There are two types of Funds generally offered under the Contract:

- Insurance Funds: Insurance Funds are available solely to variable annuity or life insurance contracts and certain qualified retirement plans. (See "FEDERAL TAX MATTERS") Nonqualified Contracts generally can invest only in Insurance Funds. All Contracts, both Qualified and Nonqualified, may choose among Subaccounts that invest in the following Insurance Funds:

Goldman Sachs Variable Insurance Trust (Service Shares)

- Goldman Sachs VIT Capital Growth Fund
- Goldman Sachs VIT Core Fixed Income Fund
- Goldman Sachs VIT Equity Index Fund
- Goldman Sachs VIT Government Income Fund

- [Pioneer Cullen Value VCT Portfolio
- Pioneer Emerging Markets VCT Portfolio
- Pioneer Mid Cap Value VCT Portfolio]

The Insurance Funds provide investment vehicles for variable life insurance and variable annuity contracts and, in some cases, certain qualified retirement plans. Shares of the Insurance Funds are sold only to insurance company separate accounts and qualified retirement plans. In addition to selling shares to our separate accounts, shares of the Insurance Funds may be sold to separate accounts of other insurance companies. It is conceivable that in the future it may be disadvantageous for variable life insurance separate accounts and variable annuity separate accounts of other companies, or for variable life insurance separate accounts, variable annuity separate accounts, and qualified retirement plans to invest simultaneously in the Insurance Funds. Currently, neither we nor the Insurance Funds foresee any such disadvantages to variable life insurance Owners, variable annuity Owners, or qualified retirement plans. The Insurance Funds must monitor events to identify material conflicts between such Owners and determine what action, if any, should be taken. In addition, if we believe an Insurance Fund's response to any of those events or conflicts insufficiently protects Owners, we will take appropriate action.

- Publicly-Available Funds. Publicly-Available Funds are “publicly-available,” i.e., shares can be purchased by the public directly without purchasing a variable annuity or life insurance contract. Only Qualified Contracts may invest in these Publicly-Available Funds.

- Goldman Sachs Balanced Strategy Portfolio (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs Equity Growth Strategy Portfolio (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs Growth and Income Strategy Portfolio (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs Growth Strategy Portfolio (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs International Real Estate Security Fund (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs Real Estate Securities Fund (Class A)
- Goldman Sachs Tollkeeper Fund (Class A)

The Publicly-Available Funds are also available for direct purchase outside of an annuity or life insurance policy. If you purchase shares of these funds directly from a broker-dealer or mutual fund company, you will not pay Contract fees and charges, but you also will not have Annuity Options available. Because of the additional Contract fees and charges, which affect Contract Value and Subaccount returns, you should refer only to performance information regarding the Publicly-Available Funds available through us, rather than to information that may be available through alternate sources.

SEC Registration does not involve SEC Supervision of the Funds' management, investment practices or policies. The assets of each Fund are held separate from the assets of the other Funds, and each Fund has its own distinct investment objective and policies. Each Fund operates as a separate investment Fund, and the investment performance of one Fund has no effect on the investment performance of any other Fund.

The Funds may not achieve their stated objectives. More detailed information, including a description of risks involved in investing in the Funds, is found in the Funds’ prospectuses accompanying this Prospectus and statements of additional information available from us upon request.

Although the investment objectives and policies of certain Funds are similar to the investment objectives and policies of other funds that may be managed or sponsored by the same investment adviser, subadviser, manager, or sponsor, we do not represent or assure that the investment results will be comparable to those of any other fund, even where the investment adviser, subadviser, or manager is the same. Certain Funds available through the Contract have names similar to funds not available through the Contract. The performance of a fund not available through the Contract does not indicate performance of a similarly named Fund available through the Contract. Differences in fund size, actual investments held, fund expenses, and other factors all contribute to differences in fund performance. For all these reasons, you should expect investment results to differ.

Please note that there can be no assurance that any money market fund will be able to maintain a stable net asset value per share. During extended periods of low interest rates, and due in part to the Contract fees and expenses, the yields of any Subaccount investing in a money market fund may also become extremely low and possibly negative.

Certain Payments We Receive With Regard to the Funds. We and our distributor, Epoch Securities, Inc., (the “Distributor”) may receive payments from the Funds or their service providers (e.g., the investment adviser, administrator, distributor, and/or their affiliates). These payments may be used for a variety of purposes, including payment of expenses that we (and our affiliates) incur in promoting, marketing, and administering the Contract and, in our role as an intermediary, the Funds. We (and our affiliates) may profit from these payments.

The amount of payments we receive from the Funds’ service providers is based on a percentage of the assets of the particular Fund attributable to the Contract as well as certain other variable insurance products that we and/or our affiliates may issue or administer. These percentages are negotiated and vary with each Fund. These payments may be derived, in whole or in part, from the investment advisory fee deducted from Fund assets. Contract Owners, through their indirect investment in the Funds, bear the costs of these investment advisory fees (see the Funds’ prospectuses for more information). Some service providers may pay us significantly more than others and the amount we receive may be substantial. These percentages currently range from 0.00% to [0.46]%, and as of the date of this prospectus, we were receiving payments from [each] Fund’s service providers.

Additionally, certain of the Funds make payments to us or the Distributor under their distribution plans (12b-1 plans). The payment rates currently range from [0.09]% to [0.25]% based on the amount of assets invested in those Funds. Payments made out of the assets of the Funds will reduce the amount of assets that otherwise would be available for investment, and will reduce the return on your investment. The dollar amount of future asset-based fees is not predictable because these fees are a percentage of the Fund’s average net assets, which can fluctuate over time. If, however, the value of the Funds goes up, then so would the payment to us or to the Distributor. Conversely, if the value of the Fund goes down, payments to us or to the Distributor would decrease.

A Fund’s service provider may provide us (or our affiliates) and/or broker-dealers that sell the Contracts (“selling firms”) with marketing support, may pay us (or our affiliates) and/or selling firms amounts to participate in national and regional sales conferences and meetings with the sales desks, and may occasionally provide us (or our affiliates) and/or selling firms with items of relatively small value, such as promotional gifts, meals, tickets, or other similar items in the normal course of business.

We and/or the Distributor also may directly or indirectly receive additional amounts or different percentages of assets under management from some of the Funds’ service providers with regard to other variable insurance products we or our affiliates may issue or administer.

For details about the compensation payments we make in connection with the sale of the Contracts, see “DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS.”

Change of Investments

We reserve the right to make additions to, deletions from, or substitutions for the shares held by the Separate Account or that the Separate Account may purchase. If investment in the Funds is no longer possible, in our judgment becomes inappropriate for the purposes of the Contract, or for any other reason in our sole discretion, we may substitute another fund without your consent. The substituted fund may have different fees and expenses. Substitution may be made with respect to existing investments or the investment of future premiums, or both. However, no such substitution will be made without the approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission, if required. Furthermore, we may close Subaccounts to allocations of Purchase Payments or Contract Value, or both, at any time in our sole discretion. The Funds, which sell their shares to the Subaccounts pursuant to participation agreements, also may terminate these agreements and discontinue offering their shares to the Subaccounts.

We may establish additional Subaccounts of the Separate Account, each of which would invest in a new fund, or in shares of another investment company. New Subaccounts may be established when, at our discretion, marketing needs or investment conditions warrant. New Subaccounts may be made available to existing Owners as we determine. We may also eliminate or combine one or more Subaccounts, transfer assets, or substitute one Subaccount for another Subaccount, if, in our discretion, marketing, tax, or investment conditions warrant. We will notify you of any such changes.

If we deem it to be in the best interests of persons having voting rights under the Contract, we may deregister the Separate Account under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”), make any changes required by the 1940 Act, operate the Separate Account as a management investment company under the 1940 Act or any other form permitted by law, transfer all or a portion of the assets of a Subaccount or separate account to another Subaccount or separate account pursuant to a combination or otherwise, and create new separate accounts. Before we make certain changes we may need approval of the Securities and Exchange Commission and applicable state insurance departments. We will notify you of any changes.

THE CONTRACTS

A. GENERAL INFORMATION

We reserve the right to accept or refuse to issue the Contract at our sole discretion.

1. Purchase Payments

You may make Purchase Payments under the Contract during the Accumulation Period, subject to the restrictions set forth below. We will not accept Purchase Payments after the date of death of an Owner. We reserve the right to waive or modify any Purchase Payment limitation and to not accept any Purchase Payment. All Purchase Payments must be paid to us at the Service Center.

The minimum initial and subsequent Purchase Payment for a Qualified Contract is $50. However, if annualized contribution amounts from a payroll or salary deduction plan are equal to or greater than $600, we accept a periodic payment under $50. For a Non-Qualified Contract the minimum initial Purchase Payment is $5,000 and the minimum subsequent Purchase Payment is $250. You may make Purchase Payments to Non-Qualified Contracts and Contracts issued as IRAs by authorizing us to draw on your account via check or electronic debit through a Pre-Authorized Checking (PAC) Agreement.

The maximum cumulative Purchase Payments that may be made under the Contract is $5,000,000 without our approval. We will aggregate multiple Contracts you own for purposes of the $5,000,000 limitation. In addition, for Qualified Contracts, the maximum annual amount of Purchase Payments may be limited by the retirement plan funded by the Contract.

2. Free Look Period

You may examine a Contract and return it for a refund during the “free look” period. Upon receipt by us, the Contract will be cancelled and amounts refunded. If you decide to return your Contract for a refund during the free look period, please also include a letter instructing us to cancel your Contract.

State Law Free Look. The length of the free look period depends upon the state in which the Contract is issued. However, it will be at least 10 days from the date you receive the Contract. The amount of the refund also depends on the state in which the Contract is issued. Generally the refund will be the Contract Value as of the Valuation Date on which we receive your Contract at our Service Center.

Some states, however, require the return of all Purchase Payments. In those states, we will return the greater of Purchase Payments (less any withdrawals) or Contract Value as of the Valuation Date on which we receive your Contract at our Service Center. For these Contracts, we also will allocate all or a portion of your initial Purchase Payment (and any subsequent Purchase Payment made during the free look period) to the [] Money Market Subaccount until the expiration of the free look period. Thereafter, we will allocate all Purchase Payments according to your allocation instructions then in effect.

IRA Free Look. In addition to the state law free look provision described above, a special 7-day free look provision applies in some circumstances to Contracts issued as Individual Retirement Annuities, Simplified Employee Pensions—IRAs or as Roth Individual Retirement Annuities. (See APPENDIX A—COMMONWEALTH ANNUITY AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY VARIABLE ANNUITY IRA, ROTH IRA AND SIMPLE IRA DISCLOSURE STATEMENT.) If you request a refund of this type of Contract within 7 days from the date you receive the Contract, we will return the greater of Purchase Payments (less any withdrawals) made during the seven-day period or Contract Value as of the Valuation Date on which we receive your Contract at our Service Center. During the 7-day period, we will allocate all or a portion of Purchase Payments made during this period to the [] Money Market Subaccount. Upon the expiration of the 7-day period, we will allocate your Purchase Payments and make any refunds to you in accordance with the state law free look provision described above.

3. Owners, Annuitants, and Beneficiaries

Please note that naming different persons as Owner(s), Annuitant(s), and Beneficiary(ies) can have important impacts on whether a death benefit and annuity payments are paid and on whose life payments are based. Carefully consider the potential consequences under various scenarios when naming Owners, Annuitants, and Beneficiaries, and consult your agent.

Beneficiaries. You designate the Beneficiary. During the Accumulation Period and prior to the death of an Owner, you may change a Beneficiary at any time by signing our form. After the Annuity Date, the Beneficiary may be changed prior to the death of an Owner or the Annuitant. However, in the case of joint Owners, the surviving joint Owner is automatically the Primary Beneficiary and cannot be changed. No Beneficiary change is binding on us until we receive it. We assume no responsibility for the validity of any Beneficiary change. Under a Qualified Contract, the provisions of the applicable plan may prohibit a change of Beneficiary. (See “FEDERAL TAX MATTERS”)

You may change the Beneficiary if you send a written change form to our Service Center. Changes are subject to the following:

1. The change must be filed while you are alive;
2. The Contract must be in force at the time you file a change;
3. Such change must not be prohibited by the terms of an existing assignment, Beneficiary designation, or other restriction;
4. Such change will take effect when we receive it. However, action taken by us before the change form was received will remain in effect;
5. The request for change must provide information sufficient to identify the new Beneficiary; and
6. In the case of joint Owners, we will consider the designation of a Beneficiary other than the surviving joint Owner to be a Contingent Beneficiary.

In the event that all Primary Beneficiaries predecease you, we will pay the death benefit proceeds to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. In the event that a Contingent Beneficiary predeceases you, we will distribute the benefits pro rata to the surviving Contingent Beneficiaries. If there are no surviving Contingent Beneficiaries, we will pay the benefits to your estate.

When multiple Beneficiaries are involved, we can not determine the death benefit proceeds until we receive the complete death benefit claim in good order, that is, receipt of proper elections from all Beneficiaries as well as proof of death. The Valuation Date on which we receive all required paperwork is the date the Contract is tendered for redemption and the date for calculation of the benefits.

Owners. Prior to the death of an Owner, you may add, change, or remove an Owner by written request to our Service Center with our prior approval. Doing so may result in certain tax consequences to you, and you should consult your tax advisor as to the tax consequences.

You must furnish information sufficient to clearly identify the new Owner to us. The change is subject to any existing assignment of the Contract. When we record the effective date of the change, it will be the date the notice was signed except for action taken by us prior to receiving the request. Any change is subject to the payment of any proceeds. We may require you to return the Contract to us for endorsement of a change.

Annuitants. On and before the Annuity Date, you may add, change, or remove an Annuitant by written request to our Service Center with our prior approval. For Contracts with non-natural Owners, doing so may result in certain tax consequences to you, and you should consult your tax advisor as to the tax consequences. After the Annuity Date, you may not add, change, or remove an Annuitant.

There must be at least one Annuitant at all times. If an Annuitant who is not an Owner dies prior to the Annuity Date, the younger Owner will become the new Annuitant unless there is a surviving joint Annuitant or a new Annuitant is otherwise named. We will not pay a death benefit upon the death of an Annuitant unless the sole Owner is a non-natural person. We will pay a death benefit of Contract Value minus any applicable premium taxes upon a change of Annuitant if the sole Owner is a non-natural person.

Joint Annuitants are only permitted in Non-Qualified Contracts. Under Qualified Contracts, the Owner and the Annuitant generally must be the same individual.

4. Assignment

During the Accumulation Period and prior to the death of an Owner, you may assign a Non-Qualified Contract at any time by signing our form. No assignment is binding on us until we receive it at our Service Center, and we assume no responsibility for the validity of any assignment. Generally, an interest in a Qualified Contract may not be assigned. If an assignment of the Contract is in effect on the Annuity Date, we reserve the right to pay the assignee, in one sum, that portion of the Contract Value (less any applicable premium taxes) to which the assignee appears to be entitled. Also, amounts payable during the Annuity Period may not be assigned or encumbered (to the extent permitted by law, annuity payments are not subject to levy, attachment or other judicial process for the payment of the payee's debts or obligations). An assignment may be a taxable event and may subject you to immediate tax liability and even a 10% tax penalty. (See "FEDERAL TAX MATTERS") You, therefore, should consult a qualified tax adviser regarding the tax consequences of an assignment.

Any claim is subject to proof of interest of the assignee. You are solely responsible for the validity or effect of any assignment.

5. Exchange Program

From time to time we may allow certain owners of variable annuity contracts issued by us to exchange their contract for a Contract subject to the following conditions:

- (1) the contract value transferred from the original contract (after adjusting for any positive or negative market value adjustment) must be at least $2,000 as of the Date of Issue;
- (2) the older annuitant must not have attained age 91 as of the Date of Issue;
- (3) all contract owners must consent to the exchange; and
- (4) the original contract must be fully surrendered.

We will apply a market value adjustment, if applicable, to the contract value under the original contract before transferring that amount to the Contract, but we will waive any annual contract fee and surrender charge that would otherwise be applicable. All programs and riders under the original contract will terminate upon exchange.

[We reserve the right to make this exchange offer only to customers of certain selling firms.] We may commence, suspend, modify, or withdraw this exchange offer at any time without notice in our sole discretion. We reserve the right to reject any application for exchange.

B. THE ACCUMULATION PERIOD

1. Application of Purchase Payments

You select allocation of Purchase Payments to the Subaccount(s). When you allocate Purchase Payments to a Subaccount, we credit Accumulation Units to that Subaccount based on the value of an Accumulation Unit, as computed after we receive the Purchase Payment at our Service Center. If we receive a Purchase Payment at our Service Center before the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will credit Accumulation Units based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a Purchase Payment at our Service Center on or after the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will credit Accumulation Units based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

We will credit an initial Purchase Payment no later than the end of the second Valuation Date following the Valuation Date we receive the Purchase Payment at our Service Center, provided that the Purchase Payment is preceded or accompanied by an application that contains sufficient information to establish an account and properly credit such Purchase Payment.

If we are not provided with information sufficient to establish a Contract or to properly credit the initial Purchase Payment, we will promptly request the necessary information. If the requested information is not furnished within five business days after we receive the initial Purchase Payment, or if we determine that we cannot otherwise issue the Contract within the five day period, we will return the initial Purchase Payment to you, unless you consent to our retaining the initial Purchase Payment until the application is completed. If we receive the information sufficient to establish a Contract, we will issue the Contract and allocate the Purchase Payment no later than the end of the second Valuation Date following the Valuation Date we receive the missing information.

We may issue a Contract without a signed application if:

- an agent's broker-dealer provides us with application information, electronically or in writing,
- we receive the initial Purchase Payment, and
- you confirm in writing, after the Contract is delivered, that all information in the Contract is correct.

If you submit your application, initial Purchase Payment, and/or subsequent Purchase Payments to your agent, we will not begin processing your purchase order until we receive the application and Purchase Payment from your agent's broker-dealer.

After the initial purchase, we determine the number of Accumulation Units credited by dividing the Purchase Payment allocated to a Subaccount by the Subaccount's Accumulation Unit value, as computed after we receive the Purchase Payment. After we determine the number of Accumulation Units credited, the number of Accumulation Units will not change due to investment experience. Accumulation Unit value varies to reflect the investment experience of the Subaccount and the assessment of charges against the Subaccount. We reduce the number of Accumulation Units when we assess one-twelfth of the contract fee on each Monthiversary.

Some of the Funds reserve the right to delay or refuse purchase requests from the Separate Account, as may be further described in their prospectuses and/or statements of additional information. Therefore, if you request a transaction under your Contract that is part of a purchase request delayed or refused by a Fund, we will be unable to process your request. In that event, we will notify you promptly in writing or by telephone.

2. Accumulation Unit Value

Each Subaccount has Accumulation Unit values for each combination of asset based charges. When Purchase Payments are allocated to a Subaccount, the number of units credited is based on the Subaccount's applicable Accumulation Unit value at the end of the current Valuation Period. When amounts are transferred out of or deducted from a Subaccount, units are redeemed in a similar manner. Generally, we determine the value of an Accumulation Unit as of the close of business on each Valuation Date.

The Accumulation Unit value at the end of each subsequent Valuation Period is the relevant investment experience factor for that Valuation Period times the Accumulation Unit value for the preceding Valuation Period.

Each Subaccount has its own investment experience factor for each combination of charges. The investment experience of the Separate Account is calculated by applying the investment experience factor to the Accumulation Unit value in each Subaccount during a Valuation Period.

The investment experience factor of a Subaccount for any Valuation Period is determined by the following formula:

[(1) divided by (2)] minus (3), where:

(1) is:

- the net asset value per share of the Fund held in the Subaccount as of the end of the current Valuation Period; plus
- the per share amount of any dividend or capital gain distributions made by the Fund held in the Subaccount, if the “ex-dividend” date occurs during the current Valuation Period; plus or minus
- a charge or credit for any taxes reserved for the current Valuation Period which we determine have resulted from the investment operations of the Subaccount;

(2) is the net asset value per share of the Fund held in the Subaccount as of the end of the preceding Valuation Period; and

(3) is the factor representing asset-based charges (the mortality and expense risk charge and the administration charge).

3. Contract Value

On any Valuation Date, the Contract Value equals the total of:

- the number of Accumulation Units credited to each Subaccount, times
- the value of a corresponding Accumulation Unit for each Subaccount.

4. Transfers During The Accumulation Period

During the Accumulation Period, you may transfer Contract Value among the Subaccounts at any time. However, you must request transfers in excess of $250,000 per Contract, per day, through standard United States mail. We reserve the right to require transfers into and out of one Subaccount in excess of $50,000, per Contract, per day, to also be requested through standard United States mail. We also reserve the right to limit transfers to 12 per Contract Year, although we will not include periodic transfers under the Dollar Cost Averaging or Automatic Asset Rebalancing programs when determining the number of transfers you have made in any Contract Year. All transfers are subject to our Disruptive Trading Procedures as well as any disruptive trading policies and procedures adopted by the Funds. (See “Disruptive Trading”)

Any transfer request must clearly specify the amount which is to be transferred and the names of the Subaccounts that are affected.

If you authorize a third party to transact transfers on your behalf, we will reallocate the Contract Value pursuant to the third party’s instructions. However, we take no responsibility for any third party asset allocation or investment advisory service or program. We may suspend, limit, or cancel acceptance of a third party’s instructions at any time and may restrict the Subaccounts available for transfer under third party authorizations.

We will make transfers pursuant to proper written or telephone instructions to our Service Center that specify in detail the requested changes. Transfers will be based upon the Accumulation Unit values determined following our receipt of complete transfer instructions. If we receive a transfer request at our Service Center before the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a transfer request at our Service Center on or after the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date. If you or your authorized representative call us to request a telephone transfer but have not given instructions to us prior to the close of business on the Valuation Date, even if due to our delay in answering your call, we will consider your telephone transfer request to be received after the close of business on the Valuation Date.

We may suspend, modify or terminate the transfer provisions. If you submit a request for a transfer that is no longer permitted, we will notify you in writing that the transaction is not permissible.

Some of the Funds reserve the right to delay or refuse purchase requests from the Separate Account, as may be further described in their prospectuses and/or statements of additional information. Therefore, if you request a transaction under your Contract that is part of a purchase request delayed or refused by a Fund, we will be unable to process your request. In that event, we will notify you promptly in writing or by telephone.

5. Disruptive Trading

The Contract is not designed for use by individuals, professional market timing organizations, or other entities that engage in short-term trading, frequent transfers, programmed transfers or transfers that are large in relation to the total assets of a Fund (collectively, "Disruptive Trading"). These activities may require the Fund to maintain undesirable large cash positions or frequently buy or sell portfolio securities. Such transfers may dilute the value of the Fund's shares, interfere with the efficient management of the Fund's portfolio, and increase brokerage and administrative costs of the Funds. As a result, Disruptive Trading may adversely affect a Fund's ability to invest effectively in accordance with its investment objectives and policies, and may harm other Contract Owners and other persons who may have an interest in the Contract (e.g. Annuitants and Beneficiaries.)

In order to protect our Contract Owners and the Funds from potentially harmful trading activity, we utilize certain policies and procedures that are designed to detect and prevent disruptive trading among the Funds (the "Disruptive Trading Procedures"). Our Disruptive Trading Procedures consider certain factors in order to identify Disruptive Trading activity, including the following:

- the number of transfers made over a period of time;
- the length of time between transfers;
- whether the transfers follow a pattern that appears to be designed to take advantage of short term market fluctuations, particularly within certain Funds;
- the dollar amount(s) requested for transfers; and
- whether the transfers are part of a group of transfers made by a third party on behalf of several individual Contract Owners; and
- the investment objectives and/or size of the Funds.

We may increase our monitoring of Contract Owners who engage in what we perceive to be disruptive trading, including investigating the transfer patterns within multiple contracts owned by the same Contract Owners. We may also investigate any patterns of disruptive trading identified by the Funds that may not have been captured by our Disruptive Trading Procedures.

If we determine you are engaged in disruptive trading, we may take one or more actions in an attempt to halt such trading. Your ability to make transfers is subject to modification or restriction if we determine, in our sole opinion, that your exercise of the transfer privilege may disadvantage or potentially harm the rights or interests of other Contract Owners (or others having an interest in the Contract). Our restrictions may take various forms, but under our current Disruptive Trading Procedures will include loss of telephone, fax, overnight mail, or Internet transfers. This means that we would accept only written transfer requests with an original signature transmitted to us at our Service Center and only by standard United States mail. We may also restrict the transfer privileges of others acting on your behalf, including your agent or an asset allocation or investment advisory service. We may also limit the number of transfers you may make during a calendar year and we may limit the number of times you may transfer Contract Value into particular Subaccounts during a calendar year. Subject to the terms of the Contract, we reserve the right to impose, without prior notice, additional or alternate restrictions on allocations and transfers that we determine, in our sole discretion, will disadvantage or potentially hurt the rights or interests of other Contract Owners or other holders of the Funds. We will reverse any transactions inadvertently processed in contravention of our restrictions within two days of the date the inadvertently processed transaction occurred.

Our Disruptive Trading Procedures may vary among the Subaccounts. Some of the Funds have reserved the right to temporarily or permanently refuse payments or transfer requests from us if, in the judgment of the Fund's investment adviser, the Fund would be unable to invest effectively in accordance with its investment objective or policies, or would otherwise potentially be adversely affected. If a Fund refuses a transfer request from us, we may not be able to effect certain allocations or transfers that a Contract Owner has requested. Some Funds may impose redemption fees on short-term trading (i.e., redemptions of mutual fund shares within a certain number of business days after purchase). We reserve the right to administer and collect any such redemption fees on behalf of the Funds.

The Funds may have adopted their own policies and procedures with respect to excessive trading of their respective shares, and we reserve the right to enforce these policies and procedures. The prospectuses for the Funds describe any such policies and procedures, which may be more or less restrictive than the policies and procedures we have adopted. You should be aware that we currently may not have the contractual obligation or the operational capacity to apply the Funds' excessive trading policies and procedures. However, under SEC rules, we are required to: (1) enter into a written agreement with each Fund or its principal underwriter that obligates us to provide to the Fund promptly upon request certain information about the trading activity of individual Contract Owners, and (2) execute instructions from the Fund to restrict or prohibit further purchases or transfers by specific Contract Owners who violate the excessive trading policies established by the Fund.

You should be aware that the purchase and redemption orders received by the Funds generally are "omnibus" orders from intermediaries such as retirement plans or separate accounts funding variable insurance contracts. The omnibus orders reflect the aggregation and netting of multiple orders from individual retirement plan participants and/or individual Owners of variable insurance contracts. The omnibus nature of these orders may limit the Funds' ability to apply their respective disruptive trading policies and procedures. We cannot guarantee that the Funds (and thus our Contract Owners) will not be harmed by transfer activity relating to the retirement plans and/or other insurance companies that may invest in the Funds. In addition, if a Fund believes that an omnibus order we submit may reflect one or more transfer requests from Contract Owners engaged in disruptive trading activity, the Fund may reject the entire omnibus order.

We will apply our Disruptive Trading Procedures consistently without special arrangement, waiver, or exception. However, our ability to detect and deter Disruptive Trading and to consistently apply the Disruptive Trading Procedures may be limited by operational systems and technological limitations. Contract Owners seeking to engage in such transfer activities may employ a variety of strategies to avoid detection. Because identifying Disruptive Trading involves judgments that are inherently subjective, we cannot provide assurances that our Disruptive Trading Procedures will detect every Contract Owner who engages in disruptive trading. In addition, the terms of some contracts previously issued by us, historical practices or actions, litigation, or certain regulatory restrictions may limit our ability to apply transfer or other restrictions.

If we are unable to detect Disruptive Trading or are unable to restrict Disruptive Trading because of contract provisions or other reasons, you may experience dilution in the value of your Fund shares. There may be increased brokerage and administrative costs within the Funds, which may result in lower long-term returns for your investments. Additionally, because other insurance companies and/or retirement plans may invest in the Funds, we cannot guarantee that the Funds will not suffer harm from disruptive trading within the variable contracts issued by other insurance companies or among Subaccounts available to retirement plan participants.

6. Withdrawals and Surrenders During The Accumulation Period

You may make a partial withdrawal subject to the restrictions set forth below. You also may withdraw all of the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, and surrender the Contract. You should carefully consider taking partial withdrawals or surrendering your Contract, as the following may apply:

- Withdrawals and surrenders may be subject to federal and state income tax and a 10% penalty tax. (See "FEDERAL TAX MATTERS")
- Partial withdrawals reduce your Contract Value and your death benefit. (See "Death Benefit")

- Your ability to withdraw or surrender may be limited by the terms of a qualified plan such as Section 403(b) plans. (See “FEDERAL TAX MATTERS”)
- We may assess premium taxes on partial withdrawals and surrenders. (See “STATE PREMIUM TAXES”)

Election to withdraw (including the withdrawal amount) shall be made in writing to us at our Service Center and should be accompanied by the Contract if surrender is requested. The Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, is determined on the basis of the Accumulation Unit values calculated after we receive the request. If we receive a withdrawal or surrender request at our Service Center before the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a withdrawal or surrender request at our Service Center on or after the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will process the request based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

A participant in the Texas Optional Retirement Program (“ORP”) must obtain a certificate of termination from the participant’s employer before a Contract can be redeemed. The Attorney General of Texas has ruled that participants in the ORP may redeem their interest in a Contract issued pursuant to the ORP only upon termination of employment in Texas public institutions of higher education, or upon retirement, death or total disability. Participants in the Texas Optional Retirement System may transfer their Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, to another approved provider as permitted under the Texas Optional Retirement System. In those states adopting similar requirements for optional retirement programs, we will follow similar procedures. Please note that the ORP does not restrict transfers within a Contract, and thus participants are permitted to make transfers of Contract Value among the Subaccounts.

7. Death Benefit

If an Owner dies before the Annuity Date, the death benefit will be equal to the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, on the Valuation Date we receive due proof of death. This means that the death benefit may be less than the amount of Purchase Payments made under the Contract.

Payment of the death benefit may be subject to federal and state income tax. (See “FEDERAL TAX MATTERS”)

Payment of Death Benefit

If there is only one Owner under the Contract, we will pay the death benefit to the Beneficiary upon the death of such Owner before the Annuity Date. Upon the death of a joint Owner before the Annuity Date, we will pay the death benefit to the surviving joint Owner. We will pay the death benefit upon the first to die of any joint Owners.

If any Owner is not a natural person, we will treat each Annuitant under the Contract as an Owner for death benefit payment purposes and we will pay the death benefit upon the death of any Annuitant or upon the change of any Annuitant.

We will pay the death benefit to the Beneficiary (or joint Owner, if applicable) after we receive due proof of death. We will then have no further obligation under the Contract. The Valuation Date on which we receive all required paperwork is the date the Contract is tendered for redemption and the date for calculation of the benefits. Due proof of death means our receipt of a certified death certificate and all necessary claim paperwork, settlement instructions, the return of the Contract and such other information we may require to process the death benefit. If we receive due proof of death at our Service Center before the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will calculate the death benefit based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of that Valuation Date. If we receive a due proof of death at our Service Center on or after the close of business on the Valuation Date, we will calculate the death benefit based on Accumulation Unit values determined at the end of the next Valuation Date.

When multiple Beneficiaries are involved, the death benefit will not be determined until we receive the complete death benefit claim in good order, that is, receipt of proper elections from all Beneficiaries as well as proof of death.

The death benefit may be paid in a lump sum. The Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner) may defer this sum for up to five years from the date of death. Instead of a lump sum payment, the Beneficiary or the surviving joint Owner, as the case may be, may elect to have the death benefit distributed as stated in Annuity Option 1 for a period not to exceed the Beneficiary’s (or the surviving joint Owner’s) life expectancy; or Annuity Option 2 or 3 based upon the life expectancy of the Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner) provided with respect to Annuity Option 3 that such life expectancy exceeds the certain period of ten years. (See “THE ANNUITY PERIOD” for a description of the Annuity Options.) The Beneficiary (or the surviving joint Owner) must make this election within 60 days of the time we receive due proof of death, and distribution under these annuity payment options must commence within one year of the date of death.

If the Beneficiary is not a natural person, the Beneficiary must elect that the entire death benefit be distributed within five years of your death.

If your spouse is the only Primary Beneficiary when you die, your surviving spouse may elect to be the successor Owner of the Contract by completing the spousal continuation section of the claim form submitted with due proof of your death. The date of continuance of the Contract will be the Valuation Date we receive due proof of your death. Your surviving spouse will become the Annuitant if no Annuitant is living at the time of your death. Spousal continuation will not satisfy minimum required distribution rules for Qualified Contracts other than IRAs.

If your surviving spouse elects to become the successor Owner of the Contract on your death, thereby waiving claim to the death benefit otherwise payable, we will not pay out a death benefit on your death. Any subsequent spouse of the surviving spouse will not be entitled to continue the Contract upon the death of the surviving spouse.

If any Owner dies on or after the Annuity Date, and before the entire interest in the Contract has been distributed, any remaining portion of such interest will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of death.

In all events, we will pay or apply the Contract's death benefit in accordance with Sections 72(s) or 401(a)(9) of the Code, as applicable.

8. Telephone and Facsimile Transactions

We currently permit requests for transfers to be submitted by telephone by calling 1-800-457-8803. Before telephone transfer instructions will be honored, you must complete a telephone transfer authorization. We also currently permit requests for certain financial transaction to be submitted by facsimile at 1-785-228-4539. We reserve the right to discontinue telephone and/or facsimile requests at any time.

We will employ reasonable procedures to determine that these transactions are genuine. There are risks associated with telephone and facsimile transactions that do not occur if an original handwritten request is submitted. Anyone authorizing or making telephone or facsimile requests bears those risks. We will not be liable for any liability or losses resulting from unauthorized or allegedly unauthorized telephone or facsimile requests that we believe are genuine. We may record telephone requests.

Also, telephone and facsimile transactions may not always be available, and telephone and facsimile systems, whether yours, your service provider's or your agent's, can experience outages or slowdowns for a variety of reasons (such as natural disasters, man-made disasters, or simply because of a high number of calls or facsimiles (which is likely to occur during periods of high market turbulence)). These outages or slowdowns may prevent or delay our receipt and/or processing of your request. If you are experiencing problems, you should make your request in writing to our Service Center.

9. Termination of Contract

Prior to the Annuity Date, we may terminate your Contract and pay you the Contract Value in one sum if:

- You have not made any Purchase Payments for one full year; and
- Your Contract Value at or after the end of such one-year period is less than $2,000; and
- We notified you in writing that your Contract is inactive and subject to termination, and six months following the date of this notice you have not made any Purchase Payments to increase your Contract Value to $2,000.

CONTRACT CHARGES AND EXPENSES

We deduct the following charges and expenses:

- mortality and expense risk charge,

- administration charge,
- contract fee, and
- premium tax.

There are no sales charges or sales loads associated with the Contract.

We may receive compensation from the investment advisers of the Funds for services related to the Funds. (See “The Funds”) Subject to certain expense limitations, investment management fees and other Fund expenses are indirectly borne by you.

The fees and charges we deduct under the Contract may result in a profit to us.

A. ASSET-BASED CHARGES

1. Mortality and Expense Risk Charge

During the Accumulation Period, we deduct a daily charge from your Contract Value equal to 0.60%, on an annual basis, of Contract Value. The mortality and expense risk charge reimburses us for mortality and expense risks. Our mortality risk arises from our obligation to continue making annuity payments to the Owner for the entire life of the Annuitant under Annuity Options involving life contingencies. We assume the risk that Annuitants will live beyond actuarial life expectancies. We also assume the risk that all administrative expenses including Contract maintenance costs, administrative costs, data processing costs, and costs of other services may exceed the mortality and expense risk charge.

We expect to profit from the mortality and expense risk charge. We may use any profits for any lawful purpose including covering distribution costs.

2. Administration Charge

During the Accumulation Period, we deduct a daily charge from your Contract Value equal to 0.15%, on an annual basis, of Contract Value. The administration charge reimburses us for expenses incurred for administering the Contracts. These expenses include your inquiries, changes in allocations, reports to you, Contract maintenance costs, and data processing costs. The administration charge covers the average anticipated administrative expenses incurred while the Contracts are in force. There is not necessarily a direct relationship between the amount of the charge and the administrative costs of the particular Contract.

B. CONTRACT FEE

During the Accumulation Period, we deduct a contract fee from your Contract Value on each Monthiversary that is equal to $30 on an annual basis. We will waive this fee if your Contract Value is $50,000 or more as of any Monthiversary we would otherwise deduct the fee. We deduct this fee pro-rata from the Subaccounts in which you invest in proportion to the Contract Value each Subaccount bears to the total Contract Value. We do not assess the contract fee upon surrender or annuitization.

The contract fee reimburses us for expenses incurred in establishing and maintaining Contract records.

C. INVESTMENT MANAGEMENT FEES AND OTHER EXPENSES

Each Fund’s net asset value reflects the deductions of investment management fees, Rule 12b-1 fees (if applicable), and certain general operating expenses. Subject to limitations, you indirectly bear these fees and expenses. Further detail is provided in the prospectuses for the Funds’ statements of additional information.

D. STATE PREMIUM TAXES

Certain state and local governments impose a premium tax currently ranging from 0% to 3.50% of Purchase Payments. If we pay state premium taxes, we will deduct the amount paid from:

- Purchase Payments when we receive them, and/or
- Partial withdrawals or full surrender, and/or
- The death benefit, and/or
- Contract Value applied to an Annuity Option at the time annuity payments start.

See “APPENDIX A—State Premium Tax Chart” in the Statement of Additional Information.

E. REDUCTION OR ELIMINATION OF CERTAIN CHARGES

We may reduce or eliminate the mortality and expense risk charge, the administration charge, and/or the contract fee and/or vary the time periods in which such charges apply if we anticipate lower administrative expenses and/or sales expenses for certain Contracts. These reductions or eliminations may be for Contracts purchased by employees and registered representatives of any broker-dealer which has entered into a selling agreement with us to sell the Contract, our employees or those of our affiliates (including employees of Goldman Sachs), officers, directors, trustees, and employees of any of the Funds or the investment advisers or sub-advisers of any of the Funds, and the spouses of and immediate family members (e.g., children, siblings, parents, and grandparents) residing in the same household with such eligible persons.

These reductions or eliminations also may be for Contracts sold in connection with certain group or sponsored arrangements. Group arrangements include those in which a trustee, an employer or an association purchases Contracts covering a group of individuals. Sponsored arrangements include those in which an employer or association allows us to offer Contracts to its employees or members on an individual basis.

In determining whether a particular Contract or group or sponsored arrangement qualifies for a reduced or eliminated charge or fee, we will consider among other factors:

- the size and type of group to which sales are to be made and administrative services provided, and the persistency expected from the group;
- the total amount of Purchase Payments to be received and the method in which they will be remitted;
- any prior or existing relationship with us;
- the level of commission paid to selling broker-dealers;
- the purpose for which the Contract is being purchased, and whether that purchase makes it likely that sales costs and administrative expenses will be reduced;
- the frequency of projected surrenders or distributions; and
- any other circumstances that reduce administrative and/or sales expenses.

We make any reductions or eliminations according to objective guidelines in effect when an application for a Contract is approved. We may change these guidelines from time to time. Any variation in the charges will reflect differences in costs or services and will be offered uniformly to all members of the group or sponsored arrangement, if applicable. In no event will a charge reduction or elimination be permitted if it is unfairly discriminatory to any person or prohibited by law.

THE ANNUITY PERIOD

Contracts may be fully annuitized under one of several Annuity Options, which are available on a fixed basis. States may require variations to the Contract. If a state variation applies, it will appear in the Contract, an endorsement to the Contract, or a supplement to this Prospectus. You may annuitize any time on or after your first Contract Anniversary. Annuity payments will begin on the Annuity Date under the Annuity Option you select. You may write to us prior to the payment of the death benefit or the first annuity payment date to request a change of the Annuity Date. Subject to state variation, the Annuity Date may not be later than the Valuation Date on or next following the later of: (1) ten years from the Date of Issue; or (2) the first day of the month following the month in which the Annuitant attains age 99. In the case of joint Annuitants, we will refer to the age of the older Annuitant. (See “FEDERAL TAX MATTERS, 1. Tax Deferral During Accumulation Period, Delayed Annuity Dates”.) We do not permit partial annuitization.

A. ANNUITY PAYMENTS

On the Annuity Date, we will transfer your Contract Value on the Annuity Date, less any applicable premium taxes, to our General Account. We apply an annuity factor for the Annuity Option that you selected to this value to determine the first fixed annuity payment. Each annuity payment will be equal to the first regardless of investment, mortality or expense experience, unless the Annuity Option selected specifies that there is to be a reduction in payments after the death of an Annuitant.

The amount of the first guaranteed annuity payment depends on:

- the selected Annuity Option; and
- the guaranteed interest rate and mortality assumption (for Annuity Options 2, 3, 4, and 5) (see “Basis of Annuity Options”); and
- for Annuity Options 2, 3, 4, and 5, the age and gender of the Annuitant; and
- the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes, on the Annuity Date; and
- the frequency of annuity payments.

The age of the Annuitant influences the amount of periodic annuity payments because an older Annuitant is expected to have a shorter life span, resulting in larger payments. Unless prohibited under state law and excluding certain employee plans, the sex of the Annuitant also influences the amount of periodic payments, where males are expected to have a shorter life span than females, also resulting in larger payments.

Annuity payments are subject to our financial strength and claims-paying ability.

B. ANNUITY OPTIONS

You may elect one of the Annuity Options. We must receive an election of an Annuity Option in writing at our Service Center at least 15 calendar days before the Annuity Date. If no Annuity Option is elected, monthly annuity payments will be made in accordance with Option 3 below if there is one Annuitant on the Annuity Date or under Option 5 if there are joint Annuitants on the Annuity Date. You may change an Annuity Option before the Annuity Date. You cannot change an Annuity Option after the first annuity payment is made. We reserve the right to add additional Annuity Options in the future.

We will cancel any election of an Annuity Option if, before the Annuity Date, there is: 1) a subsequent change of Beneficiary, or 2) an assignment of the Contract unless the assignment provides otherwise.

The Annuity Option selected must result in an initial payment that is at least equal to our minimum payment, according to our rules, at the time the Annuity Option is chosen. If the selected Annuity Option does not produce an initial payment which meets this minimum, we reserve the right to decrease the payment frequency to quarterly, semi-annually, or annually to meet this minimum, or to make a single lump sum payment.

If you die before the Annuity Date, available Annuity Options are limited. The Annuity Options available are:

- Option 2 over the lifetime of the Beneficiary, or
- Option 1 or 3 with a specified period or certain period no longer than the life expectancy of the Beneficiary. The life expectancy of the Beneficiary must be at least ten years as of the date that he or she elects Option 1 or Option 3.

The death benefit distribution must begin no later than one year from your death, unless a later date is permitted by federal regulation.

If the Beneficiary is not an individual, the entire interest must be distributed within five years of your death.

Option 1—Income for Specified Period

Option 1 provides an annuity payable monthly for ten years. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

Option 2—Life Income

Option 2 provides for an annuity payable monthly over the lifetime of the Annuitant. If Option 2 is elected, annuity payments terminate automatically and immediately on the Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments made. Thus, it is possible for you to receive only one payment if death occurred prior to the date the second payment was due.

Option 3—Life Income with Installments Guaranteed

Option 3 provides an annuity payable monthly for a certain period of ten years and thereafter during the Annuitant's lifetime. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

Option 4—Joint and Survivor Annuity

Option 4 provides an annuity payable monthly while both Annuitants are living. Upon either Annuitant's death, the monthly income payable continues over the life of the surviving Annuitant at 100% of the original payment. At the time the Annuity Option is chosen, we may offer other percentages of the original payment that continue over the life of the surviving Annuitant. Annuity payments terminate automatically and immediately upon the surviving Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments received.

Option 5—Joint and Survivor Annuity with Installments Guaranteed

Option 5 provides an annuity payable monthly for a certain period of ten years and thereafter while either Annuitant is alive. If you must take required minimum distributions from a Qualified Contract, consult a tax advisor before selecting this Option, as it may not satisfy those requirements in all situations.

When you are choosing an Annuity Option, you should consider that:

- for younger Annuitants, selecting Option 2—Life Income, might result in smaller monthly payments than selecting Option 1—Income for Specified Period; for older Annuitants, selecting Option 2—Life Income, might result in larger monthly payments than selecting Option 1—Income for Specified Period.
- selecting Option 2 means payments terminate automatically and immediately upon the Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments made. Thus, it is possible that only one payment will be received if death occurred prior to the date the second payment was due.
- selecting Option 3—Life Income with Installments Guaranteed, will result in smaller monthly payments than selecting Option 2—Life Income; however, the Owner or Beneficiary may receive more payments under Option 3 if the Annuitant dies before the end of the certain period
- selecting Option 4—Joint and Survivor Annuity, will result in smaller monthly payments than selecting Option 2—Life Income.
- selecting Option 4 means payments terminate automatically and immediately upon the surviving Annuitant's death without regard to the number or total amount of payments received. Thus, it is possible that only one payment will be received if both Annuitants die prior to the date the second payment was due.

In lieu of monthly payments, you may request quarterly, semi-annual, or annual payments, with our prior approval.

C. BASIS OF ANNUITY OPTIONS

Your Contract will contain tables for each Annuity Option that show the guaranteed monthly payment for each $1,000 applied to an Annuity Option. The guaranteed monthly payments are based on an interest rate of 1.50% per year and, where mortality is involved, the “Annuity 2000 Table” developed by the Society of Actuaries projected using 200% of Scale G to the year 2030. We may offer annuity rates that are more favorable than those contained in the Contract. Any such rates will be applied uniformly to all Owners of the same class.

D. DEATH PROCEEDS DURING THE ANNUITY PERIOD

If the Annuitant (or surviving joint Annuitant) dies during the Annuity Period, we will automatically continue any unpaid installments for the remainder of the certain period under Annuity Options 1, 3 or 5.

If an Owner, who is not also an Annuitant, dies after the Annuity Date, the following provisions apply:

- If the Owner was the sole Owner, the remaining annuity payments will be payable to the Beneficiary in accordance with the provisions described above. The Beneficiary will become the Owner of the Contract.
- If the Contract has joint Owners, the annuity payments will be payable to the surviving joint Owner in accordance with the provisions described above. Upon the death of the surviving joint Owner, the Beneficiary becomes the Owner.

E. PROTECTION OF BENEFITS

Unless otherwise provided in the supplementary agreement, the Owner may not commute, anticipate, assign, alienate or otherwise hinder the receipt of any annuity payment. Further, the proceeds of the Contract and any payment under an Annuity Option will be exempt from the claim of creditors and from legal process to the extent permitted by law.

F. AGE, GENDER AND SURVIVAL

We may require satisfactory evidence of the age, gender and the continued survival of any person on whose life the income is based.

If the Annuitant’s age or gender has been misstated, the amount payable under the Contract will be recalculated based on the correct age or gender. Subject to state variation, interest of 3% will be charged to any overpayment or credited to any underpayment against future payments we may make under the Contract.

In 1983, the United States Supreme Court held in Arizona Governing Committee v. Norris that optional annuity benefits provided under an employee’s deferred compensation plan could not, under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, vary between men and women on the basis of sex. In addition, legislative, regulatory, or decisional authority of some states may prohibit use of sex-distinct mortality tables under certain circumstances. The Contracts offered by this Prospectus are based upon actuarial tables that distinguish between men and women, and thus the Contract provides different benefits to men and women of the same age. Accordingly, employers and employee organizations should consider, in consultation with legal counsel, the impact of these authorities on any employment-related benefits program before purchasing the Contract. Where required by state law, or upon request of an employer or employee organization in connection with an employee plan, we may issue a Contract with annuity benefits based on female mortality rates, regardless of the sex of the Annuitant.

PAYMENTS TO CONTRACT OWNERS

Generally, we will make any death benefit, withdrawal, surrender, or annuity payment to you or effect any transfer within seven days after the Valuation Date we receive your proper request at our Service Center. However, we may suspend or postpone payments of any amount where permitted under applicable federal or state laws, rules, or regulations.

We may suspend or defer payments or transfers involving any Subaccount:

- during any period when the New York Stock Exchange is closed,

- when trading is restricted or the SEC determines an emergency exists, or
- as the SEC by order may permit.

We also may defer any annuity payment from our General Account for the period permitted by law.

Applicable laws designed to counter terrorism and prevent money laundering might, in certain circumstances, require us to block your ability to make certain transactions and thereby refuse to accept any Purchase Payment or requests for transfers, withdrawals, surrenders, annuitization, or the death benefit, until instructions are received from the appropriate regulator. We may also be required to provide additional information about you and your Contract to government regulators.

If you have submitted a recent check or draft that has not cleared through the banking system, we have the right to defer payment of a transfer, death benefit, withdrawal, surrender, or annuity payment until such check or draft has been honored.

FEDERAL TAX MATTERS

A. INTRODUCTION

This discussion is not exhaustive and is not intended as tax advice. A qualified tax adviser should always be consulted with regard to the application of the law to individual circumstances. This discussion is based on the Code, Treasury Department regulations, and interpretations existing on the date of this Prospectus. These authorities, however, are subject to change by Congress, the Treasury Department, and the courts.

This discussion does not address state or local tax consequences, nor federal estate or gift tax consequences, associated with buying a Contract. In addition, we make no guarantee regarding any tax treatment—federal, state, or local—of any Contract or of any transaction involving a Contract.

B. OUR TAX STATUS

We are taxed as a life insurance company and the operations of the Separate Account are treated as a part of our total operations. The Separate Account is not separately taxed as a “regulated investment company.” Investment income and capital gains of the Separate Account are not taxed to the extent they are applied under a contract. We do not anticipate that we will incur federal income tax liability attributable to the income and gains of the Separate Account, and therefore we do not intend to provide for these taxes. If we are taxed on investment income or capital gains of the Separate Account, then we may charge the Separate Account to pay these taxes.

C. TAXATION OF ANNUITIES IN GENERAL

1. Tax Deferral During Accumulation Period

Under the Code, except as described below, increases in the Contract Value of a Non-Qualified Contract are generally not taxable to the Owner or Annuitant until received as annuity payments or otherwise distributed. However, certain requirements must be satisfied for this general rule to apply, including:

- the Contract must be owned by an individual,
- Separate Account investments must be “adequately diversified”,
- we, rather than you, must be considered the Owner of Separate Account assets for federal tax purposes, and
- annuity payments must appropriately amortize Purchase Payments and Contract earnings.

Non-natural Owner. As a general rule, deferred annuity contracts held by “non-natural persons”, such as corporations, trusts or similar entities, are not annuity contracts for federal income tax purposes. The investment income on these contracts is taxed each year as ordinary income received or accrued by the non-natural Owner. There are exceptions to this general rule for non-natural Owners. Contracts are generally treated as held by a natural person if the nominal Owner is a trust or other entity holding the contract as an agent for a natural person. However, this special exception does not apply to an employer who is the nominal Owner of a contract under a non-qualified deferred compensation plan for its employees.

Additional exceptions to this rule include:

- certain Contracts acquired by a decedent’s estate due to the death of the decedent,
- certain Qualified Contracts,
- certain Contracts used with structured settlement agreements, and
- certain Contracts purchased with a single premium when the Annuity Date is no later than one year from Contract purchase and substantially equal periodic payments are made at least annually.

Diversification Requirements. For a Contract to be treated as an annuity for federal income tax purposes, separate account investments must be “adequately diversified”. The Treasury Secretary issued regulations prescribing standards for adequately diversifying separate account investments. If the Separate Account failed to comply with these diversification standards, the contract would not be treated as an annuity contract for federal income tax purposes and the Owner would generally be taxed on the difference between the contract value and the Purchase Payments.

Although we do not control Fund investments, we expect that each Fund will comply with these regulations so that each Subaccount of the Separate Account will be considered “adequately diversified.”

Ownership Treatment. In some circumstances, owners of variable contracts who retain excessive control over the investment of the underlying separate account assets may be treated as the owners of those assets and may be subject to tax on income produced by those assets. Although published guidance in this area does not address certain aspects of the Contracts, we believe that the Owner of a Contract should generally not be treated as the owner of any assets in the Separate Account, see, however, the discussion below on Publicly Available Funds. We reserve the right to modify the Contracts to bring them into conformity with applicable standards should such modification be necessary to prevent Owners of the Contracts from being treated as the owners of the underlying Separate Account assets.

Publicly-Available Funds. Several of the Funds offered through the Separate Account are also available to the general public. The IRS has ruled that investing in mutual funds shares that are “publicly-available,” i.e., shares of mutual funds that can be purchased directly without purchasing a variable annuity or life insurance contract, is incompatible with the investment control restrictions described in the previous paragraph. The IRS has ruled that most types of qualified contracts are not subject to the restrictions against investing in publicly-available mutual funds. We therefore believe that Qualified Contracts (other than those issued in connection with non-government 457 plans) may invest in publicly-available funds and remain exempt from current taxation until amounts are distributed or deemed to be distributed from the Contract. However, if a Non-Qualified Contract invests in Publicly-Available Funds, it will not be treated as an annuity contract for federal income tax purposes. For this purpose, a Contract purchased in connection with a non-government sponsored 457 plan is treated as a Non-Qualified Contract.

Accordingly, the Publicly-Available Funds under the Separate Account are intended only for Qualified Contracts. While we have established controls to avoid having a Non-qualified Contract invest in the Publicly-Available Funds, the Owner of a Non-Qualified Contract is responsible for ensuring that such an investment does not occur.

Required Distributions. In order to be treated as an annuity contract for federal income tax purposes, Section 72(s) of the Code requires any Non-Qualified Contract to contain certain provisions specifying how your interest in the Contract will be distributed in the event of the death of an Owner. Specifically, Section 72(s) requires that (a) if any Owner dies on or after the Annuity Date, but prior to the time the entire interest in the Contract has been distributed, the entire interest in the Contract will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of such Owner’s death; and (b) if any Owner dies prior to the Annuity Date, the entire interest in the Contract will be distributed within five years after the date of such Owner’s death. These requirements will be considered satisfied as to any portion of an Owner’s interest which is payable to or for the benefit of a designated Beneficiary and which is distributed over the life of such designated Beneficiary or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of that Beneficiary, provided that such distributions begin within one year of the Owner’s death. The designated Beneficiary refers to a natural person designated by the Owner as a Beneficiary and to whom ownership of the Contract passes by reason of death. However, if the designated Beneficiary is the surviving spouse of the deceased Owner, the Contract may be continued with the surviving spouse as the new Owner.

The Non-Qualified Contracts contain provisions that are intended to comply with these Code requirements, although no regulations interpreting these requirements have yet been issued. We intend to review such provisions and modify them if necessary to assure that they comply with the applicable requirements when such requirements are clarified by regulation or otherwise.

Other rules may apply to Qualified Contracts.

Transfers, Assignments, or Exchanges of a Contract. A transfer or assignment of ownership of a Contract, the designation of an Annuitant, the selection of certain Annuity Dates, or the exchange of a Contract may result in certain tax consequences to you that are not discussed herein. An Owner contemplating any such transfer, assignment, or exchange, should consult a tax advisor as to the tax consequences.

Delayed Annuity Dates. If the Annuity Date occurs (or is scheduled to occur) when the Annuitant has reached an advanced age, the Contract might not be treated as an annuity for federal income tax purposes. In that event, the income and gains under the Contract would be currently includible in your income.

The following discussion assumes that the Contract is treated as an annuity contract for tax purposes and that we are treated as the Owner of Separate Account assets.

2. Taxation of Partial and Full Withdrawals

Partial withdrawals from a Non-Qualified Contract are includible in income to the extent the Contract Value exceeds the “investment in the contract”. This amount is referred to as the “income on the contract”. Full withdrawals are also includible in income to the extent they exceed the “investment in the contract.” Investment in the contract equals the total of Purchase Payments minus any amounts previously received from the Contract that were not includible in your income. All amounts includible in income with respect to the Contract are taxed as ordinary income.

Any assignment or pledge (or agreement to assign or pledge) of Contract Value is treated as a withdrawal. Investment in the contract is increased by the amount includible in income with respect to such assignment or pledge. If you transfer a contract interest, without adequate consideration, to someone other than your spouse (or to a former spouse incident to divorce), you will be taxed on the income on the contract. In this case, the transferee’s investment in the contract is increased to reflect the increase in your income.

There may be special income tax issues present in situations where the Owner and the Annuitant are not the same person and are not married to one another. A tax adviser should be consulted in those situations.

Other rules may apply to Qualified Contracts.

3. Taxation of Annuity Payments

Normally, the portion of each annuity payment taxable as ordinary income equals the payment minus the exclusion amount. The exclusion amount for annuity payments is the payment times the ratio of the investment in the contract allocated to the Annuity Option and adjusted for any period certain or refund feature, to the expected value of the annuity payments.

Once the total amount of the investment in the contract has been recovered, annuity payments will be fully taxable. If annuity payments stop because the Annuitant dies before the total amount of the investment in the contract is recovered, the unrecovered amount generally is allowed as a deduction to the Annuitant in the last taxable year.

4. Taxation of Death Benefit

Amounts may be distributed upon your or the Annuitant’s death. A death benefit is includible in income and:

- if distributed in a lump sum is taxed like a full withdrawal, or
- if distributed under an Annuity Option is taxed like annuity payments.

5. Penalty Tax On Premature Distributions

A 10% penalty tax applies to a taxable payment from a Non-Qualified Contract unless:

- received on or after you reach age 59¹/₂,
- received due to your disability,
- made to a Beneficiary after your death or, for non-natural Owners, after the primary Annuitant’s death,
- made as a series of substantially equal periodic payments (at least annually) for your life (or life expectancy) or for the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of you and a designated Beneficiary (within the meaning of the tax law),

- made under a Contract purchased with a single premium when the Annuity Date is no later than one year from Contract purchase and substantially equal periodic payments are made at least annually,
- made with annuities used with certain structured settlement agreements.

Other exceptions may apply.

6. Aggregation of Contracts

The taxable amount of an annuity payment or withdrawal from a Non-Qualified Contract may be determined by combining some or all of the Non-Qualified Contracts you own. For example, if you purchase a Contract and also purchase an immediate annuity at approximately the same time, the IRS may treat the two contracts as one contract. Similarly, if a person transfers part of his interest in one annuity contract to purchase another annuity contract, the IRS might treat the two contracts as one contract. In addition, if you purchase two or more Non-Qualified deferred annuity contracts from the same company (or its affiliates) during any calendar year, these contracts are treated as one contract. The effects of this aggregation are not always clear. However, it could affect the taxable amount of an annuity payment or withdrawal and the amount which might be subject to the 10% penalty tax.

7. Exchange of Annuity Contracts

We may issue the Contract in exchange for all or part of another annuity contract that you own. Such an exchange will be tax free if certain requirements are satisfied. If the exchange is tax free, your investment in the contract immediately after the exchange will generally be the same as that of the annuity contract exchanged, increased by any additional Purchase Payment made as part of the exchange. Your Contract Value immediately after the exchange may exceed your investment in the contract. That excess may be includible in income should amounts subsequently be withdrawn or distributed from the Contract (e.g., as a partial surrender, full surrender, annuity income payment, or death benefit). If you exchange part of an existing annuity contract for the Contract, the IRS might treat the two contracts as one annuity contract in certain circumstances. (See “Aggregation of Contracts”) You should consult your tax adviser in connection with an exchange of all or part of an annuity contract for the Contract.

D. QUALIFIED PLANS

Currently, the Contracts are also available for use in connection with retirement plans which receive favorable treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code. Contracts offered for use in connection with retirement plans that receive favorable treatment under Sections 401, 403, 408, 408A or 457 of the Code (“Qualified Plans”) are referred to as “Qualified Contracts.” Numerous special tax rules apply to the participants in Qualified Plans and to Qualified Contracts. We make no attempt in this Prospectus to provide more than general information about use of the Contract with the various types of Qualified Plans. Persons intending to use the contract in connection with qualified plans should consult a tax adviser.

Under the Code, qualified plans generally enjoy tax-deferred accumulation amounts invested in the plan. Therefore, in considering whether or not to purchase a Contract in a qualified plan, you should consider the Contract’s features other than tax deferral, including the availability of lifetime annuity payments.

The tax rules applicable to Qualified Plans vary according to the type of plan and the terms and conditions of the plan. For example, for both withdrawals and annuity payments under certain Qualified Contracts, there may be no “investment in the contract” and the total amount received may be taxable. Both the amount of the contribution that may be made, and the tax deduction or exclusion that you may claim for such contribution, are limited under Qualified Plans. If the Contract is used with a Qualified Plan, you and the Annuitant must be the same individual. If a joint Annuitant is named, all distributions made while the Annuitant is alive must be made to the Annuitant. Also, if a joint Annuitant is named who is not the Annuitant’s spouse, the Annuity Options which are available may be limited, depending on the difference in their ages. Furthermore, the length of any guarantee period may be limited in some circumstances to satisfy certain minimum distribution requirements under the Code.

Qualified Contracts are subject to special rules specifying the time at which distributions must begin and the amount that must be distributed each year. In the case of Individual Retirement Annuities, distributions of minimum amounts must generally begin by April 1 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the Owner attains age 70¹/₂. The required beginning date for 401, 403 and 457 plans is the April 1 of the calendar year following the later of the year in which the Owner attains age 70¹/₂ or retires. There are no required minimum distributions during the Owner’s lifetime under Roth

IRAs. An excise tax is imposed for the failure to comply with the minimum distribution requirements. This excise tax generally equals 50% of the amount by which a minimum required distribution exceeds the actual distribution. The death benefit or other optional benefits under your Contract may affect the amount of the minimum required distribution that must be taken from your Contract.

A 10% penalty tax may apply to the taxable amount of payments from Qualified Contracts. For Individual Retirement Annuities, the penalty tax does not apply, for example, to a payment:

- received after you reach age 59¹/₂,
- received after your death or because of your disability, or
- made as a series of substantially equal periodic payments (at least annually) for your life (or life expectancy) or for the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of you and your designated Beneficiary.

In addition, the penalty tax does not apply to certain distributions used for qualified first time home purchases, higher education expenses or qualified military reservist distributions. Special conditions must be met to qualify for these exceptions. If you wish to take a distribution for these purposes you should consult your tax adviser. Other exceptions may also be available.

Qualified Contracts are amended to conform to tax qualification requirements. However, you are cautioned that the rights of any person to any benefits under Qualified Plans may be subject to the terms and conditions of the plans themselves, regardless of the terms and conditions of the Contract. In addition, we are not bound by terms and conditions of Qualified Plans if they are inconsistent with the Contract.

1. Qualified Plan Types

Individual Retirement Annuities. The Code permits eligible individuals to contribute to an individual retirement annuity known as an “IRA.” IRAs limit the amounts contributed, the persons eligible and the time when distributions start. Also, subject to direct rollover and mandatory withholding requirements, distributions from other types of qualified plans generally may be “rolled over” on a tax-deferred basis into an IRA. The Contract may not fund a “Coverdell Education Savings Account” (formerly known as an “Education IRA”).

Simplified Employee Pensions (SEP IRAs). The Code allows employers to establish simplified employee pension plans, using the employees’ IRAs. Under these plans the employer may make limited deductible contributions on behalf of the employees to IRAs. Employers and employees intending to use the Contract in connection with these plans should consult a tax adviser.

SIMPLE IRAs. The Code permits certain small employers to establish “SIMPLE retirement accounts,” including SIMPLE IRAs, for their employees. Under SIMPLE IRAs, certain deductible contributions are made by both employees and employers. SIMPLE IRAs are subject to various requirements, including limits on the amounts that may be contributed, the persons who may be eligible, and the time when distributions may commence. Employers and employees intending to use the Contract in connection with these plans should consult a tax adviser.

Roth IRAs. The Code permits contributions to an IRA known as a “Roth IRA.” Roth IRAs differ from other IRAs in certain respects, including:

- Roth IRA contributions are never deductible,
- “qualified distributions” from a Roth IRA are excludable from income,
- mandatory distribution rules do not apply before death,
- a rollover to a Roth IRA must be a “qualified rollover contribution,” under the Code,
- special eligibility requirements apply, and
- contributions to a Roth IRA can be made after the Owner has reached age 70¹/₂.

All or part of an IRA may be converted into a Roth IRA without taking an actual distribution. You may convert by notifying the IRA issuer or trustee. You must be eligible for a qualified rollover contribution to convert an IRA to a Roth IRA. A conversion typically results in the inclusion of some or all of the IRA value in gross income, except that the 10% penalty tax does not apply on the conversion. Persons with adjusted gross incomes in excess of $100,000 or who are married and file a separate return are not eligible to make a qualified rollover contribution or a transfer in a taxable year from a non-Roth IRA to a Roth IRA.

Any “qualified distribution”, as defined in Code Section 408A, from a Roth IRA is excludible from gross income. A qualified distribution includes a distribution made after you reach age 59^{1/2}, after your death, because of your disability, or made to a first-time homebuyer. A qualified distribution can only be made after the first five tax years after the year for which you (or your spouse) made a contribution to any Roth IRA established for your benefit.

Corporate and Self-employed (“H.R. 10” and “Keogh”) Pension and Profit-Sharing Plans. The Code permits corporate employers to establish types of tax-favored retirement plans for employees. The Self-Employed Individuals Tax Retirement Act of 1962, as amended, commonly referred to as “H.R. 10” or “Keogh” permits self-employed individuals also to establish such tax-favored retirement plans for themselves and their employees. Such retirement plans may permit the purchase of the Contracts in order to provide benefits under the plans.. Employers intending to use the Contract in connection with such plans should seek competent advice.

Tax-sheltered Annuities. Code Section 403(b) permits public school employees and employees of certain types of charitable, educational and scientific organizations to have their employers purchase annuity contracts for them and, subject to certain limitations, to exclude the amount of Purchase Payments from taxable gross income. These annuity contracts are commonly referred to as “tax-sheltered annuities”. If you purchase a Contract for such purposes, you should seek competent advice as to eligibility, limitations on permissible amounts of Purchase Payments and other tax consequences associated with the Contracts.

Tax-sheltered annuity contracts must contain restrictions on withdrawals of:

- contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement in years beginning after December 31, 1988,
- earnings on those contributions, and
- earnings after December 31, 1988 on amounts attributable to salary reduction contributions held as of December 31, 1988.

These amounts can be paid only if you have reached age 59^{1/2}, severed employment, died, or becomes disabled (within the meaning of the tax law), or in the case of hardship (within the meaning of the tax law). Amounts permitted to be distributed in the event of hardship are limited to actual contributions; earnings thereon cannot be distributed on account of hardship. Amounts subject to the withdrawal restrictions applicable to Section 403(b)(7) custodial accounts may be subject to more stringent restrictions. (These limitations on withdrawals generally do not apply to the extent you direct us to transfer some or all of the Contract Value to the issuer of another tax-sheltered annuity or into a Section 403(b)(7) custodial account.)

For Contracts issued after December 31, 2008, amounts attributable to contributions other than salary reduction contributions generally may not be distributed before severance of employment or occurrence of an event specified in the employer’s Section 403(b) plan.

If you are a participant in the Texas Optional Retirement Program, you may not take withdrawals before death, disability, retirement, or termination from employment in the Texas public institutions of higher education, as provided in the Texas Optional Retirement Program. (You are, however, permitted to make transfers of Contract Value among the Subaccounts.)

Deferred Compensation Plans of State and Local Governments and Tax-Exempt Organizations. The Code permits employees of state and local governments and tax-exempt organizations to defer a portion of their compensation without paying current taxes. The employees must be participants in an eligible deferred compensation plan. Generally, a Contract purchased by a state or local government or a tax-exempt organization will not be treated as an annuity contract for federal income tax purposes. Those who intend to use the Contracts in connection with such plans should seek competent advice.

2. Direct Rollovers

If the Contract is used with a retirement plan that is qualified under Sections 401(a), 403(a), or 403(b) of the Code or with an eligible government deferred compensation plan that is qualified under Section 457(b), any “eligible rollover distribution” from the Contract will be subject to “direct rollover” and mandatory withholding requirements. An eligible rollover distribution generally is any distribution from such a qualified retirement plan, excluding certain amounts such as:

- minimum distributions required under Section 401(a)(9) of the Code,
- certain distributions for life, life expectancy, or for ten years or more which are part of a “series of substantially equal periodic payments,” and
- hardship distributions.

Under these requirements, federal income tax equal to 20% of the taxable portion of the eligible rollover distribution will be withheld from the amount of the distribution. Unlike withholding on certain other amounts distributed from the Contract, discussed below, you cannot elect out of withholding with respect to an eligible rollover distribution. However, this 20% withholding will not apply if, instead of receiving the eligible rollover distribution, you elect to have it directly transferred to certain types of qualified retirement plans. Prior to receiving an eligible rollover distribution, a notice will be provided explaining generally the direct rollover and mandatory withholding requirements and how to avoid the 20% withholding by electing a direct rollover.

E. FEDERAL INCOME TAX WITHHOLDING

We withhold and send to the U.S. Government a part of the taxable portion of each distribution unless you notify us before distribution of an available election not to have any amounts withheld. In certain circumstances, we may be required to withhold tax. The withholding rates for the taxable portion of periodic annuity payments are the same as the withholding rates for wage payments. In addition, the withholding rate for the taxable portion of non-periodic payments (including withdrawals prior to the maturity date and conversions of, or rollovers from, non-Roth IRAs to Roth IRAs) is 10%. The withholding rate for eligible rollover distributions is 20%.

F. OTHER TAX ISSUES

1. Federal Estate Taxes

While no attempt is being made to discuss the federal estate tax implications of the Contract, a purchaser should keep in mind that the value of an annuity contract owned by a decedent and payable to a beneficiary by virtue of surviving the decedent is included in the decedent’s gross estate. Depending on the terms of the annuity contract, the value of the annuity included in the gross estate may be the value of the lump sum payment payable to the designated beneficiary or the actuarial value of the payments to be received by the beneficiary. Consult an estate planning advisor for more information.

2. Generation-skipping Transfer Tax

Under certain circumstances, the Code may impose a “generation skipping transfer tax” when all or part of an annuity contract is transferred to, or a death benefit is paid to, an individual two or more generations younger than the Owner. Regulations issued under the Code may require us to deduct the tax from your Contract, or from any applicable payment, and pay it directly to the IRS.

3. Annuity Purchases by Residents of Puerto Rico

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that income received by residents of Puerto Rico under life insurance or annuity contracts issued by a Puerto Rico branch of a United States life insurance company is U.S.-source income that is generally subject to United States federal income tax.

4. Annuity Purchases by Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Corporations

The discussion above provides general information regarding U.S. federal income tax consequences to annuity purchasers that are U.S. citizens or residents. Purchasers that are not U.S. citizens or residents will generally be subject to U.S. federal withholding tax on taxable distributions from annuity contracts at a 30% rate, unless a lower treaty rate applies. In addition, purchasers may be subject to state and/or municipal taxes and taxes that may be imposed by the purchaser's country of citizenship or residence. Prospective purchasers are advised to consult with a qualified tax adviser regarding U.S. state, and foreign taxation with respect to an annuity contract purchase.

5. Foreign Tax Credits

We may benefit from any foreign tax credits attributable to taxes paid by certain Funds to foreign jurisdictions to the extent permitted under federal tax law.

6. Possible Tax Law Changes

Although the likelihood of legislative changes is uncertain, there is always the possibility that the tax treatment of the Contract could change by legislation or otherwise. Consult a tax adviser with respect to legislative developments and their effect on the Contract. We have the right to modify the contract in response to legislative changes that could otherwise diminish the favorable tax treatment that annuity contract Owners currently receive. We make no guarantee regarding the tax status of any contact and do not intend the above discussion as tax advice.

DISTRIBUTION OF CONTRACTS

The Contracts are distributed through the principal underwriter for the Separate Account:

Epoch Securities, Inc. ("Distributor")
One New York Plaza, New York, NY 10004
Mailing Address: 30 Hudson St., 27th Floor, Jersey City, NJ 07032
132 Turnpike Road, Suite 210, Southborough, MA 01772

The Distributor is a wholly-owned subsidiary of The Goldman Sachs Group, Inc. We reimburse the Distributor for sales of the Contracts by selling firms. We also pay amounts to Distributor that may be used for its operating and other expenses, including: advertising expenses and other expenses of distributing the Contracts. Distributor's management team also may be eligible for non-cash compensation items that we may provide jointly with Distributor. Non-cash items include conferences, seminars and trips (including travel, lodging and meals in connection therewith), entertainment, merchandise and other similar items.

Selling Firms. We and Distributor have entered into selling agreements with selling firms for the sale of the Contracts. All selling firms receive commissions and some form of non-cash compensation. Selected selling firms may receive additional compensation, including marketing allowances, persistency payments, preferred status fees and industry conference fees. These commissions and other incentives or payments, if any, are not charged directly to Contract Owners or the Separate Account. We intend to recoup commissions and other sales expenses through fees and charges deducted under the Contract or from our General Account. A portion of the payments made to selling firms may be passed on to their sales representatives in accordance with their internal compensation programs. Those programs may also include other types of cash and non-cash compensation and other benefits.

Compensation Paid to All Selling Firms. We and Distributor pay compensation to all selling firms in the form of commissions and certain types of non-cash compensation. The maximum commission payable for Contract sales by selling firms is trail commissions up to [0.50]% of Contract Value on an annual basis for so long as the Contract remains in effect or as agreed in the selling agreement. Distributor may also provide non-cash compensation items that we may provide jointly with Distributor. Non-cash items include expenses for conference or seminar trips and certain gifts.

Additional Compensation for Selected Selling Firms. We and Distributor may pay additional compensation to selected selling firms, including marketing allowances, persistency payments, preferred status fees and industry conference fees. Marketing allowances are periodic payments to certain selling firms based on cumulative sales of our variable insurance contracts (including the Contracts). Persistency payments are periodic payments based on contract values of our variable insurance contracts (including Contract Values of the Contracts) or other persistency standards. Preferred status fees are paid to obtain preferred treatment of the Contracts in selling firms' marketing programs, which may include marketing services and increased access to their sales representatives. Industry conference fees are amounts paid to cover in part the costs associated with sales conferences and educational seminars for selling firms' sales representatives.

The additional types of compensation discussed above are not offered to all selling firms. The terms of any particular agreement governing compensation may vary among selling firms and the amounts may be significant. The prospect of receiving, or the receipt of, additional compensation as described above may provide selling firms and/or their sales representatives with an incentive to favor sales of the Contracts over other variable annuity contracts (or other investments) with respect to which a selling firm does not receive additional compensation, or lower levels of additional compensation. You may wish to take such payment arrangements into account when considering and evaluating any recommendation relating to the Contracts. For more information about any such arrangements, ask your sales representative for further information about what your sales representative and the selling firm for which he or she works may receive in connection with your purchase of a Contract.

VOTING RIGHTS

Proxy materials in connection with any Fund shareholder meeting are delivered or made available to each Owner with Subaccount interests invested in the Fund as of the record date. Proxy materials include a voting instruction form. It is important that each Owner provide voting instructions to us because we vote all Fund shares proportionately in accordance with instructions received from Owners. This means that we will vote shares for which no timely instructions are received in the same proportion as those shares for which we do receive voting instructions. As a result, a small number of Owners may control the outcome of a vote. We will also vote any Fund shares attributed to amounts we have accumulated in the Subaccounts in the same proportion that Owners vote. A Fund is not required to hold annual shareholders' meetings. Funds hold special meetings as required or deemed desirable for such purposes as electing trustees, changing fundamental policies or approving an investment advisory agreement.

Owners have voting rights in a Fund based upon the Owner's proportionate interest in the corresponding Subaccount as measured by units. Owners have voting rights before the Annuity Date, surrender, or the death of an Owner.

REPORTS TO CONTRACT OWNERS AND INQUIRIES

Each calendar quarter we send you a statement showing amounts credited to each Subaccount. In addition, if you transfer amounts among the Subaccounts or make additional Purchase Payments, you receive written confirmation of these transactions. We will also send a current statement upon your request. We also send you annual and semi-annual reports for the Funds that underlie the Subaccounts in which you invest and a list of the securities held by that Fund. Read all reports carefully. If you find any errors, please contact us promptly to correct them.

You will have access to Contract information through the Interactive Voice Response System (IVR) at 1-800-457-8803. You will also be able to access your account information from our website at www.commonwealthannuity.com.

You may direct inquiries to the selling agent or may call or write to us at our Service Center.

DOLLAR COST AVERAGING

Under our Dollar Cost Averaging ("DCA") program, a predesignated portion of any Subaccount is automatically transferred on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis for a specified duration to other Subaccounts. If you elect this program, you cannot elect Automatic Asset Rebalancing. There is no charge associated with our DCA program.

The theory of a DCA program is that by investing at regular and level increments over time, you will be able to purchase more Accumulation Units when the Accumulation Unit value is relatively low and less Accumulation units when the Accumulation Unit value is relatively high. DCA generally helps reduce the risk of purchasing Accumulation Units when market prices are high and selling when market prices are low. However, participation in the DCA program does not assure you of greater profit from your purchases under the program, nor will it prevent or necessarily reduce losses in a declining market. Moreover, while we refer to this program of periodic transfers generally as Dollar Cost Averaging, periodic transfers from a Subaccount that does not maintain a stable net asset value are less likely to produce the desired effect of the DCA program and may have the effect of reducing the average price of the Subaccount shares being redeemed. If you choose to participate in this program you should have the financial ability to continue making transfers through periods of fluctuating markets.

The Owner may select any day of the month except for the 29th, 30th or 31st for the DCA transfers to occur. The Dollar Cost Averaging program is available only during the Accumulation Period. You may enroll any time by completing our Dollar Cost Averaging form. We must receive the enrollment form at least five business days before the transfer date.

At the time Dollar Cost Averaging is elected, the total Contract Value in the Subaccount from which transfers will be made must be at least equal to the amount designated to be transferred on each transfer date times the duration selected.

Dollar Cost Averaging ends if:

- the number of designated monthly transfers has been completed,
- Contract Value in the transferring account is insufficient to complete the next transfer; the remaining amount is transferred,
- we receive your written termination at our Service Center at least five business days before the next transfer date, or
- the Contract is surrendered or annuitized.

AUTOMATIC ASSET REBALANCING

We currently offer Automatic Asset Rebalancing on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual, or annual basis. If you elect this program, you cannot elect Dollar Cost Averaging. There is currently no charge for this service.

Under Automatic Asset Rebalancing, we will allocate your Purchase Payments and rebalance your Contract Value monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually to maintain the particular percentage allocation among the Subaccounts that you select based on your investment goals and risk tolerance. Rebalancing of your Contract Value will occur on the initial rebalancing date you select and then each rebalancing date thereafter. The initial date you select cannot be earlier than 30 days from the Date of Issue. If based on your selected date, rebalancing would occur on a date that is not a Valuation Date, the rebalancing will occur on the Valuation Date following your selected date. You may change the frequency of Automatic Asset Rebalancing at any time.

We perform this periodic rebalancing to take account of:

- increases and decreases in Contract Value in each Subaccount due to Subaccount performance, and
- increases and decreases in Contract Value in each Subaccount due to withdrawals, transfers, and Purchase Payments.

You may elect Automatic Asset Rebalancing at any time on or after the Date of Issue by submitting a written request to our Service Center. If you elect Automatic Asset Rebalancing, you must include all Contract Value in the program. We allocate all Purchase Payments paid under an automatic investment feature and, unless you instruct us otherwise, all other Purchase Payments in accordance with the particular percentage allocation among the Subaccounts that you have selected. The percentages that you select under Automatic Asset Rebalancing will override any prior percentage allocations that you have chosen and we will allocate all future Purchase Payments. You may change your allocations at any time. Once elected, you may instruct us, in a form satisfactory to us, at any time to terminate the program. We reserve the right to make changes to this program at any time.

SYSTEMATIC WITHDRAWAL PLAN

We offer a Systematic Withdrawal Plan (“SWP”) allowing you to preauthorize periodic withdrawals during the Accumulation Period. You instruct us to withdraw selected amounts from any of the Subaccounts on a monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis. Withdrawals taken under the SWP may be subject to premium taxes, the 10% tax penalty on early withdrawals, and income taxes and withholding. If you are interested in SWP, you may obtain an application and information concerning this program and its restrictions from us or your agent. We give thirty days’ notice if we amend the SWP. The SWP may be terminated at any time by you or us. The SWP automatically terminates if a withdrawal would reduce the Contract Value below $2,000. There is no charge associated with the SWP.

GENERAL CONTRACT PROVISIONS

A. CONTRACT MODIFICATION

We reserve the right to amend the Contract to meet the requirements of federal or state laws or regulations. Only our President, Vice President, Secretary, or Assistant Secretaries may change the Contract. No one else has authority to modify or waive any provision of the Contract. Any change must be in writing. At any time, we may make such changes to the Contract, without your consent, as required to make it conform with any law, regulation, or ruling issued by a government agency. We will notify you of such changes and when required will obtain approval from the appropriate regulatory authority and you.

B. ENTIRE CONTRACT

The Contract, any written application attached to the Contract, and any endorsements and riders constitute the entire contract between the parties. All statements made in any attached application are deemed representations and not warranties. No statement will void the Contract or be used as a defense of a claim unless it is contained in an attached application.

C. INCONTESTABILITY

We cannot contest the Contract after it has been in force for two years from the Date of Issue, subject to state variation.

D. NON-PARTICIPATING

The Contract does not pay dividends. It will not share in our surplus or earnings.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

There are no legal proceedings to which we, the Separate Account or the Distributor is a party, or to which the assets of the Separate Account are subject, that are likely to have a material adverse effect on:

- the Separate Account; or
- the ability of the Distributor to perform its contract with the Separate Account; or
- on our ability to meet our obligations under the variable annuity contracts funded through the Separate Account.

FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Financial Statements for Commonwealth Annuity and for its Separate Account are included in the Statement of Additional Information.

APPENDIX A

COMMONWEALTH ANNUITY AND LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY DEFERRED VARIABLE ANNUITY IRA, ROTH IRA AND SIMPLE IRA DISCLOSURE STATEMENT

This Disclosure Statement describes the statutory and regulatory provisions applicable to the operation of traditional Individual Retirement Annuities (IRAs), Roth Individual Retirement Annuities (Roth IRAs) and Simple Individual Retirement Annuities (SIMPLE IRAs). Internal Revenue Service regulations require that this be given to each person desiring to establish an IRA, Roth IRA or a SIMPLE IRA. Except where otherwise indicated, IRA discussion includes Simplified Employee Pension IRAs (SEP IRA). Further information can be obtained from Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company and from any district office of the Internal Revenue Service. Also, see IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs).

This Disclosure Statement is for your general information and is not intended to be exhaustive or conclusive, to apply to any particular person or situation, or to be used as a substitute for qualified legal or tax advice.

Please note that the information contained herein is based on current federal income tax law, income tax regulations, and other guidance provided by the IRS. Hence, this information is subject to change upon an amendment of the law or the issuance of further regulations or other guidance. Also, you should be aware that state tax laws may differ from federal tax laws governing such arrangements. You should consult your tax adviser about any state tax consequences of your IRA or Roth IRA, whichever is applicable.

A. REVOCATION

Within 7 days of the date you signed your enrollment application, you may revoke the Contract and receive back 100% of your money by submitting your request in writing to us at our Service Center. Notice of revocation will be deemed mailed on the date of the postmark (or if sent by certified or registered mail, the date of the certification or registration) if it is deposited in the mail in the United States in an envelope, or other appropriate wrapper, first class postage prepaid, properly addressed.

B. STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS

The Contract is intended to meet the requirements of Section 408(b) of the Code, Section 408A of the Code for use as a Roth IRA, or of Section 408(p) of the Code for use as a SIMPLE IRA, whichever is applicable. The Contract has not been approved as to form for use as an IRA, Roth IRA or a SIMPLE IRA by the Internal Revenue Service. Such approval by the Internal Revenue Service is a determination only as to form of the Contract, and does not represent a determination on the merits of the Contract.

1. The amount in your IRA, Roth IRA, and SIMPLE IRA, whichever is applicable, must be fully vested at all times and the entire interest of the Owner must be nonforfeitable.
2. The Contract must be nontransferable by the Owner.
3. The Contract must have flexible premiums.
4. For IRAs and SIMPLE IRAs, you must start receiving distributions on or before April 1 of the year following the year in which you reach age 70¹/₂ (the required beginning date) (see "Required Distributions"). However, Section 401(a)(9)(A) of the Code (relating to minimum distributions required to commence at age 70¹/₂), and the incidental death benefit requirements of Section 401(a) of the Code, do not apply to Roth IRAs.

If you die on or after the date required minimum distributions under Section 401(a)(9) of the Code commence, unless otherwise permitted under applicable law, any remaining interest in the Contract must be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of death. If you die before required minimum distributions commence, unless otherwise permitted under applicable law, any remaining interest in the Contract must be distributed to your Beneficiary by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of your death; except that: (1) if the interest is payable to an individual who is your designated Beneficiary (within the meaning of Section 401(a)(9) of the Code), the designated Beneficiary may receive the entire interest over his or her life, or over a period certain not extending beyond his or her life expectancy, commencing on or before December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which you die; and (2) if the sole designated Beneficiary is your spouse, the Contract may be treated as his or her own IRA, or, where applicable, Roth IRA.

5. Except in the case of a rollover contribution or a direct transfer (see “Rollovers and Direct Transfers”), or a contribution made in accordance with the terms of a Simplified Employee Pension (SEP), all contributions to an IRA, Roth and SIMPLE IRA must be cash contributions which do not exceed certain limits.

6. The Contract must be for the exclusive benefit of you and your Beneficiaries.

C. ROLLOVERS AND DIRECT TRANSFERS FOR IRAS AND SIMPLE IRAS

1. A rollover is a tax-free transfer from one retirement program to another that you cannot deduct on your tax return. There are two kinds of tax-free rollover payments to an IRA. In one, you transfer amounts from another IRA. With the other, you transfer amounts from a qualified plan under Section 401(a) of the Code, a qualified annuity under Section 403(a) of the Code, a tax-sheltered annuity or custodial account under Section 403(b) of the Code, or a governmental plan under Section 457(b) of the Code (collectively referred to as “qualified employee benefit plans”). Tax-free rollovers can be made from a SIMPLE IRA to a SIMPLE Individual Retirement Account under Section 408(p) of the Code. An individual can make a tax-free rollover to an IRA from a SIMPLE IRA, or vice-versa, after a two-year period has expired since the individual first participated in a SIMPLE plan.

2. You must complete the rollover by the 60th day after the day you receive the distribution from your IRA or other qualified employee benefit plan or SIMPLE IRA. The failure to satisfy this 60-day requirement may be waived by the Internal Revenue Service in certain circumstances.

3. A rollover distribution may be made to you only once a year. The one-year period begins on the date you receive the rollover distribution, not on the date you roll it over (reinvest it).

4. A trustee-to-trustee transfer to an IRA of funds in an IRA from one trustee or insurance company to another is not a rollover. It is a transfer that is not affected by the one-year waiting period.

5. All or a part of the premium for the Contract used as an IRA may be paid from a rollover from an IRA or qualified employee benefit plan or from a trustee-to-trustee transfer from another IRA. All or part of the premium for the Contract used as a SIMPLE IRA may be paid from a rollover from a SIMPLE Individual Retirement Account or, to the extent permitted by law, from a direct transfer from a SIMPLE IRA.

6. A distribution that is eligible for rollover treatment from a qualified employee benefit plan will be subject to twenty percent (20%) withholding by the Internal Revenue Service even if you roll the distribution over within the 60-day rollover period. One way to avoid this withholding is to make the distribution as a direct transfer to the IRA trustee or insurance company.

D. CONTRIBUTION LIMITS AND ALLOWANCE OF DEDUCTION FOR IRAS

1. In general, the amount you can contribute each year to an IRA is the lesser of (1) 100% of your compensation, or (2) the maximum annual contributions under Section 219(b) of the Code, including “catch-up” contributions for certain individuals age 50 and older. The maximum annual contribution limit for IRA contributions is equal to $5,000 for 2008 and 2009. After 2009, the limit may be indexed annually in $500 increments as determined by the Secretary of Treasury to reflect cost of living increases. An individual who has attained age 50 may make additional “catch-up” IRA contributions. The maximum annual contribution limit for the individual is increased by $1,000 except as otherwise provided by law. If you have more than one IRA, the limit applies to the total contributions made to your own IRAs for the year. Generally, if you work the amount that you earn is compensation. Wages, salaries, tips, professional fees, bonuses and other amounts you receive for providing personal services are compensation. If you own and operate your own business as a sole proprietor, your net earnings reduced by your deductible contributions on your behalf to self-employed retirement plans are compensation. If you are an active partner in a partnership and provide services to the partnership, your share of partnership income reduced by deductible contributions made on your behalf to qualified retirement plans is compensation. All taxable alimony and separate maintenance payments received under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance is compensation.

2. In the case of a married couple filing a joint return, up to the maximum annual contribution can be contributed to each spouse's IRA, even if one spouse has little or no compensation. This means that the total combined contributions that can be made to both IRAs can be as much as $12,000 for 2009 ($5,000 annual contribution for each individual, plus $1,000 for each individual who has attained age 50).

3. In the case of a married couple with unequal compensation who file a joint return, the limit on the deductible contributions to the IRA of the spouse with less compensation is the smaller of:

- a. The maximum annual contribution, or
- b. The total compensation of both spouses, reduced by any deduction allowed for contributions to IRAs of the spouse with more compensation.

The deduction for contributions to both spouses' IRAs may be further limited if either spouse is covered by an employer retirement plan.

4. If either you or your spouse is an active participant in an employer-sponsored plan and have a certain level of income, the amount of the contribution to your IRA that is deductible is phased out, and in some cases eliminated. If you are an active participant in an employer-sponsored plan, the deductibility of your IRA contribution will be phased out, depending on your adjusted gross income, or combined adjusted gross income in the case of a joint tax return, as follows:

Joint Returns: $89,000-$109,000

Single Taxpayers: $55,000-$65,000

The phase-out range for married individuals filing separately is $0-$10,000. If you file a joint tax return and are not an active participant in an employer sponsored plan, but your spouse is, the amount of the deductible IRA contribution is phased out for adjusted gross income between $166,000 and $176,000. These amounts may be indexed for cost of living increases in future years.

To designate a contribution as nondeductible, you must file IRS Form 8606, Nondeductible IRAs. You may have to pay a penalty if you make nondeductible contributions to an IRA and you do not file Form 8606 with your tax return, or if you overstate the amount of nondeductible contributions on your Form 8606. If you do not report nondeductible contributions, all of the contributions to your traditional IRA will be treated as deductible, and all distributions from your IRA will be taxed, unless you can show, with satisfactory evidence, that nondeductible contributions were made.

5. Contributions to your IRA for a year can be made at any time up to April 15 of the following year. If you make the contribution between January 1 and April 15, however, you may elect to treat the contribution as made either in that year or in the preceding year. You may file a tax return claiming a deduction for your IRA contribution before the contribution is actually made. You must, however, make the contribution by the due date of your return not including extensions.

6. You cannot make a contribution other than a rollover or transfer contribution to your IRA for the year in which you reach age 70^{1/2} or thereafter.

7. A taxpayer may qualify for a tax credit for contributions to an IRA, or for a tax exemption for distributions donated to charity in 2009, depending on the taxpayer's adjusted gross income.

E. SEP IRAs

1. SEP IRA rules concerning eligibility and contributions are governed by Code Section 408(k). The maximum deductible contribution for a SEP IRA is the lesser of $49,000 (may be indexed for cost-of-living increases in future years) or 100% of compensation.

2. A SEP must be established and maintained by an employer (corporation, partnership, sole proprietor).

F. SIMPLE IRAs

1. A SIMPLE IRA must be established with your employer using a qualified salary reduction agreement.
2. You may elect to have your employer contribute to your SIMPLE IRA, under a qualified salary reduction agreement, an amount (expressed as a percentage of your compensation) not to exceed $11,500 for 2009. After 2009, the limit may be indexed annually, except as otherwise provided by law. In addition to these employee elective contributions, your employer is required to make each year either (1) a matching contribution equal to up to 3 percent, and not less than 1 percent, of your SIMPLE IRA contribution for the year, or (2) a non-elective contribution equal to 2 percent of your compensation for the year (up to $245,000 of compensation, as may be adjusted for inflation in future years). No other contributions may be made to a SIMPLE IRA.
3. Employee elective contributions and employer contributions (i.e., matching contributions and nonelective contributions) to your SIMPLE IRA are excluded from your gross income.
4. To the extent an individual with a SIMPLE IRA is no longer participating in a SIMPLE plan (e.g., the individual has terminated employment), and two years have passed since the individual first participated in the plan, the individual may treat the SIMPLE IRA as an IRA.

G. TAX STATUS OF THE CONTRACT AND DISTRIBUTIONS FOR IRAs AND SIMPLE IRAs

1. Earnings of your IRA annuity contract are not taxed until they are distributed to you.
2. In general, taxable distributions are included in your gross income in the year you receive them.
3. Distributions under your IRA are non-taxable to the extent they represent a return of non-deductible contributions (if any). The non-taxable percentage of a distribution is determined generally by dividing your total undistributed, non-deductible IRA contributions by the value of all your IRAs (including SEPs and rollovers).
4. You cannot choose the special five-year or ten-year averaging that may apply to lump sum distributions from qualified employer plans.

H. REQUIRED DISTRIBUTIONS FOR IRAs AND SIMPLE IRAs

You must start receiving minimum distributions required under the Contract and Section 401(a)(9) of the Code from your IRA and SIMPLE IRA starting with the year you reach age 70^{1/2} (your 70^{1/2} year). Ordinarily, the required minimum distribution for a particular year must be received by December 31 of that year. However, you may delay the required minimum distribution for the year you reach age 70^{1/2} until April 1 of the following year (i.e., the required beginning date).

Annuity payments which begin by April 1 of the year following your 70^{1/2} year satisfy the minimum distribution requirement if they provide for non-increasing payments over your life or the lives of you and your designated Beneficiary (within the meaning of Section 401(a)(9) of the Code), provided that, if installments are guaranteed, the guaranty period does not exceed the applicable life or joint expectancy.

The applicable life expectancy is your remaining life expectancy or the remaining joint life and last survivor expectancy of you and your designated Beneficiary, determined as set forth in applicable federal income tax regulations.

If you have more than one IRA, you must determine the required minimum distribution separately for each IRA; however, you can take the actual distributions of these amounts from any one or more of your IRAs.

In addition, the after-death minimum distribution requirements described generally in section B. STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS apply to IRAs and SIMPLE IRAs.

If the actual distribution from your Contract is less than the minimum amount that should be distributed in accordance with the minimum distribution requirements mentioned above, the difference generally is an excess accumulation. There is a 50% excise tax on any excess accumulations. If the excess accumulation is due to reasonable error, and you have taken (or are taking) steps to remedy the insufficient distribution, you can request that this 50% excise tax be excused by filing with your tax return an IRS Form 5329, together with a letter of explanation and the excise tax payment.

I. ROTH IRAs

1. If your Contract is a special type of individual retirement plan known as a Roth IRA, it will be administered in accordance with the requirements of section 408A of the Code. Roth IRAs are treated the same as other IRAs, except as described here.

2. If your Contract is a Roth IRA, we will send you a Roth IRA endorsement to be attached to, and to amend, your Contract. We reserve the right to amend the Contract as necessary or advisable from time to time to comply with future changes in the Code, regulations or other requirements imposed by the IRS to obtain or maintain its approval of the annuity as a Roth IRA.

3. Earnings in your Roth IRA are not taxed until they are distributed to you, and will not be taxed if they are paid as a “qualified distribution,” as described to you in section L, below.

4. The minimum distribution requirements that apply to IRAs do not apply to Roth IRAs while the Owner is alive. However, after the death of a Roth IRA Owner, the after-death minimum distribution rules that apply to IRAs also apply to Roth IRAs as though the Roth IRA Owner died before his or her required beginning date. You may not use your Roth IRA to satisfy minimum distribution requirements for traditional IRAs. Nor may you use distributions from an IRA for required distributions from a Roth IRA.

J. ELIGIBILITY AND CONTRIBUTIONS FOR ROTH IRAs

1. Generally, you are eligible to establish or make a contribution to your Roth IRA only if you meet certain income limits. No deduction is allowed for contributions to your Roth IRA. Contributions to your Roth IRA may be made even after you attain age 70^{1/2}.

2. The maximum aggregate amount of contributions for any taxable year to all IRAs, including all Roth IRAs, maintained for your benefit (the “contribution limit”) generally is the lesser of (1) 100% of your compensation, or (2) the maximum annual contributions under Section 219(b) of the Code, including “catch-up” contributions for certain individuals age 50 and older (as discussed in section D, above).

The contribution limit for any taxable year is reduced (but not below zero) by the amount which bears the same ratio to such amount as:

- (a) the excess of (i) your adjusted gross income for the taxable year, over (ii) the “applicable dollar amount,” bears to
- (b) $15,000 (or $10,000 if you are married).

For this purpose, “adjusted gross income” is determined under the Code and (1) excludes any amount included in gross income as a result of any rollover from, transfer from, or conversion of an IRA to a Roth IRA, and (2) is reduced by any deductible IRA contribution. In addition, the “applicable dollar amount” is equal to $166,000 for a married individual filing a joint return, $0 for a married individual filing a separate return, and $105,000 for any other individual. These amounts may be indexed for cost of living increases in future years.

A “qualified rollover contribution” (discussed in section K, below), and a non-taxable transfer from another Roth IRA, are not taken into account for purposes of determining the contribution limit.

K. ROLLOVERS, TRANSFERS AND CONVERSIONS TO ROTH IRAs

1. Rollovers and Transfers—A rollover may be made to a Roth IRA only if it is a “qualified rollover contribution.” A “qualified rollover contribution” is a rollover to a Roth IRA from another Roth IRA or from an IRA, but only if such rollover contribution also meets the rollover requirements for IRAs under Section 408(d)(3). In addition, a transfer may be made to a Roth IRA directly from another Roth IRA or from an IRA.

You may not make a qualified rollover contribution or transfer in a taxable year from an IRA to a Roth IRA if (a) your adjusted gross income for the taxable year exceeds $100,000 or (b) you are married and file a separate return.

The rollover requirements of Section 408(d)(3) are complex and should be carefully considered before you make a rollover. One of the requirements is that the amount received be paid into another IRA (or Roth IRA) within 60 days after receipt of the distribution. The failure to satisfy this 60-day requirement may be waived by the Internal Revenue Service in certain circumstances. In addition, a rollover contribution from a Roth IRA may be made by you only once a year. The one-year period begins on the date you receive the Roth IRA distribution, not on the date you roll it over (reinvest it) into another Roth IRA. If you withdraw assets from a Roth IRA, you may roll over part of the withdrawal tax free into another Roth IRA and keep the rest of it. A portion of the amount you keep may be included in your gross income.

2. Taxation of Rollovers and Transfers to Roth IRAs—A qualified rollover contribution or transfer from a Roth IRA maintained for your benefit to another Roth IRA maintained for your benefit which meets the rollover requirements for IRAs under Section 408(d)(3) is tax-free.

In the case of a qualified rollover contribution or a transfer from an IRA maintained for your benefit to a Roth IRA maintained for your benefit, any portion of the amount rolled over or transferred which would be includible in your gross income were it not part of a qualified rollover contribution or a nontaxable transfer will be includible in your gross income. However, Code Section 72(t) (relating to the 10 percent penalty tax on premature distributions) will not apply.

3. Transfers of Excess IRA Contributions to Roth IRAs—If, before the due date of your federal income tax return for any taxable year (not including extensions), you transfer, from an IRA, contributions for such taxable year (and earnings thereon) to a Roth IRA, such amounts will not be includible in gross income to the extent that no deduction was allowed with respect to such amount.

4. Taxation of Conversions of IRAs to Roth IRAs—All or part of amounts in an IRA maintained for your benefit may be converted into a Roth IRA maintained for your benefit. The conversion of an IRA to a Roth IRA is treated as special type of qualified rollover contribution. Hence, you must be eligible to make a qualified rollover contribution in order to convert an IRA to a Roth IRA. A conversion typically will result in the inclusion of some or all of your IRA's value in gross income, as described above.

A conversion of an IRA to a Roth IRA can be made without taking an actual distribution from your IRA. For example, an individual may make a conversion by notifying the IRA issuer or trustee, whichever is applicable.

Under some circumstances, it might not be advisable to rollover, transfer, or convert all or part of an IRA to a Roth IRA. Whether you should do so will depend on your particular facts and circumstances, including, but not limited to, such factors as whether you qualify to make such a rollover, transfer, or conversion, your financial situation, age, current and future income needs, years to retirement, current and future tax rates, your ability and desire to pay current income taxes with respect to amounts rolled over, transferred, or converted, and whether such taxes might need to be paid with withdrawals from your Roth IRA (see discussion below of “Non-Qualified Distributions”). You should consult a qualified tax adviser before rolling over, transferring, or converting all or part of an IRA to a Roth IRA.

5. Separate Roth IRAs—Due to the complexity of, and proposed changes to, the tax law, it may be advantageous to maintain amounts rolled over, transferred, or converted from an IRA in separate Roth IRAs from those containing regular Roth IRA contributions. For the same reason, you should consider maintaining a separate Roth IRA for each amount rolled over, transferred, or converted from an IRA. These considerations should be balanced against the additional costs you may incur from maintaining multiple Roth IRAs. You should consult your tax adviser if you intend to contribute rollover, transfer, or conversion amounts to your Contract, or if you intend to roll over or transfer amounts from your Contract to another Roth IRA maintained for your benefit.

L. INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF ROTH IRAs

1. Qualified Distributions—Any “qualified distribution” from a Roth IRA is excludible from gross income. A “qualified distribution” is a payment or distribution which satisfies two requirements. First, the payment or distribution must be (a) made after you attain 59½, (b) made after your death, (c) attributable to your being disabled, or (d) a “qualified special purpose distribution” (i.e., a qualified first-time homebuyer distribution under the Code). Second, the payment or distribution must be made in a taxable year that is at least five years after (1) the first taxable year for which a contribution was made to any Roth IRA established for you, or (2) in the case of a rollover from, or a conversion of, an IRA to a Roth IRA, the taxable year in which the rollover or conversion was made if the payment or distribution is allocable (as determined in the manner set forth in guidance issued by the IRS) to the rollover contribution or conversion (or to income allocable thereto).

2. Nonqualified Distributions—A distribution from a Roth IRA which is not a qualified distribution is taxed under Code Section 72 (relating to annuities), except that such distribution is treated as made first from contributions to the Roth IRA to the extent that such distribution, when added to all previous distributions from the Roth IRA, does not exceed the aggregate amount of contributions to the Roth IRA. For purposes of determining the amount taxed, (a) all Roth IRAs established for you will be treated as one contract, (b) all distributions during any taxable year from Roth IRAs established for you will be treated as one distribution, and (c) the value of the contract, income on the contract, and investment in the contract, if applicable, will be computed as of the close of the calendar year in which the taxable year begins.

An additional tax of 10% is imposed on nonqualified distributions (including amounts deemed distributed as the result of a prohibited loan or use of your Roth IRA as security for a loan) made before the benefited individual has attained age 59¹/₂, unless one of the exceptions discussed in Section N applies.

M. TAX ON EXCESS CONTRIBUTIONS

1. You must pay a 6% excise tax each year on excess contributions that remain in your Contract. Generally, an excess contribution is the amount contributed to your Contract that is more than you can contribute. The excess is taxed for the year of the excess contribution and for each year after that until you correct it. If contributions to your IRA for a year are more than the contribution limit, you can apply the excess contribution in one year to a later year if the contributions for that later year are less than the maximum allowed for that year.

2. You will not have to pay the 6% excise tax if you withdraw the excess amount by the date your tax return is due including extensions for the year of the contribution. You do not have to include in your gross income an excess contribution that you withdraw from your Contract before your tax return is due if the income earned on the excess was also withdrawn and no deduction was allowed for the excess contribution. You must include in your gross income the income earned on the excess contribution.

N. TAX ON PREMATURE DISTRIBUTIONS

There is an additional tax on premature distributions from your IRA, Roth IRA, or SIMPLE IRA, equal to 10% of the taxable amount. For premature distributions from a SIMPLE IRA made within the first 2 years you participate in a SIMPLE plan, the additional tax is equal to 25% of the amount of the premature distribution that must be included in gross income. Premature distributions are generally amounts you withdraw before you are age 59¹/₂. However, the tax on premature distributions does not apply generally:

1. To amounts that are rolled over or transferred tax free;
2. To a distribution which is made on or after your death, or on account of you being disabled within the meaning of Code Section 72(m)(7);
3. To a distribution which is part of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (made at least annually) over your life or your life expectancy or the joint life or joint life expectancy of you and your Beneficiary;
4. To a distribution which is used for qualified first-time homebuyer expenses, qualified higher education expenses, certain medical expenses, or by an unemployed individual to pay health insurance premiums; or
5. To a distribution made during a specified time period to a reservist who is called or ordered to active duty for a period in excess of 170 days or for an indefinite period.

O. EXCISE TAX REPORTING

Use Form 5329, Additional Taxes Attributable to Qualified Retirement Plans (Including IRAs), Annuities, and Modified Endowment Contracts, to report the excise taxes on excess contributions, premature distributions, and excess accumulations. If you do not owe any IRA, SIMPLE IRA or Roth IRA excise taxes, you do not need Form 5329. Further information can be obtained from any district office of the Internal Revenue Service.

P. BORROWING

If you borrow money against your Contract or use it as security for a loan, the Contract will lose its classification as an IRA, Roth IRA, or SIMPLE IRA, whichever is applicable, and you must include in gross income the fair market value of the Contract as of the first day of your tax year. In addition, you may be subject to the tax on premature distributions described above. (Note: The Contract does not allow borrowings against it, nor may it be assigned or pledged as collateral for a loan.)

Q. REPORTING

We will provide you with any reports required by the Internal Revenue Service.

R. ESTATE TAX

Generally, the value of your IRA, including your Roth IRA, is included in your gross estate for federal estate tax purposes.

S. FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

1. We deduct a daily charge from your Contract Value currently equal to 0.75%, on an annual basis, of Contract Value.
2. During the Accumulation Period, we deduct a monthly contract fee from your Contract Value equal to $30, on an annual basis.
3. The method used to compute and allocate the annual earnings is contained in the Prospectus under the heading "Accumulation Unit Value" for Contract Value.
4. The growth in value of your Contract is neither guaranteed nor projected but is based on the investment experience of the Separate Account.

TAX SHELTERED ANNUITY (TSA) ENDORSEMENT
FOR ANNUITY CONTRACTS (NO LOANS)

The contract or certificate under a group contract (collectively, the "Contract") to which this Endorsement is attached is amended as specified below to satisfy the requirements of section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder. All the provisions of the Contract and this Endorsement shall be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder and, if applicable, the requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). Where the provisions of this Endorsement are inconsistent with the provisions of the Contract, including the provisions of any other endorsements or riders issued with the Contract, the provisions of this Endorsement will control.

I. The Plan, Employer, and Employee

As used in this Endorsement, the term "Plan" refers to the plan under Code section 403(b) that is maintained by the Employer and pursuant to which the Contract is issued or, if applicable, the agreement between the Employer and Commonwealth Annuity and Life Insurance Company (the "Company") to provide each other with information described in section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2)(C) of the Income Tax Regulations. The term "Employer" refers to the employer described in Code section 403(b)(1)(A) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder that maintains the Plan pursuant to which the Contract is issued. The term "Employee" refers to an employee or former employee of the Employer for whose benefit the Employer maintains the Plan and the Contract is issued under the Plan.

Deleted: Protective

II. Owner and Annuitant

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, (1) the Employee must be the Owner and the Annuitant if the Contract is an annuity contract, (2) the Employee must be the Owner and the Insured if the Contract is a life insurance contract, (3) the Annuitant or Insured, whichever is applicable, and the Owner may not be changed, and (4) a joint Owner may not be named.

III. Contributions

A. In General

Contributions shall not exceed the limits of Code section 415. The Company will not accept any contributions in excess of this limit and does not intend to account separately for any such excess contributions or amounts attributable to any such excess contributions.

A contribution may not include amounts attributable to designated Roth contributions under Code section 402A or after-tax employee contributions.

B. Single Premium Contract

If only a single premium is permitted under the Contract, the single premium permitted may not include any amounts other than:

1. an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
2. a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

C. Flexible Premium Contract

If flexible premiums are permitted under the Contract, a premium to the Contract must be made:

1. as a contribution by the Employer on behalf of the Employee, including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement,
2. as an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
3. as a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

Except as otherwise permitted by Code section 414(u), Code section 414(v), or other provisions of the federal tax law, contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement shall not exceed the limits set forth in Code section 402(g). If contributions exceed this limit, the Company may distribute the amount of the excess, together with any income allocable thereto, to the Employee as permitted by applicable federal tax law.

D. Minimum Premiums

If a minimum premium amount is required under the Contract, the Company will reduce this minimum premium amount if necessary to comply with Code section 403(b)(12).

E. Life Insurance Contract

If the Contract is a life insurance contract, a premium may not exceed that permitted under applicable federal tax law to provide death benefits satisfying the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

IV. Nontransferable and Nonforfeitable

The Contract is established for the benefit of the Employee and his or her beneficiaries. The interest of the Employee in the Contract is non-transferable and, except as provided by applicable law, is non-forfeitable. In particular, except as otherwise provided under applicable law, the Contract may not be sold, assigned, discounted, or pledged as collateral for a loan or as security for the performance of an obligation or for any other purpose, to any person other than the Company. Special rules may apply in the case of a transfer under the terms of a qualified domestic relations order, as defined in Code section 414(p) (a "QDRO").

V. Distribution Restrictions

A. In General

Except as otherwise provided under federal tax law, a distribution from the Contract shall be made only in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations, the Plan, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Amounts may be distributed pursuant to a QDRO to the extent permitted by applicable federal tax law.

B. Elective Deferrals

As required by Code section 403(b)(11), Code section 403(b)(7), and the applicable Income Tax Regulations thereunder, a distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Elective Deferrals may not be made from the Contract earlier than the earliest of the date on which the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) has a hardship, (4) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (5) attains age 59½. A hardship distribution is limited to the aggregate dollar amount of the Employee's Elective Deferrals under the Contract (and may not include any income thereon), reduced by the aggregate dollar amount of the distributions previously made to the Employee from the Contract. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Elective Deferrals" means contributions to the Contract made after December 31, 1988, pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, earnings on such contributions, and earnings on any amounts held as of December 31, 1988. Elective Deferrals also include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that are attributable to contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement and are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7) or Code section 403(b)(11).

C. Employer Annuity Contributions

If the Contract is issued on or after January 1, 2009, a distribution of Employer Annuity Contributions may be made from the Contract no earlier than upon the earlier of the Employee's severance from employment or upon the prior occurrence of some event, such as after a fixed number of years, the attainment of a stated age, or disability, as provided under the Plan. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Annuity Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to an annuity contract under Code section 403(b)(1) that are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement. Employer Annuity Contributions do not include after-tax employee contributions or earnings thereon. Employer Annuity Contributions include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement that are subject to the distribution restrictions under section 1.403(b)-6(b) of the Income Tax Regulations.

D. Employer Custodial Account Contributions

A distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Employer Custodial Account Contributions may not be paid from the Contract before the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (4) attains age 59½. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Custodial Account Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that (1) are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, (2) are not Employer Annuity Contributions, and (3) are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7).

E. Separate Accounting

If the Contract includes both Elective Deferrals and other contributions, and the Elective Deferrals are not maintained in a separate account, then in accordance with section 1.403(b)-6(d)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, distributions may not be made earlier than the later of:

1. any date permitted under subsection B of this section V of the Endorsement, and
2. any date permitted under subsections C or D of this section V of the Endorsement (whichever applies to the contributions that are not Elective Deferrals).

Unless required under the Plan, the Company is not obligated to maintain a separate account for Elective Deferrals.

F. Exchanges and Transfers

Amounts exchanged or transferred to the Contract pursuant to section VI of this Endorsement, and income attributable to such amounts, are subject to distribution restrictions that are not less stringent than those imposed under the contract being exchanged or under the transferor plan, whichever is applicable, in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations.

G. Exceptions

1. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section V of the Endorsement, distributions are permitted to be made from the Contract to the extent (a) described in sections III and VI of this Endorsement, (b) required by a QDRO, (c) described in Code section 72(t)(2)(G), (d) permitted by Code section 414(w)(2), or (e) otherwise allowed by applicable federal tax law.
2. If the Employer informs the Company that the Plan has been terminated in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(a) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Company shall follow the instructions of the Employer with regard to how the Contract or the accumulated benefits thereunder are to be distributed, provided that such instructions are in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations.
3. To the extent that the Company separately accounts for contributions to the Contract that are eligible rollover distributions as described in sections 1.403(b)-6(i) and 1.403(b)-10(d) of the Income Tax Regulations, such contributions (and any earnings thereon) are not subject to the distribution restrictions described in this section V of this Endorsement. The Company is not obligated to separately account for any such amounts.

VI. Exchanges and Plan-to-Plan Transfers

Subject to the terms of the Plan, if applicable, exchanges within the Plan and plan-to-plan transfers involving the Contract will be allowed to the extent permitted under federal tax law.

Such exchanges and plan-to-plan transfers can affect whether a Contract that is a life insurance contract satisfies the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

VII. Loans and Hardship Distributions

The Contract does not permit loans.

A distribution in the case of hardship that is permitted under section V of this Endorsement may be made under the Contract. However, except as otherwise provided under section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations with respect to certain Contracts received in an exchange that occurred on or before September 24, 2007, and under section 8 of Revenue Procedure 2007-71 with respect to certain Contracts issued before January 1, 2009, a loan and a distribution in the case of hardship may be made under the Contract only if permitted under the Plan.

VIII. Required Minimum Distributions and Incidental Benefits

A. In general

Notwithstanding any provision in the Contract to the contrary, the distribution of the entire interest in the Contract shall be made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Distributions from and benefits under the Contract also must satisfy the requirements relating to incidental benefits under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(ii) of the Income Tax Regulations. All such requirements are incorporated herein by reference. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, prior to the date the Contract is annuitized, the entire interest of the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract is the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract plus the actuarial present value of any additional benefit (such as survivor benefits in excess of the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary) that will be provided under the Contract, in accordance with Q&A-12 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

To the extent permitted under the Plan and the Code, the minimum distribution required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9) with respect to the Contract may be taken from any one or more of the Employee's Code section 403(b) contracts under the Plan.

To the extent provided in Income Tax Regulations, a Contract that is part of a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) shall, for all years to which Code section 401(a)(9) applies to the Contract, be treated as having complied with Code section 401(a)(9) if the Contract complies with a reasonable good faith interpretation of Code section 401(a)(9).

B. Required Beginning Date

The term "required beginning date" as used in this Endorsement means April 1 of the calendar year following the later of (1) the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, (2) the calendar year in which the Employee retires, or (3) such later date provided by law. However, unless the Employee's interest in the Contract is on account of the Employee's participation in a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) or church plan (as defined in Code section 401(a)(9)(C)), if the Employee is a 5-percent owner (as defined in Code section 416) of the Employer with respect to the plan year ending in the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, the required beginning date is April 1 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½. In addition, if distributions commence to the Employee on a date before the Employee's required beginning date over a period permitted under Code section 401(a)(9)(A)(ii) and the distribution form is an annuity under which distributions are made in accordance with the provisions of Q&A-1 of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, the annuity starting date will be treated as the required beginning date for purposes of applying the rules of sections 1.401(a)(9)-2 and 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

C. Distributions During Employee's Life

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, the entire interest shall be distributed, or commence to be distributed, no later than the required beginning date over (a) the life of the Employee, or the lives of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary (within the meaning of the Code section 401(a)(9)), or (b) a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the Employee or the joint life and last survivor expectancy of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary, as required by law. Payments must be made in periodic payments at intervals of no longer than one year and must be nonincreasing or they may increase only as provided in Q&As-1, -4, and -14 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. Also, to the extent permitted under the Contract, payments may be changed in accordance with Q&A-13 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. In addition, any distribution must satisfy the incidental benefit requirements specified in Q&A-2 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

The amount to be distributed on or before the required beginning date, and by December 31 of each year, will be made in accordance with the requirements of Code section 401(a)(9) and the regulations thereunder.

D. Distributions After Employee's Death

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies on or after required distributions commence, the entire remaining interest, if any, will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of the Employee's death.

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies before required distributions commence, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death, except that:

1. if the interest is payable to an individual who is the Employee's designated beneficiary, the designated beneficiary may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the designated beneficiary or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the designated beneficiary, commencing on or before December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died; or
2. if the sole designated beneficiary is the Employee's surviving spouse (within the meaning of federal law), the surviving spouse may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the surviving spouse or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the surviving spouse, commencing on or before the later of:
 - a. December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died, and
 - b. December 31 of the calendar year in which the Employee would have attained age 70½.

If the surviving spouse dies before distributions begin to him or her, the remaining interest will be distributed, starting by the end of the calendar year following the calendar year of the spouse's death, over the spouse's designated beneficiary's remaining life expectancy determined using such beneficiary's age as of his or her birthday in the year following the death of the spouse, or, if elected, will be distributed by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the spouse's death.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is the surviving spouse must be made no later than the earlier of December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death or the date distributions are required to begin pursuant to this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement. If no election is made, the entire interest will be distributed in accordance with the method of distribution in this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is not the surviving spouse must be made no later than December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died. If no such election is made, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death.

For purposes of this section of the Endorsement regarding distributions after the Employee's death, required distributions are considered to commence on the Employee's required beginning date or, if applicable, on the date distributions are required to begin to the Employee's surviving spouse. However, if distributions start prior to the applicable date in the preceding sentence, on an irrevocable basis (except for acceleration) under an annuity contract meeting the requirements of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, then required distributions are considered to commence on the annuity starting date.

Unless otherwise provided by applicable federal tax law, life expectancy is determined using the Single Life Table in Q&A-1 of section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the Income Tax Regulations. If distributions are being made to the Employee's surviving spouse as the sole designated beneficiary, such spouse's remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to such spouse's age in the year. In all other cases, remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the Employee's death (or in the case of a surviving spouse who is the Employee's sole designated beneficiary and who dies before required distribution commence to him or her, the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the spouse's designated beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the spouse's death) reduced by 1 for each subsequent year. If benefits under the Contract are payable in accordance with an annuity option provided under the Contract, life expectancy shall not be recalculated.

E. Annuity Options

All annuity payments under the Contract must meet the requirements of Code section 403(b)(10), Code section 401(a)(9), section 205 of ERISA, if applicable, and the applicable regulations. The provisions of this Endorsement reflecting these requirements override any annuity payment option inconsistent with such requirements. If guaranteed payments are to be made under the Contract, the period over which any guaranteed payments are to be made must not exceed the period permitted under section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations (except as otherwise permitted by applicable federal tax law).

IX. Direct Rollovers

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, a distributee may elect, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Company, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee in a direct rollover.

An eligible rollover distribution is any distribution of all or any portion of the balance to the credit of the distributee, except that an eligible rollover distribution does not include (i) any distribution that is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (not less frequently than annually) made for the life (or life expectancy) of the distributee or the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of the distributee and the distributee's designated beneficiary, or for a specified period of ten years or more; (ii) any distribution to the extent such distribution is required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9); (iii) any hardship distribution; (iv) the portion of any other distribution(s) that is not includible in gross income (determined without regard to the exclusion for net unrealized appreciation with respect to employer securities); (v) any other distribution(s) that is reasonably expected to total less than $200 during a year; and (vi) any other amounts designated in published federal income tax guidance.

A portion of a distribution shall not fail to be an eligible rollover distribution merely because the portion consists of after-tax employee contributions which are not includible in gross income. However, such portion may be transferred only to an individual retirement account or annuity described in Code section 408(a) or (b), respectively, or to a qualified defined contribution plan described in Code section 401(a) or 403(a) that agrees to separately account for amounts so transferred, including separately accounting for the portion of such distribution which is includible in gross income and the portion of the distribution which is not so includible.

An eligible retirement plan is an eligible plan under Code section 457(b) which is maintained by a state, political subdivision of a state, or any agency or instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state and which agrees to separately account for amounts transferred into such plan from the Contract, an individual retirement account described in Code section 408(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Code section 408(b), an annuity plan described in Code section 403(a), an annuity contract described in Code section 403(b), or a qualified plan described in Code section 401(a), that accepts the distributee's eligible rollover distribution. The definition of eligible retirement plan shall also apply in the case of a distribution to a surviving spouse, or to a spouse or former spouse who is the alternate payee under a QDRO.

A distributee includes the Employee. In addition, the Employee's surviving spouse and the Employee's spouse or former spouse who is the alternative payee under a QDRO, are distributees with regard to the interest of the spouse or former spouse.

A direct rollover is a payment by the Plan to the eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee.

X. Coordination with the Plan

Except to the extent that the Contract is not subject to the written plan requirement under section 1.403(b)-3(b)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Contract is subject to the terms of the Plan, provided that the terms of the Plan do not expand the terms of the Contract and do not impose any responsibilities or duties on the Company greater than those set forth in the Contract. For example, any terms of the Contract permitting distributions in the case of hardship do not apply if the Plan does not permit such hardship distributions. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the Contract and any other terms of the Plan, such other terms of the Plan shall govern if necessary to ensure compliance with Code section 403(b).

Federal law may require the Employer to share information with the Company that is necessary for the Company to administer the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. In such case, the Company shall rely upon such information in administering the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. If the Company does not receive such information from the Employer in the form and manner the Company deems acceptable, the Company will administer the Contract in the manner it deems appropriate. In some cases, this could mean that the Company has no responsibility to make any distribution (including a loan) from the Contract before the Company receives the information it requires from the Employer.

Federal tax law also may require the Company to share information regarding the Contract with the Employer in order to ensure compliance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. The Company will share such information as required by federal tax law and any agreement between the Company and the Employer.

The Employer may identify a delegate to provide or receive the information described in this section X of the Endorsement.

XI. Incidental Life Insurance

Life insurance protection provided under the Contract must be incidental within the meaning of Code section 403(b)(1) and section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, no portion of the value of the Contract may be used to continue life insurance protection beyond the Employee's retirement. On or before the Owner's retirement, the Owner, at his or her election, must:

1. surrender the Contract,
2. apply the Cash Surrender Value to an annuity providing payments that are made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, or
3. continue the Contract by requesting the deletion of this Endorsement and including the Cash Surrender Value in gross income.

If no election is made, an election under option 3 of this section XI of the Endorsement will be deemed to be made.

XII. Miscellaneous Provisions

A. Effective Date

If the Contract was issued on or after January 1, 2009, the effective date of this Endorsement is the effective date of the Contract. If the Contract was issued prior to January 1, 2009, the Endorsement is effective January 1, 2009, and replaces the provisions of any other endorsement or rider to the Contract that are designed to modify the Contract in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b).

B. Unisex Rates

The method of calculating contributions and benefits under the Contract are to be based on unisex rates, and any references to sex or gender (with regard to rates and benefits) in the Contract are deleted.

C. Automatic Rollovers

If the Plan provides for a mandatory distribution described in Code section 401(a)(31)(B)(ii), and such a mandatory distribution greater than $1,000 is made on or after March 28, 2005, if the Employee does not properly elect to have such distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the Employee in a direct rollover or to receive the distribution directly, then the Plan administrator will pay the distribution in a direct rollover to an individual retirement plan designated by the Plan Administrator. For purposes of determining whether a mandatory distribution is greater than $1000, the portion of the participant's distribution attributable to any rollover contribution is included.

In addition, eligible rollover distributions from a designated Roth account are taken into account in determining whether the total amount of the account balances exceeds $1,000 for purposes of the mandatory distributions from the Contract.

D. Treatment as an Annuity Contract under Code Section 403(c)

If the Contract is not treated for federal tax purposes as an annuity contract under Code section 403(b), the Contract will be treated as an annuity contract described in Code section 403(c), the Contract and all endorsements and riders attached to the Contract will be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(c), the provisions of this Endorsement other than sections XII.A and this section XII.D. shall not apply, and the entire interest in the Contract will be distributed in accordance with the requirements of Code section 72(s).

E. Death Benefits under Qualified Active Military Service

To the extent required under Code sections 403(b)(14) and 401(a)(37), in the case of an Employee who dies while performing qualified military services (as defined in Code section 414(u)), the survivors of the Employee are entitled to any additional benefits (other than benefit accruals relating to the period of qualified military service) provided under the plan had the participant resumed and then terminated employment on account of death.

F. ERISA

If this Contract is being maintained pursuant to a Plan that is subject to the requirements of Title I of ERISA, the Employer is solely responsible for assuring that the Plan complies at all times with such requirements, including assuring that all distributions, consents, and elections under the Contract comply with the requirements of section 205 of ERISA. The Company shall be under no duty to determine whether a plan constitutes an employee benefit plan that is subject to Title I of ERISA and shall be fully entitled to rely on the Employer's or Plan Administrator's representation of the Plan's ERISA status.

G. Amendment of this Endorsement

The Company reserves the right, and the Owner agrees the Company shall have such right, to make any amendments to this Endorsement from time to time as may be necessary to assure continued qualification of this Contract with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, ERISA. We will obtain all necessary approvals including, where required, that of the Owner, and will send you a copy of the Endorsement that modifies your Contract. We will not be responsible for any adverse tax consequences resulting from the rejection of such amendment.

H. Section References

References to a section of the Code or Income Tax Regulations include any amended or successor section.

TAX SHELTERED ANNUITY (TSA) ENDORSEMENT
FOR ANNUITY CONTRACTS (NO LOANS)

The contract or certificate under a group contract (collectively, the "Contract") to which this Endorsement is attached is amended as specified below to satisfy the requirements of section 403(b) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code"), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder. All the provisions of the Contract and this Endorsement shall be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder and, if applicable, the requirements of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). Where the provisions of this Endorsement are inconsistent with the provisions of the Contract, including the provisions of any other endorsements or riders issued with the Contract, the provisions of this Endorsement will control.

I. The Plan, Employer, and Employee

As used in this Endorsement, the term "Plan" refers to the plan under Code section 403(b) that is maintained by the Employer and pursuant to which the Contract is issued or, if applicable, the agreement between the Employer and Protective Life Insurance Company (the "Company") to provide each other with information described in section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2)(C) of the Income Tax Regulations. The term "Employer" refers to the employer described in Code section 403(b)(1)(A) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder that maintains the Plan pursuant to which the Contract is issued. The term "Employee" refers to an employee or former employee of the Employer for whose benefit the Employer maintains the Plan and the Contract is issued under the Plan.

II. Owner and Annuitant

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, (1) the Employee must be the Owner and the Annuitant if the Contract is an annuity contract, (2) the Employee must be the Owner and the Insured if the Contract is a life insurance contract, (3) the Annuitant or Insured, whichever is applicable, and the Owner may not be changed, and (4) a joint Owner may not be named.

III. Contributions

A. In General

Contributions shall not exceed the limits of Code section 415. The Company will not accept any contributions in excess of this limit and does not intend to account separately for any such excess contributions or amounts attributable to any such excess contributions.

A contribution may not include amounts attributable to designated Roth contributions under Code section 402A or after-tax employee contributions.

B. Single Premium Contract

If only a single premium is permitted under the Contract, the single premium permitted may not include any amounts other than:

1. an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
2. a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

C. Flexible Premium Contract

If flexible premiums are permitted under the Contract, a premium to the Contract must be made:

1. as a contribution by the Employer on behalf of the Employee, including contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement,
2. as an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, or
3. as a rollover permitted under Code sections 402(c), 402(e)(6), 403(a)(4), 403(b)(8), 403(b)(10), 408(d)(3), and 457(e)(16).

Except as otherwise permitted by Code section 414(u), Code section 414(v), or other provisions of the federal tax law, contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement shall not exceed the limits set forth in Code section 402(g). If contributions exceed this limit, the Company may distribute the amount of the excess, together with any income allocable thereto, to the Employee as permitted by applicable federal tax law.

D. Minimum Premiums

If a minimum premium amount is required under the Contract, the Company will reduce this minimum premium amount if necessary to comply with Code section 403(b)(12).

E. Life Insurance Contract

If the Contract is a life insurance contract, a premium may not exceed that permitted under applicable federal tax law to provide death benefits satisfying the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

IV. Nontransferable and Nonforfeitable

The Contract is established for the benefit of the Employee and his or her beneficiaries. The interest of the Employee in the Contract is non-transferable and, except as provided by applicable law, is non-forfeitable. In particular, except as otherwise provided under applicable law, the Contract may not be sold, assigned, discounted, or pledged as collateral for a loan or as security for the performance of an obligation or for any other purpose, to any person other than the Company. Special rules may apply in the case of a transfer under the terms of a qualified domestic relations order, as defined in Code section 414(p) (a "QDRO").

V. Distribution Restrictions

A. In General

Except as otherwise provided under federal tax law, a distribution from the Contract shall be made only in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations, the Plan, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Amounts may be distributed pursuant to a QDRO to the extent permitted by applicable federal tax law.

B. Elective Deferrals

As required by Code section 403(b)(11), Code section 403(b)(7), and the applicable Income Tax Regulations thereunder, a distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Elective Deferrals may not be made from the Contract earlier than the earliest of the date on which the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) has a hardship, (4) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (5) attains age 59½. A hardship distribution is limited to the aggregate dollar amount of the Employee's Elective Deferrals under the Contract (and may not include any income thereon), reduced by the aggregate dollar amount of the distributions previously made to the Employee from the Contract. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Elective Deferrals" means contributions to the Contract made after December 31, 1988, pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, earnings on such contributions, and earnings on any amounts held as of December 31, 1988. Elective Deferrals also include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that are attributable to contributions made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement and are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7) or Code section 403(b)(11).

C. Employer Annuity Contributions

If the Contract is issued on or after January 1, 2009, a distribution of Employer Annuity Contributions may be made from the Contract no earlier than upon the earlier of the Employee's severance from employment or upon the prior occurrence of some event, such as after a fixed number of years, the attainment of a stated age, or disability, as provided under the Plan. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Annuity Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to an annuity contract under Code section 403(b)(1) that are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement. Employer Annuity Contributions do not include after-tax employee contributions or earnings thereon. Employer Annuity Contributions include amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement that are subject to the distribution restrictions under section 1.403(b)-6(b) of the Income Tax Regulations.

D. Employer Custodial Account Contributions

A distribution permitted under the Plan, if applicable, of Employer Custodial Account Contributions may not be paid from the Contract before the Employee (1) has a severance from employment, (2) dies, (3) becomes disabled (within the meaning of Code section 72(m)(7)), or (4) attains age 59½. As used in this Endorsement, the term "Employer Custodial Account Contributions" means amounts attributable to contributions made to the Contract in a non-taxable transfer, or in an exchange or plan-to-plan transfer described in section VI of this Endorsement, that (1) are not made pursuant to a salary reduction agreement, (2) are not Employer Annuity Contributions, and (3) are subject to the distribution restrictions under Code section 403(b)(7).

E. Separate Accounting

If the Contract includes both Elective Deferrals and other contributions, and the Elective Deferrals are not maintained in a separate account, then in accordance with section 1.403(b)-6(d)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, distributions may not be made earlier than the later of:

1. any date permitted under subsection B of this section V of the Endorsement, and
2. any date permitted under subsections C or D of this section V of the Endorsement (whichever applies to the contributions that are not Elective Deferrals).

Unless required under the Plan, the Company is not obligated to maintain a separate account for Elective Deferrals.

F. Exchanges and Transfers

Amounts exchanged or transferred to the Contract pursuant to section VI of this Endorsement, and income attributable to such amounts, are subject to distribution restrictions that are not less stringent than those imposed under the contract being exchanged or under the transferor plan, whichever is applicable, in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations.

G. Exceptions

1. Notwithstanding any other provision in this section V of the Endorsement, distributions are permitted to be made from the Contract to the extent (a) described in sections III and VI of this Endorsement, (b) required by a QDRO, (c) described in Code section 72(t)(2)(G), (d) permitted by Code section 414(w)(2), or (e) otherwise allowed by applicable federal tax law.
2. If the Employer informs the Company that the Plan has been terminated in accordance with section 1.403(b)-10(a) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Company shall follow the instructions of the Employer with regard to how the Contract or the accumulated benefits thereunder are to be distributed, provided that such instructions are in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations.
3. To the extent that the Company separately accounts for contributions to the Contract that are eligible rollover distributions as described in sections 1.403(b)-6(i) and 1.403(b)-10(d) of the Income Tax Regulations, such contributions (and any earnings thereon) are not subject to the distribution restrictions described in this section V of this Endorsement. The Company is not obligated to separately account for any such amounts.

VI. Exchanges and Plan-to-Plan Transfers

Subject to the terms of the Plan, if applicable, exchanges within the Plan and plan-to-plan transfers involving the Contract will be allowed to the extent permitted under federal tax law.

Such exchanges and plan-to-plan transfers can affect whether a Contract that is a life insurance contract satisfies the incidental benefit requirement under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations, to the extent applicable under Code section 403(b) and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder.

VII. Loans and Hardship Distributions

The Contract does not permit loans.

A distribution in the case of hardship that is permitted under section V of this Endorsement may be made under the Contract. However, except as otherwise provided under section 1.403(b)-10(b)(2) of the Income Tax Regulations with respect to certain Contracts received in an exchange that occurred on or before September 24, 2007, and under section 8 of Revenue Procedure 2007-71 with respect to certain Contracts issued before January 1, 2009, a loan and a distribution in the case of hardship may be made under the Contract only if permitted under the Plan.

VIII. Required Minimum Distributions and Incidental Benefits

A. In general

Notwithstanding any provision in the Contract to the contrary, the distribution of the entire interest in the Contract shall be made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, section 205 of ERISA. Distributions from and benefits under the Contract also must satisfy the requirements relating to incidental benefits under section 1.401-1(b)(1)(ii) of the Income Tax Regulations. All such requirements are incorporated herein by reference. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, prior to the date the Contract is annuitized, the entire interest of the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract is the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary under the Contract plus the actuarial present value of any additional benefit (such as survivor benefits in excess of the dollar amount credited to the Employee or beneficiary) that will be provided under the Contract, in accordance with Q&A-12 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

To the extent permitted under the Plan and the Code, the minimum distribution required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9) with respect to the Contract may be taken from any one or more of the Employee's Code section 403(b) contracts under the Plan.

To the extent provided in Income Tax Regulations, a Contract that is part of a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) shall, for all years to which Code section 401(a)(9) applies to the Contract, be treated as having complied with Code section 401(a)(9) if the Contract complies with a reasonable good faith interpretation of Code section 401(a)(9).

B. Required Beginning Date

The term "required beginning date" as used in this Endorsement means April 1 of the calendar year following the later of (1) the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, (2) the calendar year in which the Employee retires, or (3) such later date provided by law. However, unless the Employee's interest in the Contract is on account of the Employee's participation in a governmental plan (as defined in Code section 414(d)) or church plan (as defined in Code section 401(a)(9)(C)), if the Employee is a 5-percent owner (as defined in Code section 416) of the Employer with respect to the plan year ending in the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½, the required beginning date is April 1 of the calendar year following the calendar year in which the Employee attains age 70½. In addition, if distributions commence to the Employee on a date before the Employee's required beginning date over a period permitted under Code section 401(a)(9)(A)(ii) and the distribution form is an annuity under which distributions are made in accordance with the provisions of Q&A-1 of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, the annuity starting date will be treated as the required beginning date for purposes of applying the rules of sections 1.401(a)(9)-2 and 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

C. Distributions During Employee's Life

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, the entire interest shall be distributed, or commence to be distributed, no later than the required beginning date over (a) the life of the Employee, or the lives of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary (within the meaning of the Code section 401(a)(9)), or (b) a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the Employee or the joint life and last survivor expectancy of the Employee and his or her designated beneficiary, as required by law. Payments must be made in periodic payments at intervals of no longer than one year and must be nonincreasing or they may increase only as provided in Q&As-1, -4, and -14 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. Also, to the extent permitted under the Contract, payments may be changed in accordance with Q&A-13 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations. In addition, any distribution must satisfy the incidental benefit requirements specified in Q&A-2 of section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations.

The amount to be distributed on or before the required beginning date, and by December 31 of each year, will be made in accordance with the requirements of Code section 401(a)(9) and the regulations thereunder.

D. Distributions After Employee's Death

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies on or after required distributions commence, the entire remaining interest, if any, will be distributed at least as rapidly as under the method of distribution being used as of the date of the Employee's death.

Unless otherwise permitted under applicable federal tax law, if the Employee dies before required distributions commence, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death, except that:

1. if the interest is payable to an individual who is the Employee's designated beneficiary, the designated beneficiary may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the designated beneficiary or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the designated beneficiary, commencing on or before December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died; or
2. if the sole designated beneficiary is the Employee's surviving spouse (within the meaning of federal law), the surviving spouse may elect to receive the entire interest over the life of the surviving spouse or over a period not extending beyond the life expectancy of the surviving spouse, commencing on or before the later of:
 - a. December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died, and
 - b. December 31 of the calendar year in which the Employee would have attained age 70½.

If the surviving spouse dies before distributions begin to him or her, the remaining interest will be distributed, starting by the end of the calendar year following the calendar year of the spouse's death, over the spouse's designated beneficiary's remaining life expectancy determined using such beneficiary's age as of his or her birthday in the year following the death of the spouse, or, if elected, will be distributed by the end of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the spouse's death.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is the surviving spouse must be made no later than the earlier of December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death or the date distributions are required to begin pursuant to this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement. If no election is made, the entire interest will be distributed in accordance with the method of distribution in this section VIII.D.2 of the Endorsement.

An irrevocable election of the method of distribution by a designated beneficiary who is not the surviving spouse must be made no later than December 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year in which the Employee died. If no such election is made, the entire interest will be distributed by December 31 of the calendar year containing the fifth anniversary of the Employee's death.

For purposes of this section of the Endorsement regarding distributions after the Employee's death, required distributions are considered to commence on the Employee's required beginning date or, if applicable, on the date distributions are required to begin to the Employee's surviving spouse. However, if distributions start prior to the applicable date in the preceding sentence, on an irrevocable basis (except for acceleration) under an annuity contract meeting the requirements of 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations, then required distributions are considered to commence on the annuity starting date.

Unless otherwise provided by applicable federal tax law, life expectancy is determined using the Single Life Table in Q&A-1 of section 1.401(a)(9)-9 of the Income Tax Regulations. If distributions are being made to the Employee's surviving spouse as the sole designated beneficiary, such spouse's remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to such spouse's age in the year. In all other cases, remaining life expectancy for a year is the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the Employee's death (or in the case of a surviving spouse who is the Employee's sole designated beneficiary and who dies before required distribution commence to him or her, the number in the Single Life Table corresponding to the spouse's designated beneficiary's age in the year following the calendar year of the spouse's death) reduced by 1 for each subsequent year. If benefits under the Contract are payable in accordance with an annuity option provided under the Contract, life expectancy shall not be recalculated.

E. Annuity Options

All annuity payments under the Contract must meet the requirements of Code section 403(b)(10), Code section 401(a)(9), section 205 of ERISA, if applicable, and the applicable regulations. The provisions of this Endorsement reflecting these requirements override any annuity payment option inconsistent with such requirements. If guaranteed payments are to be made under the Contract, the period over which any guaranteed payments are to be made must not exceed the period permitted under section 1.401(a)(9)-6 of the Income Tax Regulations (except as otherwise permitted by applicable federal tax law).

IX. Direct Rollovers

Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, a distributee may elect, at the time and in the manner prescribed by the Company, to have any portion of an eligible rollover distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee in a direct rollover.

An eligible rollover distribution is any distribution of all or any portion of the balance to the credit of the distributee, except that an eligible rollover distribution does not include (i) any distribution that is one of a series of substantially equal periodic payments (not less frequently than annually) made for the life (or life expectancy) of the distributee or the joint lives (or joint life expectancies) of the distributee and the distributee's designated beneficiary, or for a specified period of ten years or more; (ii) any distribution to the extent such distribution is required under Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9); (iii) any hardship distribution; (iv) the portion of any other distribution(s) that is not includible in gross income (determined without regard to the exclusion for net unrealized appreciation with respect to employer securities); (v) any other distribution(s) that is reasonably expected to total less than $200 during a year; and (vi) any other amounts designated in published federal income tax guidance.

A portion of a distribution shall not fail to be an eligible rollover distribution merely because the portion consists of after-tax employee contributions which are not includible in gross income. However, such portion may be transferred only to an individual retirement account or annuity described in Code section 408(a) or (b), respectively, or to a qualified defined contribution plan described in Code section 401(a) or 403(a) that agrees to separately account for amounts so transferred, including separately accounting for the portion of such distribution which is includible in gross income and the portion of the distribution which is not so includible.

An eligible retirement plan is an eligible plan under Code section 457(b) which is maintained by a state, political subdivision of a state, or any agency or instrumentality of a state or political subdivision of a state and which agrees to separately account for amounts transferred into such plan from the Contract, an individual retirement account described in Code section 408(a), an individual retirement annuity described in Code section 408(b), an annuity plan described in Code section 403(a), an annuity contract described in Code section 403(b), or a qualified plan described in Code section 401(a), that accepts the distributee's eligible rollover distribution. The definition of eligible retirement plan shall also apply in the case of a distribution to a surviving spouse, or to a spouse or former spouse who is the alternate payee under a QDRO.

A distributee includes the Employee. In addition, the Employee's surviving spouse and the Employee's spouse or former spouse who is the alternative payee under a QDRO, are distributees with regard to the interest of the spouse or former spouse.

A direct rollover is a payment by the Plan to the eligible retirement plan specified by the distributee.

X. Coordination with the Plan

Except to the extent that the Contract is not subject to the written plan requirement under section 1.403(b)-3(b)(3) of the Income Tax Regulations, the Contract is subject to the terms of the Plan, provided that the terms of the Plan do not expand the terms of the Contract and do not impose any responsibilities or duties on the Company greater than those set forth in the Contract. For example, any terms of the Contract permitting distributions in the case of hardship do not apply if the Plan does not permit such hardship distributions. In the event of a conflict between the terms of the Contract and any other terms of the Plan, such other terms of the Plan shall govern if necessary to ensure compliance with Code section 403(b).

Federal law may require the Employer to share information with the Company that is necessary for the Company to administer the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. In such case, the Company shall rely upon such information in administering the Contract in accordance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. If the Company does not receive such information from the Employer in the form and manner the Company deems acceptable, the Company will administer the Contract in the manner it deems appropriate. In some cases, this could mean that the Company has no responsibility to make any distribution (including a loan) from the Contract before the Company receives the information it requires from the Employer.

Federal tax law also may require the Company to share information regarding the Contract with the Employer in order to ensure compliance with the terms of the Plan and the Code. The Company will share such information as required by federal tax law and any agreement between the Company and the Employer.

The Employer may identify a delegate to provide or receive the information described in this section X of the Endorsement.

XI. Incidental Life Insurance

Life insurance protection provided under the Contract must be incidental within the meaning of Code section 403(b)(1) and section 1.401-1(b)(1)(i) of the Income Tax Regulations. Except as otherwise provided under applicable federal tax law, no portion of the value of the Contract may be used to continue life insurance protection beyond the Employee's retirement. On or before the Owner's retirement, the Owner, at his or her election, must:

1. surrender the Contract,
2. apply the Cash Surrender Value to an annuity providing payments that are made in accordance with the requirements of Code sections 403(b)(10) and 401(a)(9), and the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, or
3. continue the Contract by requesting the deletion of this Endorsement and including the Cash Surrender Value in gross income.

If no election is made, an election under option 3 of this section XI of the Endorsement will be deemed to be made.

XII. Miscellaneous Provisions

A. Effective Date

If the Contract was issued on or after January 1, 2009, the effective date of this Endorsement is the effective date of the Contract. If the Contract was issued prior to January 1, 2009, the Endorsement is effective January 1, 2009, and replaces the provisions of any other endorsement or rider to the Contract that are designed to modify the Contract in accordance with the requirements of Code section 403(b).

B. Unisex Rates

The method of calculating contributions and benefits under the Contract are to be based on unisex rates, and any references to sex or gender (with regard to rates and benefits) in the Contract are deleted.

C. Automatic Rollovers

If the Plan provides for a mandatory distribution described in Code section 401(a)(31)(B)(ii), and such a mandatory distribution greater than $1,000 is made on or after March 28, 2005, if the Employee does not properly elect to have such distribution paid directly to an eligible retirement plan specified by the Employee in a direct rollover or to receive the distribution directly, then the Plan administrator will pay the distribution in a direct rollover to an individual retirement plan designated by the Plan Administrator. For purposes of determining whether a mandatory distribution is greater than $1000, the portion of the participant's distribution attributable to any rollover contribution is included.

In addition, eligible rollover distributions from a designated Roth account are taken into account in determining whether the total amount of the account balances exceeds $1,000 for purposes of the mandatory distributions from the Contract.

D. Treatment as an Annuity Contract under Code Section 403(c)

If the Contract is not treated for federal tax purposes as an annuity contract under Code section 403(b), the Contract will be treated as an annuity contract described in Code section 403(c), the Contract and all endorsements and riders attached to the Contract will be interpreted in accordance with Code section 403(c), the provisions of this Endorsement other than sections XII.A and this section XII.D. shall not apply, and the entire interest in the Contract will be distributed in accordance with the requirements of Code section 72(s).

E. Death Benefits under Qualified Active Military Service

To the extent required under Code sections 403(b)(14) and 401(a)(37), in the case of an Employee who dies while performing qualified military services (as defined in Code section 414(u)), the survivors of the Employee are entitled to any additional benefits (other than benefit accruals relating to the period of qualified military service) provided under the plan had the participant resumed and then terminated employment on account of death.

F. ERISA

If this Contract is being maintained pursuant to a Plan that is subject to the requirements of Title I of ERISA, the Employer is solely responsible for assuring that the Plan complies at all times with such requirements, including assuring that all distributions, consents, and elections under the Contract comply with the requirements of section 205 of ERISA. The Company shall be under no duty to determine whether a plan constitutes an employee benefit plan that is subject to Title I of ERISA and shall be fully entitled to rely on the Employer's or Plan Administrator's representation of the Plan's ERISA status.

G. Amendment of this Endorsement

The Company reserves the right, and the Owner agrees the Company shall have such right, to make any amendments to this Endorsement from time to time as may be necessary to assure continued qualification of this Contract with the requirements of Code section 403(b), the Income Tax Regulations thereunder, and, if applicable, ERISA. We will obtain all necessary approvals including, where required, that of the Owner, and will send you a copy of the Endorsement that modifies your Contract. We will not be responsible for any adverse tax consequences resulting from the rejection of such amendment.

H. Section References

References to a section of the Code or Income Tax Regulations include any amended or successor section.

ACTUARIAL MEMORANDUM

Commonwealth Annuity & Life Insurance Company
Individual Variable Deferred Annuity Contract
Form No. 3040-09

A. Description

This Contract is a Flexible Premium Variable Deferred Annuity that provides annuity benefits, death benefits, and withdrawal values. It is available for issue at ages 0 to 91. The contract will be sold in both qualified and nonqualified markets. The Maximum Annuity Date is the Valuation Date on or next following the later of: (1) ten years from the Date of Issue; or (2) the first day of the month following the month in which the older Annuitant attains age 99.

B. Contract Value

The Contract Value is equal to the sum of the values in each Subaccount. The Subaccount value is equal to the applicable Accumulation Unit value for the Subaccount multiplied by the number of units allocated to the Subaccount.

C. Withdrawal Value

The Withdrawal Value is equal to the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes.

D. Death Benefit

If an Owner's death occurs prior to the Annuity Date, the death benefit equals the Contract Value, less any applicable premium taxes on the date we receive due proof of death.

E. Annuity Benefits

The Contract may be annuitized on a fixed basis any time after the first Contract Anniversary on or next following the later of: (1) ten years from the Date of Issue; or (2) the first day of the month following the month in which the older Annuitant attains age 99. Partial annuitizations are not allowed under the Contract. The guaranteed annuity option rates are based on 1.5% interest. Life contingent options are based on the Annuity 2000 Mortality Table projected at 200% of Projection Scale G to the year 2030.

F. Nonforfeiture Compliance

The withdrawal values, death benefits, and annuitization values will always exceed the minimum nonforfeiture amount, as defined in the Model Variable Annuity Regulation, because there are no premium loads or surrender charges and the annual contract fee is less than the allowance in the model.

G. Reserves

Statutory reserves will be calculated according to the Commissioners Annuity Reserve Valuation Method (CARVM) as clarified by Actuarial Guideline 33. The valuation mortality basis used will be the Annuity 2000 Mortality Table.

The valuation interest rate used is Type A, annuities with cash settlement options, Issue Year Basis, guarantee duration of 5 years or less, with no interest guarantees on considerations received more than one year after issue. An annuity issued during 2009 is projected to use a valuation interest rate of 6.0%.
