It is important to note that there is market risk involved when investing in mutual funds, including possible loss of principal.

The stocks of small companies are more volatile than the stocks of larger, more established companies.

Investing in foreign securities involves risks not normally associated with investing in the U.S. including higher trading and custody costs, less stringent accounting, legal and reporting practices, potential for political and economic instability, and the fluctuation and potential regulation of currency exchange and exchange rates.

It is important to note all bonds are subject to interest rate risk, including those issued by the U.S. Government. There is a risk that the bonds a fund holds may decline in value due to an increase in interest rates.
